"Section 21 Upon the petition of five or more citizens who are lawful voters of any election district setting forth that the appointment of overseers is a reasonable precaution to secure the purity and fairness of the primary in said district it shall be the duty of the court of common pleas of the proper county in its discretion to appoint two overseers of election in said district who shall be entitled to remain within the polling place during the casting and counting of the ballots."

Mr. McNICHOLS. Mr. President. I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. MILLS. Mr. President, this amendment provides where five electors in an election district petition the court for the good interest of a particular election district, the court may in its discretion appoint two overseers to attend the election to see that matters are carried out in a legal way. As the law now stands the court must upon the petition of five electors appoint two seers. This, while not actually as the law now stands, makes this discretionary as to this point.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

The twenty-first section of the bill was read as follows:

Section 21 Each candidate shall be entitled to appoint two watchers at the primary in each election district in which such candidate is to be voted for who shall be qualified electors of the division or precinct and who shall serve without compensation Each watcher shall be provided with a certificate from the county commissioners stating his name the district in which he is authorized to act and the name of the candidate appointing him and shall have the right to remain in the room outside of the enclosed space Watchers shall be required to show their certificates when required to do so

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I move to amend Section 22, in line 22, by striking out the numerals "22" and inserting in lieu thereof the numerals "23."

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section as amended?

Mr. MILLS. Mr. President, I move to amend Section 22. line 1, by inserting after the words and numerals "Section 22" the words: "If said watchers or overseers shall be driven away from the polls by violence or intimidation all the votes polled in said election district may be rejected by the proper tribunal making a recount of the votes cast therein or a part or portion of such votes aforesaid may be counted as such tribunal may deem necessary to a just and proper disposition of the case and."

Mr. JARRETT. Mr. President, I second the motion?

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. MILLS. Mr. President, the purpose of this amendment is to act as a deterrent on persons engaged in and about the election polls from driving away watchers and overseers. The amendment simply provides that if they are driven away the court may in its discretion reject the return of this particular precinct or such part of it as the court finds are wrongfully cast. It is a fair proposition and gives the court the discretion that when they are driven away from their duties the court has some supervision of the ballot box and the election returns.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN. Mr. President, if this amendment would prevail it would result in the disfranchisement of practically an election district. If a couple of persons were to set themselves up to try to win an election by causing some fracas at the polls whereby the watchers could walk away or be driven away and thereby hope to win an election that otherwise they would not have a chance to win. Some persosn might enter into a combination to drive away the watchers for the purpose of thus disfranchising a whole election district.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

It was not agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the section as amended?

Mr. MILLS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. JARRETT. Mr. President, this amendment is offered so as to make it mandatory on the court for a violation of the election laws to imprison persons violating such laws. The way the law stands now it is left discretionary with the court. The court can fine him one dollar and costs or one dollar and one day in jail, and this is not less than five hundred dollars or one year in jail, either or both, at the discretion of the court, and I say when a jury of twelve men have settled that a man is guilty there should be some definite time for which the person convicted should be imprisoned, and I say it is not right to leave it to the discretion of the court to fine him one dollar and one day in jail.

Mr. SALUS. I am somewhat surprised to hear a man who practices law to get up and make an argument such as this for any offense, either a violation of election laws or any other law. There can be no fixed rule by which men are to be punished for any particular offense. There are various grades of stealing. There are various grades of homicide; there are various grades and conditions of burglary, and of every other offense known as a violation of the Act of 1860 or any other criminal act that might be done by any man. I for one feel that a man who violates an election law and does it willfully and knowingly should be punished. I for one would have no objection as to how severe the punishment or the extent of the punishment should be. I understand that in this bill is three years as a maximum. To my mind if it were made ten years as a maximum I would not oppose that condition, but for us to sit here and try to conceive under what conditions a man may violate an election law and say that a judge of a particular court must be compelled that man to jail would be very unfair. It would be contrary to all our other Acts of Assembly except possibly one or two. In every Act of Assembly the punishment for nearly every crime is fixed as a rule at a fine or imprisonment, either or both, at the discretion of the court. Who is better able to tell in each particular case what sentence a man should receive who has violated any law than the judge who sits there, the man learned in the law, the man who has the facts and must sentence according to the circumstances of the case? Why it would be most unfair for the members of this Senate to fix a definite punishment for all offenses, fix a minimum of one year in jail for a man who might be technically guilty of a charge. A man may have, and I know a number of those instances, committed a violation of the law without even knowing or even realizing that he had done a wrong.

I have seen a case where a man lived in a certain election division. He left his wife, they had a falling out, and he went across the street in another division and on one of the registration days he registered in the division where he had moved to and away from his wife. Before the next registration day came around he and his wife had made up their differences and he went back to his old home, and went then on the next registration day and registered from his home, the home of his wife. Now on election day he did not vote in either precinct, he cast no vote on the following election, yet he was arrested for having registered twice in two different divisions and having made some untrue statements as to the length of time which he had lived in each of the divisions. When he first registered he had lived in that division a number of days, and when he had registered a second time he went to the registration board and said he lived in the house from which he was then registrating a number of years, which really was the truth with the exception of a few days he had been away from his family. Would it not be a hardship in a case like that for us to pass a law and say the judge of the court would be compelled to sentence a man like that to jail for a year. My experience has been that the judges of our courts have been fair in all their sentences, they have been more stringent and more particular in questions of violations of election laws than in the sentence of defendants for the commission of almost any other crime. And why should we here as Senators pass a law that would tie their hands? If we have any confidence in our judges surely the members of the Senate do not want to place them in a position where they would have to sentence a man to jail if they felt in their own hearts and thought as a matter of law and justice those men should not be sent to jail.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN. Mr. President, in my opinion the best answer to this proposed amendment is that it would only embarrass the judges, because I think the Senator from Mercer is in all probability familiar with the decision of the Superior Court, I think a case reported in 9 Superior Court Reports, where notwithstanding the word "and" is used in the criminal statute the Superior Court said the court had the discretion to suspend sentence notwithstanding the word "and" and that they could impose a fine and suspend sentence as to imprisonment.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. JARRETT and Mr. MILLS, and were as follows, viz:

An Act providing for the erection of a dam at the outlet of Pymatuning Swamp and the establishment of a reservoir to conserve the waters thereof providing for the taking of land and materials necessary thereto vesting certain powers and duties in the Water Supply Commission and making an appropriation

Whereas, By an act approved the fourteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred eleven, entitled "An Act providing for a survey of Pymatuning Swamp and an examination into the feasibility of constructing a reservoir therein to conserve the waters draining into said swamp, and making an appropriation therefor," the Water Supply Commission was directed to survey Pymatuning Swamp in Crawford County and the lands contiguous or adjacent thereto and to examine into the feasibility of constructing a dam or dams across the outlet or outlets of said swamp whereby the waters entering the same might be conserved and the flow of water regulated in the Shenango and Beaver Rivers; and

Whereas, In pursuance of said act the Water Supply Commission caused said survey to be made and has presented its reports thereon; and

Whereas, In said report the Water Supply Commission states that the project is a feasible one that a portion of said Pymatuning Swamp can be converted into a storage reservoir by constructing a dam across the valley of the Shenango River, that the low water flow in the Shenango River would thereby be increased about two hundred seventy-five gallons per diem that the reservoir would eliminate any considerable contribution to floods from the territory above the dam that the proposed reservoir would improve the sanitary conditions of the Shenango and Beaver Rivers and of the Swamp that approximately two thousand primary horse power would be added to existing water power in the Beaver River, that the construction of the dam and reservoir would cause a benefit along the Shenango and Beaver Valleys more than commensurate with the cost of the project that the industrial development would be increased and that the communities in the vicinity of the reservoir would be benefited through improved highways the creation of an attractive lake, increased water transportation and better sanitary conditions; therefore

Section 2 In carrying out said plans the Commission may acquire in the name of this Commonwealth by purchase condemnation or otherwise such lands and materials as may be needed in carrying out the provisions of this act

Section 3 In acquiring any of said lands or materials if the Commission cannot agree with the owners thereof or if the owner cannot be found or is not sui juris the Commission may file its petition in the court of common pleas of the county weherin the lands or materials are situated praying for the appointment of viewers to ascertain the fair value of such land or material Thereupon the court shall appoint from among the members of the board of viewers of the county three viewers who by a personal inspection and otherwise of the lands or materials proposed to be acquired shall ascertain and fix the fair value thereof The court shall fix a time not less than ten days nor more than twenty days thereafter for the viewers to meet either upon said lands or otherwise Notice of the time and place of meeting of such viewers shall be given where practicable by person service upon the owner or by such other service as the court may direct When the viewers shall have completed their labors they shall file their report in writing in the said court If no exceptions shall be filed thereto within thirty days from the filing of the report or if no appeal therefrom be filed within said time demanding a trial by jury the said report shall be confirmed absolutely After final judgment on any appeal from the award of viewers an appeal may be had to either the supreme court or superior court as the case may require If upon any appeal the award of the viewers is not increased or modified in favor of the appellant the entire cost of the proceedings subsequent to such award shall be paid by the appellant In so far as practicable the Commission may include in one petition proceedings for the condemnation for all land in one county proposed to be acquired

In any proceedings under this section the court may appoint such guardians or committees or trustees as the case may require and may in all cases prescribe the form and manner of service of any notice required in any proceedings under this act

Section 4 When the entire cost of said lands and materials including expenses and the cost of said dam and reservoir shall have been ascertained and fixed as nearly as may be the Commission may take possession of said lands or materials in the name of this Commonwealth after giving sixty days' notice thereof by publication in the counties wherein said lands or materials are located No part of said lands or materials shall be taken over by the Commission in the name of the Commonwealth until by agreement with the owner or by proceedings in condemnation as provided for in this act the entire cost of all said lands and materials shall be ascertained and fixed as nearly as may be

Section 6 No land shall be purchased by the Commission until the titles thereto have been approved by the Attorney General

Section 7 When the said dam is completed and said reservoir established it shall be maintained and operated at the expense of this Commonwealth under the direction of the Water Supply Commission

Section 8 The sum of four hundred thousand dollars ($400,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated to the Water Supply Commission of Pennsylvania for the purchase of the said lands and otherwise for carrying out the purposes of this act Payment of moneys shall be on order of the chairman of the Commission countersigned by the secretary and accomplished by itemized and certified vouchers and upon warrant of the Auditor General No land shall be acquired under the provisions of this act until there shall be filed with the Commission satisfactory waivers of all damage from owners of lands in the State of Ohio to be submerged or which may possibly be submerged through the operation of said dam and reservoir

PRAYER.

The Chaplain (Rev. J. E. Wright) offered the following prayer:

O God, we thank Thee that Thy work in this world is not wrought through direct agency by the exertion of omnipotent, supernatural power. It is not the word of command that works Thy will, nor the stretched forth arm of Thy strength. Thou dost work through laws, through established laws of Thine own ordaining. Thou dost appropriate and utilize the resources of man. There is that in us which contributes to Thy purpose. Thou dost use our time, our skill, our patient attention to details, our forethought and tactfulness and study, our willingness to work and our willingness to wait. These seem but little things, O Lord, to offer to Thee, the God of omnipotence, and yet it is by the devotion of multitudes of people to these little things that Thy kingdom comes and Thy work is wrought and this world is made better. May we remember the truth and may we give ourselves earnestly and faithfully to our part of this work. And Thy name shall have the praise of it through Jesus Christ, our Lord. Amen.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of the proceedings of yesterday.

The Clerk then proceeded to read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings, when on motion of Mr. George K. Young, the further reading of the Journal was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

BILL PLACED ON CALENDAR.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I offered the following motion.

The SPEAKER. The motion will be read by the Clerk.

The motion was read by the Clerk as follows:

It is moved by Mr. John R. K. Scott and seconded by Mr. Richards, that House Bill No. 101, entitled:

"An Act creating a department of charities, defining its powers and duties, restricting the issuance of warrants by the Auditor General for the payment of money to certain institutions, prohibiting the soliciting of appropriations by officials and employees of institutions, regulating the responsibilities for maintenance of beneficiaries transferred from one institution to another, providing for the return of alien indigent insane persons, and abolishing the Board of Public Charities" be placed upon the calendar, notwithstanding the negative recommendation of the Appropriation Committee.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, this motion is for the purpose of placing upon the calendar the bill which was prepared by the Legislative Committee and submitted to this Legislature by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Richards, which will revolutionize the present system of distributing money for charities. In other words, it will do away with the power of the Appropriation Committee and the Governor and the Senate and the House to select the amount of money that should go to each charity. It allows the money to be appropriated to a Commission and that Commission will have the power of distributing the money per capita to the various institutions of a charitable nature.

Now, Mr. Speaker, this is possible a bill that is offered too late to become a law at this session, but it is proper that we should have this bill placed upon the calendar and when it reaches second and third reading there will be full discussion on this subject which has long been neglected by the Legislature. It will be discussed and debated and new thoughts will be brought out on this subject and eventually there will be legislation upon a measure similar to this. It is quite possible that this bill will not prevail. It is quite possible that there is considerable objection to the bill as now drawn, but we should at this session, now coming to its closing hours, get at least a full discussion upon this very live issue because we have seen not only in this session, but in many sessions gone by, that the means which are used in giving away the vast millions of this rich State are indeed crude. It is a physical impossibility that those of us here could possibly know the needs of the charities, or know the expenditure of the money, and this bill seeks to establish a department under our State government which will have all the responsibility centered upon it, all the responsibility focused upon it, and will have to answer to that responsibility. Now one Committee has the power to distribute all this money. You have the power of this Legislature in its closing hours to give out these vast millions. We have the Governor with his great club over the members of the Legislature, which is fundamentally wrong. It is wrong, for instance, that the Executive will have the power with a stroke of his pen to take from any member of this House the appropriation to the hospital in his neighborhood which appropriation he has to get. He cannot go back home without it without being stultified. It is wrong that a member of the Legislature should have that duty on his shoulders or have such responsibilities. Some time this will be changed. We fortunately are a very rich State—I dare say the richest State in the union. We are extravagant in our money affairs. We are careless with our money. We are most crude in expending our money.

This bill which is offered by the gentleman from Allegheny and which was negatived by the Appropriation Committee should come out on the floor and should meet with a full discussion. We can hear those advocating it and those who oppose it. The bill is now in the last stages of this session and, as I say, more than likely will not be enacted into a law this session; but it at least will bring to the minds of some of the members who are alive to a live issue some possibility; and a member who is sitting out his first term now may when he comes back next session come back with a real issue of curtailing in Pennsylvania the distribution of its money and curtailing the extravagance of the Commonwealth, and the member who can strike that issue and carries that legislation successfully through the Commonwealth is going to strike an issue that will write his name down in fame.

Now, gentlemen, whether you are opposed to this measure or not you should at least allow it to go on the calendar and I ask the House to give the required number of votes to place this bill upon the calendar, notwithstanding the negative recommendation of the Committee.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion.

Eighty-six members, or more than the number required by the rule having voted in the affirmative the motion was agreed to, and the bill placed upon the calendar.

BILL PLACED ON CALENDAR.

Mr. WILTBANK. Mr. Speaker, I offer the following motion.

The SPEAKER. The motion will be read by the Clerk.

The motion was read by the Clerk as follows:

Moved by James H. Wiltbank, seonded by Frederic Hugh O'Neill.

That the Committee on Judiciary General be discharged from further consideration of House Billl No. 1258.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. WILTBANK. Mr. Speaker, this bill is to consolidate the two penitentiaries. I have been trying for two months to get the Committee to make a report some way, but they absolutely refuse; but I do not know why they did not unless they wanted to keep positions for some people; but nevertheless there is no reason why we should support two penitentiaries in Pennsylvania. It is for us to say whether we will do it or not. We have up in Centre County some 5,000 acres of land and we have already appropriated some million dollars and will be asked to appropriate a million dollars more for that later on. In 1905 we passed a law abolishing this penitentiary and making a new one and appropriating $1,500,000.00. The Governor vetoed the bill on account of the condition of the finances of the State. Now, gentlemen this is not one cent detriment to the State.

Mr. Speaker, we have passed a bill to have all the executions at a central station. I hope, gentlemen, that you will put this bill on the calendar.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, two years ago this Legislature passed a bill abolishing the Western Penitentiary, and appropriated a considerable sum of money to buy and establish a new site for this penitentiary in Centre County. It is believed that the method of handling the prisoners in this one site will be better than in the other ones, but I am informed, and the Judiciary General Committee is informed by the superintendent that the penitentiary which John Francies has under construction in Centre County will not be completed for four or five and probably six years, that it will take that long to get the penitentiary in working order. The bill to which the gentleman's motion refers is a bill to abolish the Eastern Penitentiary, and combine it with the one in Centre County. After a considerable hearing in the Jndiciary General Committee, and consultation with Mr. Francies, who is constructing this new penitentiary, we learned that it could not be completed for several years, and we thought it unwise to report out a bill abolishing the Eastern Penitentiary, therefore, the bill has remained in the committee. On this explanation I am willing that the gentlemen shall vote as they see fit, but to abolish the Eastern Penitentiary, with no place to put the prisoners, seemed unwise at this time, and therefore we have retained the bill in the committee.

Mr. WILTBANK. Mr. Speaker, that is all very good, but this bill is only to let the people of the Tenth district know that it is coming. We have had a bill passed by the Legislature to build a new one. We do not ask that the prisoners be sent to an unfinished place. If this new penitentiary is not finished for twenty years we are willing to hold the prisoners in the Eastern Penitentiary until it is finished, but we want to know that when it is finished the prisons will be combined, and that the site of the Eastern Penitentiary will be sold. That is all there is to it. This bill does not say that the fourteen hundred prisoners shall be put in an unfinished penitentiary, but it merely does say that when the penitentiary is finished, and called the Penitentiary of Pennsylvania, that the Eastern Penitentiary will be done away with. Gentlemen, I ask you to vote to put this bill on the calendar.

On the question recurring,

Will the House discharge the Judiciary General Committee from further consideration of this bill?

Sixty-six gentlemen, or more than the number required by the rule of the House voting in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative. The committee was discharged from further consideration of the bill, and the bill was placed on the calendar.

REPORT OF THE BRUMM INVESTIGATION COMMITTEE MADE A SPECIAL ORDER.

Mr. SPEISER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the action upon the majority and the minority reports of the committee appointed to investigate the charges against Judge Brumm, of Schuylkill County, be made a special order for next Tuesday morning, June 10th, at 10.30 o'clock.

Mr. MITCHELL. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. HUMES. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk then read the amendment as follows:

Amend House Billl No. 1459, file folio No. 7705.

Section 1, by striking out the syllable "ser" in line 10, also by striking out the brackets in line 23, and also the word "employee" in line 23.

Section 2, by striking out the word "adition" in line 4, and inserting the word "addition" in lieu thereof, also by striking out the word "special" in line 5, and inserting the word "special" in lieu thereof.

Section 7, by inserting the word "of" after the word "each" in line 1.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendment? Is there any obpection? The Chair hears none, and the amendment will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk then read the amendment as follows:

Section 2, line 14, strike out all execpt the first word "receive"

Section 2, line 15, strike out all of line fifteen

Section 2, line 16, strike out all except the last three words "the clerks and"

Section 2, line 16, after the word "sessions" insert following: "eighteen hundred dollars ($1,800) for each regular biennial session ten dollars $10) per diem for each special or extraordinary session and five dollars ($5) per diem during the interim between legislative sessions"

Section 8, add at the end thereof the following: "Provided however that this act shall not in any manner affect or repeal any-part of an act, entitled "An Act fixing the compensation of the Assistant Libararian of the Senate and the Assistant Resident Clerk of the House of Reprepresentatives approved May 8, 1913, nor that part of the act creating the office of Assistant Resident Clerk of the House of Representatives, entitled "An Act fixing the number compensation mileage and duties of the officers and employees of the General Assembly and providing for their election or appointment and manner of filling vacancies" approved April 12, 1905.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, just a word in explanation of this amendment. While the addition which has been added in section eight sounds, at some considerable length, nevertheless it simply means this: That it is an act to which it refers as the act which was a creative act for the office of the Assistant Resident Clerk, early in this session, and the other portion of the act of an amendment thereon, in line sixteen, and I desire that the part which is cut out in lines 14, 15 and 16 is filled in with this amendment by the exact language of the bill which was passed by the House and by the Senate and approved by the Governor on the twenty-eighth of May of this year, and when you cut out the part suggested and insert the part suggested, the bill reads as we would recommend it should read. It is done for the reason that a few weeks ago in this session, as the members will recall, this House passed a bill fixing the salary of the Assistant Resident Clerk of this House at a stipulated sum of eighteen hundred dollars, and this amendment is injcted for the purpose of putting into effect that bill which has already been passed by the House and the Senate so that during this session we will not undo, so far as the Asistant Resident Clerk is concerned, what has already been done by the House because of the fact that the House was thoroughly satisfied with these conditions. I ask that these amendments be inserted because of the fact that that is the sole purpose of the amendment.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent to the insertion of these amendments?

Mr. HUMES. Mr. Speaker, I don't want to object to the insertion of these amendments, with a view of its coming before the House as an objection, but I do feel that unanimous consent should not be given but that the House by a majority vote or by an appropriate vote on the subject should determine the result. I don't care to choke off the effort of the gentleman from Allegheny by formally objecting to the insertion of the amendments but I want to ask for a division on the question.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, there will be only one way and that will be by objection to unanimous consent and a motion to go into committee of the whole, and if the gentleman from Crawford objects he can so state and I will make a motion to go into committee of the whole.

Mr. HUMES. Mr. Speaker, I object to the amendments.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I move that we go into committee of the whole for the purpose of special amendment.

Mr. HUMES. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The SPEAKER. Mr. Rockwell will kindly take the Chair as chairman of the committee of the whole.

COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE.

Mr. ROCKWELL in the Chair.

The CHAIRMAN. The Committee of the Whole House having under consideration House Bill No. 1459, the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Allen, desires to offer amendments.

The Clerk will read the amendments.

The Clerk again read the amendments as follows:

Amend section 2, line strike out all except the first word "receive"

Also amend section 2, line 15, strike out all of line fifteen.

Also amend section 2, line 16, strike out all except the last three words "the Clerks and."

Also amend section 2, line 16, after the word "sessions" insert following: "Eighteen hundred dollars ($1,800) for each regular biennial session ten dollars ($10) per diem for each special or extraordinary session and five dollars ($5) per diem during the interim between legislative sessions."

Also amend section 8, add at the end thereof the following: "Provided however that this act shall not in any manner affiect or repeal any part of an act, entitled "An Act fixing the compensation of the Assistant Librarian of the Senate of the Assistant Resident Clerk of the House of Representatives, entitled "An Act fixing the number compensation mileage and duties of the officers and empolyees of the General Assembly and providing for their election or appointment and manner of filling vacancies" approved April 12, 1905.

On the question,

Will the Committee of the Whole House agree to the amendments offered by the gentleman from Allegheny?

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Chairman, now I will renew the offer which was made to the House and I desire to say that the part which is cut out in lines 14, 15 and 16 is filled in this amendment by the exact language of the bill which was passed by the House and the Senate and approved by the Governor on the twenty-eighth of May of this year, when you cut out the part suggested and insert the last suggested, the bill reads as follows: "The Assistant Resident Clerk shall receive eighteen hundred dollars for each biennial session, ten dollars per diem for each extraordinary session and five dollars per diem during the interim between the legislative sessions." That is the exact language of the bill which was approved by the Governor in the action of the two bodies of this session, being approved on May 28th last. That explains and I think clearly, why this should be done. We appreciate the fact that the Assistant Resident Clerk, our good friend, Dale Meals, who sits at the desk, is earning at least that amount of money and is much more valuable even than that to this House and we took cognizance of that sometime ago in this session and passed a bill and the bill went through all the necessary steps and has been approved. That explains the insertion of these amendments and an addition to section eight is such addition as will leave this a creative office, an office which has been created by law. The bill which is referred to in the amendment is that bill which passed the House at the time stated and a creative of Assistant Resident Clerk among the other offices which were created. Now, unless the provision is made that no repealer be made on that special act, you will be placed in this position: You will have officers holding places at the desk in this House, to wit: House officers, who are created without any action at law by omitting the repealer. Under that particular bill you have these offices created by act of law and you have an act created before you have the offices. For these reasons I ask that these amendments be accepted by the whole House.

Mr. HUMES. Mr. Chairman, it is my understanding that this act itself creates every office that is provided for by the terms. I think if the gentleman will read the first section of the act he will find that there is an expressed provision that the following offices shall be created or established as the offices of the House and consequently I can see no need for the last amendment to which the gentleman has referred. This bill, however; is a bill which was prepared not by me but by a committee which was appointed by this House that made a careful investigation and inquiry into the duties and the value of the services that were rendered by all the employes. My name is attached to it only because of the fact that the bill I had introduced was used as the skeleton about which to construct the report of the special committee. It was the purpose of the committee to give to every employee every dollar that his services were worth and we believe that we have done that and it was proper that the committee should take into consideration the value of the services and the compensation that the employer receives as well as the compensation of the employee. If the amendments of the gentleman from Allegheny are inserted into this bill, we are in the position of paying another of the employes of the House more money than the members of the Assembly themselves receive and I scarcely believe that any member of this House believes that any considerable number of the employees should receive more than any of the members themselves get. We made an increase in the compensation of the Assistant Resident Clerk and put him on the same basis as the members themselves. I believe when we are paying the Assistant Resident Clerk the same salary as the members are receiving that we cannot be charged with under-estimating the value of his services and I think that the committee that made a careful investigation of all the employes of the House were in a position to judge better as to the value of the services of any employe of this House than any one that would arrive as the judgment in an off-hand opinion. That opinion would be scarcely as valuable as to the remuneration for places in the House as the recommendations of the committee that investigated the whole matter. I am sorry that the question is not divided, but if the gentleman from Allegheny feels that there is anything in this bill that does not permit the continuance of the office of the Resident Clerk, we might vote on it separately as that is the only means of bringing this about. I suggest to the gentleman from Allegheny that the question be divided so that it can be voted on separately. Is that satisfactory?

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Chairman, no it is not satisfactory, for this reason: The position which we occupy as I have already said and I believe the gentleman from Crawford will agree with me in this position that the Assistant Resident Clerk would hold to this House without the amendment would be simply that under the provisions of the salary bill now before us for consideration that office as suggested by the gentleman from Crawford would be created. This is an amendment or rather the amendment to that bill and when that bill is passed, simply becomes a part of that act and when the offices as are created under the provisions of that bill and when the provision in relation of salary comes into play under that bill, then the issue is complete. His position towards this House now is and the amendment is intended for this purpose, that his office is already created and that he holds that office by appointment which has been approved by this House. That by the provision of the act 113, which was approved by the Governor, he has already had a salary fixed by this House at eighteen hundred dollars per year. I think no one in this House can accuse me of being an promiscuous salary raiser. I think nobody can do that honestly. I will say further that there is no member on the floor of this House, Mr. Chairman, however arduously he may perform his task and however closely he may apply himself to his work, that will not agree with me that Mr. Meals, the young man whom I am seeking to protect by this amendment, works while we sleep or rather while we should sleep at least After this House has closed, when this House has closed its work for the day, and he has been here continuously from the fall of the gavel at the opening of the session until the fall of the gavel at the close of the session, then his real work begins. It is the preparation of everything that has been done. It is the compilation of that for the printer, so that you and I and this House next morning may take up our work and go on. No one has heard him complain this year. They never have heard any complaint in relation to the work of that desk being at the next desk and on time. There never has been one hour when the work of this House has been neglected from that source, and this House early in the session appreciated those facts, after the matter was called to your attention. I call to your attention, Mr. Chairman, that when the bill was under consideration for the raising of this salary that that bill was called to the attention of the members of this House and postponed for a time so that each member might satisfy himself in relation to whether or not this was a deserving raise. And when the bill came up for final passage, I believe there were few, if any, votes cast against it, because of the fact that the members of this House knew what that employee was doing. had done, and will continue to do. And I am frank and open and sincere and honest in saying to you that the salary of $1,800, out of consideration for what we have seen and what we know, is not too much. I don't want to say that there is not one employee, at least, in this House who does not earn more than I earn, whose labors are not worth more than mine. I believe that every member in this House, Mr. Chairman, appreciates the fact that without those particular services at the command of this House during this session, that this House would have been in a mighty serious condition more than once. We know what the printer has done. We have had example after example of that day after day, but there has never been a single time that the printer even excused himself because of the fact that the work was delayed in reaching him. We have worked here until eleven, twelve and even one o'clock at night, and even later than that, and yet when we have finished our day's work, our slave has just commenced his. He has gone ahead and finished his work before he went to his bed. We have said it was worth $1,800 and by accepting these amendments at this time we continue to say that the action which we took some weeks ago is correct, and that is all it does say, and I ask the members of this House to support me in insisting upon the amendments to this bill.

Mr. HUMES. Mr. Chairman, in light of the remarks just made by the gentleman from Allegheny, I withdraw my request for a division of the question.

On the question recurring,

A division was called for, 100 voting in the affirmative and 30 in the negative.

And the amendments were agreed to.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Chairman, I move that the Committee of the Whole House do not rise and report back to the House.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, the bill now under consideration is known as the Clark Commission Form of Government Bill, which passed the Senate more than a month ago and has been in the House for a period of about six weeks, during which time it had been referred to the Committee on Judiciary Special and re-referred to a special subcommittee which has given very considerable time, labor and attention to the same and its various details in order that this bill, when enacted into law, may possess as few errors and defects as possible.

For this reason the sub-committee, immediately upon receipt of the bill, gave wide advertisement of its intention to hold a public hearing in order that the views of third class cities to become affected by this bill might be heard and considered by the committee. It was the desire of the committee to ascertain whether or not the people of Pennsylvania desire the commission form of government which, after due deliberation, the committee decided in the affirmative, after which the committee applied itself to the perfecting of the bill before it and the correction of errors and inconsistencies that existed in some of its provisions in their relation one to the other.

The bill, in brief, prescribes the method of incorporation of cities of the third class, and in itself constitutes a code of laws for the administration of these municipalities, under its provisions the legislative powers are vested in a council composed of a Mayor and four Councilmen whose powers, in its legislative capacity, are identical with those enjoyed under the present system. It provides that the Mayor and members of City Council shall be at least twenty-five years old, the Mayor to be elected for a term of four years and each of the Councilmen for a term of two years. The Mayor shall have no veto power. Council shall hold meetings at least once a month and continue the meetings so long as the public business demands. The powers in respect to the enactment of ordinances and the method thereof is similar to the present methods employed by councils. The Mayor and Councilmen shall receive salaries for their services. The administrative authority in said cities shall be distributed in and among five departments. The Mayor is chief of the Department of Public Affairs, is chief executive and magistrate of the city, and exercises a supervisory power over the various departments of the city as he does now. The other executive departments designated by the act are the Department of Accounts and Finance, the Department of Public Safety, the Department of Streets and Public Improvements, the Department of Parks and Public Property. The council, at its first regular meeting after the election of its members, designates by majority vote one Councilman to be superintendent respectively of each of the several departments.

The City Controller is elected by the people as at present for a period of four years, and his duties shall be to examine, audit and settle all accounts whatsoever in which the city is concerned. He has power to administer oaths in relation to any matter touching the authentication of every account or claim against the city.

The Mayor and Council are nominated and elected on a non-partisan ballot. The corporate powers of the city under this act are almost identical with those now enjoyed under the present law.

The assessment of property is changed in respect to the reduction of city assessors to one chosen by Council and such assistants as Council shall deem necessary. The act provides that the standard of assessment shall be the market value of property, which valuation can be increased or diminished between the periods of the triennial assessments at any time occasion requires. The Councils shall be a Board of Tax Revision.

There is an initiative and referendum provision, which provides that ordinances may be submitted to the people for enactment or repeal upon the petition of twenty per cent. of the vote cast for all candidates for Mayor at the next preceding election, which said petition is to lodge in the office of the City Clerk for the attachment of signatures.

These, in the main, are the principal provisions of the bill now under consideration. In a word, the bill is virtually the re-enactment of the third class city law of 1889 adapted to the Commission Form of Government.

The committee, in its revision of the bill, was careful to preserve the elective officers of the municipalities in their office. The bill as it is now drawn has no ripper clause other than that which deprives unpaid city Councilmen of their offices at the time the act goes into effect.

The Commission Form of Government for cities of the size provided for in this bill is not an untried experiment. The record of its merit and efficiency is eloquently set forth in many modern works upon the subject.

I believe that the House is so thoroughly familiar with the Commission Form of Government and the methods employed and the advantages which have accrued from that form of government that it is unnecessary for me to quote from any volume respecting these matters. I shall therefore not do so at this time.

In summarizing, the Commission Form of Government produces simplicity and fixes responsibility, brings about economy, provides a government at work every day in the year, substitutes efficiency for red tape, facilitates and expedites transaction of business and the execution of public improvements, renders prompt attention to complaints, restricts franchises granting powers, compels publicity of proceedings, and reduces taxation.

It had been the desire of the committee to place in this bill an option clause whereby each city eligible to the provisions of the bill might have the right to say whether or not it desired the commission form of Government, but after careful study of the authorities and consultation with many experts on municipal law, the committee was forced to the conclusion that the insertion of a clause of this character would result in disaster to the bill at the hands of the courts.

I feel that it is hardly necessary for me to quote the authorities in support of this contention as the opinions of those qualified to judge of this matter are practically unanimous.

At the public hearing referred to before, there appeared before the sub-committee mayors, councilmen, representatives of civil leagues and of boards of trade from all over the State representing cities which will be directly affected by this act or eligible to its enjoyment.

Among those who appeared and spoke in behalf of this bill were: Mr. A. M. Fuller of Meadville, representative of the allied civic league; E. P. Douglas of McKeesport; Mayor Storn of Erie; George T. Hersh, president of the board of trade of Allentown; Mr. Lewis of Allentown; Mr. Garner of Allentown; Mr. E. A. Howell of Chester; Mr. R. W. Ferrell, representing chamber of commerce, Wilkes-Barre; Mr. S. G. Seager, secretary of the board of Trade of Hazleton; Mr. J. Denny O'Neal, McKeesport; Mr. Eugene Weiser, representing chamber of commerce of York; Mayor Arthur, McKeesport; John R. Roordon, representative of the board of trade of Williamsport; Mayor Coffin of Johnstown; Mayor Nevin of Easton, representative of the third class city convention; William Kell of Harrisburg, representative of the progressive league of Harrisburg; George L. Reed of Harrisburg, representive of the progressive league of Harrisburg; Mr. Gracey, representing Mayor of Reading; Mr. Wonder, Representing counsel of Reading; Mr. Gilman of Williamsport, representing board of trade; Mr. T. G. White, McKeesport, president chamber of commerce; Mr. Brown of New Castle, president of board of trade; James H. Wright, Corry, representative of Corry council; John Drew, Connellsville, representing chamber of commerce; F. P. Schumaker of Bradford.

All of these gentlemen appeared before the House Committee, some bearing resolutions from their chambers of commerce and their council, others sent as the direct representatives of their people, to advocate the Legislature to enact this bill into law. The opposition to the bill came from three city solicitors, members of the third class city league, namely: Mr. Seitz of Harrisburg, Mr. Cummings of Williamsport, and Mr. Gardner of New Castle. There gentlemen were not opposed to the Clark bill, but they preferred a change in municipal government as set forth in what was known as the Beidleman bill providing for a mayor and a single council.

In conclusion, let me state that the present bill, if enacted into law, is not a guarantee against inefficiency, incompetency or corruption in the administration of municipal government. To assume such a position or to make a claim of this character would be absurd. No system of laws devisable will produce good government when the people are indifferent and slothful. To be well governed the people must ever be watchful of those temporarily in authority and hold them to a strict accountability for their official acts, giving them due credit for their good achievements and condemnation for their neglect. The system as provided by this bill is simply the machinery, it is not the operator. The people are the operators.

In submitting this law to the people, we believe that we are giving them a piece of governmental machinery that is the most improved and efficient known to the present generation for the government of smaller municipalities, and one that, if properly used, will bring to the people more economical, efficient and progresive municipal government than they have enjoyed under the old and discredited methods.

Mr. ULMAN. Mr. Speaker, as one with some experience in legislation in the councils of my own city, I have come to believe that some change in the state laws for the government of cities of the third class would be welcomed.

No one, however, informed upon the subject, will claim with any degree of truth or sincerity that the present laws have been sufficiently tested, or in other words that our municipalities have, with any measure of care, attempted to avail themselves of the privileges and authority now provided; the solitary exception being possibly the city of Harrisburg. The municipalities, have been made to realize, from the experience of years, that the uniting of legislative and administrative functions has worked it disadvantage in municipal government. The tendency of thought has been in recent years rather to divorce from the administrative, the legislative duties, than to continue in the old way, or to further centralize these functions.

When the idea of commission government for our cities was first under discussion and consideration, it was assumed that Pennsylvania, like all the states where this form of government is in vogue, had local authority to accept or reject the terms of the law establishing it. Not until very recently was it fully understood that under the constitution of Pennsylvania, this privilege could not be exercised. We were then confronted with the alternative of amending our constitution so as to allow this local choice, in order that we stand with other commonwealths in this regard, or face the harsh alternative of forcing upon all the cities of the third class this form of government without their voice. Thinking men everywhere halted at this proposition, and in order to meet a reasonable demand legislation was framed, with which this House is more or less familiar, embracing in its provisions, a limited measure of referendum, the non partisan ballot and a single council whose members would be elected from the city at large. Those advocating the extremest view of drastic and radical legislation, refused to consider such an act, and with presistent and unabating zeal, pressed for the enactment the bill now before the House.

1. The Clerk Bill. Senate Bill No. 13. Destroys all idea of home rule in cities, requiring them regardless of their size of financial condition to accept the act whether willing or not.

2. Saddling an immediate burden of expense upon the municipality, without their having any voice therein, amounting for example in Williamsport to an increase in the annual expense of government of $9600. In other words where Williamsport now pays her Mayor $900 per year, she would pay to him and the other members of the Commission $10,500.

3. Changes City Treasurer's term from four years to two years, and provides his election by the commission, affording the plainest and easiest opportunity for favorism.

4. Abolishing the office of City Controller, and establishing in its stead a city Auditor, and permitting the commission to assign him a part of his duties.

5. Changing the length of term of City Solicitor and City Engineer from three years to two years and making them removable at will.

6. Allowing a referendum vote on all ordinances except emergency ordinances, thus rendering it possible to saddle an enormous expense upon the city by requiring a submission to a vote of the people any ordinance not an emergency ordinance, and subjecting street paving and sewering to the delay and caprice of the popular vote.

7. Taking away the veto power of the mayor, and concentrating in the hands of the five commissioners all power, both legislative and executive any three of the five at all times having it in their power to run all municipal affairs.

8. Limiting the board of City Assessors to one person, who will not be elected by the people but the commission, and who unless his views accorded with them could be overruled by the commission who are constituted a board of revision of taxes and appeals.

All in ripping out all old conditions, and implanting a new and very decidedly radical and centralized control of all municipal affairs.

Mr. WILDMAN. Mr. Speaker, the legislation here proposed affects most materially and vitaly the people whom I have the honor to represent, were I to sit idly by and see the same enacted into a law, without raising my voice in protest to its passage, I should always feel that that I had failed to voice their sentiment, and that I had failed them at a crucial time.

Mr. Speaker, I can safely state without fear of contradiction that eighty per cent of the people of the City of Harrisburg, one of the principal cities of the third class of the State of Pennsylvania are opposed to this measure for the reason, that they are perfectly satisfied with their present form of government that they do not desire any change that will increase its current expenditures.

They are opposed to it because it deprives them of their rights, granted them by the Constitution, viz:—A Government by representation, and that it forces upon them a government without the consent of the Governed.

Under the present system each ward of the city enjoys representation in the legislative body, were selected by their constituency on account of their fitness and qualifications, they have always fullfilled their duties honestly, fearlessly, and conscientiously, men of character and sterling integrity, who cheerfully and willingly devote a portion of their time, without compensation to the service of their city guided by no other motive than civic pride. They have done noble work during the past ten years, over five millions of dollars were expended under their direction, for municipal improvements, and it is the proud boast of our citizens, that they have received one hundred cents in value for every dollar expended.

It has been suggested by the advocates of the commission form of government that their reason for desiring a change is that they have not been properly governed under the present system, and they cite the successful administrations of the cities of Galveston and Des Moines, both were opperating under the commission form. I desire to say to these gentlemen that if they can not accomplish in their respective cities what Harrisburg has done, under the same system, that they will get no better results under the commission form, successfull government does not depend so much upon the system adopted, as it does upon the men who govern.

Let us analyze this system of government by commission. I shall not enter into the merits, or demerits of the entire bill, or point out the many sections that are conflicting, and at variance with each other, or those that will no doubt be declared unconstitutional. I shall only call your attention to several of the most objectionable, and to my mind vicious features of the bill.

First, I would call your attention to sections one and two Article six, beginning at line 25, page 35 which provides as follows:

> After the first election under the provisions of this act a mayor shall be elected at the regular municipal election held each fourth year thereafter and four members of council shall be elected at the regular municipal election held each two years thereafter said mayor and councilmen shall be elected by the electors at large of said city
> Section 2 Each member of council including the mayor shall have the right to vote on all questions coming before the council but the mayor shall have no right to veto such acts as shall have been passed by the affirmative vote of a majority of the members elected to said council

This section deprives the people of ward representation and places the entire legislative powers into the hands of three men, even the mayor being stript of the right to exericse the veto power, surely, Mr. Speaker, this is not progressive legislation, and I appeal to the members of this House, whose battle cry last November was, shall the people rule, and I ask them in all fairness whether or not this measure is consistent with their views.

I further desire to call your attention to Article 7, section 2, page 40 which provides as follows:

> Section 2 The mayor shall be superintendent of the department of public affairs and the council shall at the first regular meeting after the election of its members designate by majority vote one councilman to be superintendent of the department of public safety one to be superintendent of the department of public safety one to be superintendent of the department of streets and public improvements and one to be superintendent of the departmnt of parks and public property.

This is going back to the days of ancient Rome, it places into the hands of a triamvivate, absolutely, the full and entire governing power of the municipality, viz, the legislative, executive, and the administrative, three men make the laws, executive theme, levy and collect the taxes, and expend the money, what a splendid opportunity for the right men with no provision made under this act for the use of the recall.

Under the present system the city treasurer is elected by the people, he is obliged to secure the city for the faithfull performance of his duties, by the furnishing of a good and sufficient corporate bond. He is at liberty to select a depository for the public funds, thus making himself and his surety directly responsible in case of an insolvency of the said depository. He is prohibited from the disbursement of any of the public funds, excepting upon the presentation of a warrant duly countersigned by the city controller, who in his present capacity acts as the watch dog of the treasury.

Let us see what the new system provides for in the way of an improvement in Article 8, section 1.

> Section 1 The council of each city of the third class or in other words the triumvirate shall on the first Monday of January after its election elect a city treasurer who shall hold his office for the term of two years
> Section 2 The city treasurer shall demand and receive all moneys payable to the city from whatever source and shall pay all warrants duly countersigned by the Superintendent of Finance

(Another of the triumvirate.) Mark you, Mr. Speaker, not by the controller, but the Superintendent of Finance.

In section 2, line 13, we have this provision: "The treasurer shall keep the public funds in such banks or financial depositories as council may direct."

Mr. Speaker, this to my mind is the most vicious provision of the entire act, it places into the hands of three men, the right to designate the depository of the public funds, and as this is matter of great importance to the principal financial institutions of a city, it is an easy matter to anticipate results and needs no further explanation.

Mr. Speaker, I wish to call the attention of the House to the fact, and I submit it to the attorneys of this House, that under this provision if a City Treasurer places the State funds in the bank designated by the members of Council, and the institution becomes insolvent, the city cannot recover from the Treasurer or his sureties. Article 9, sections 1 and 2, read as follows:

> Section 1 Qualified electors of each city of the third class shall elect at the regular municipal election at the same time that members of council shall be elected under this act a city controller who shall serve for the period of four years from the first Monday of January following his election and until his successor is duly elected and qualified unless he shall sooner be removed from office according to law He shall examine audit and settle all accounts whatsoever in which the city is concerned either as debtor or creditor where provision for the settlement thereof is made by law and where no such provision or an insufficient provision has been made he shall examine such accounts and report to the city council the facts relating thereto He shall have authority to administer oaths or affirmations in relation to any matter touching the authentication of every account with or claim or demand against the city but shall not be entitled to receive any fee therefor
> Section 2 The said city controller shall perform such other duties as may be prescribed by ordinance of council and shall receive such compensation as may be prescribed by council

Under the provision of this section the controller ceases to be the watch dog of the treasury. He is deprived of his present power and serves merely as an auditor, which to my mind is another step backward. The question of a proper, fair and equal assessment of the value of real estate in the cities of the third class has been an unsolved problem that has confronted them for years.

The men who are presumed to place a value upon land and the improvements thereon should at least be possessed of the following qualifications. They should be thoroughly familiar with land values in the various sections of the city, and in order to properly estimate the value of the improvements thereon they should also have a knowledge of the cost of building construction. Let us see what improvement this proposed legislation provides for.

TAXATION AND MUNICIPAL CLAIMS

> The council of each of said cities of the third class shall on the first Monday of January or as soon thereafter as may be conveniently done elect one person resident of the city for at least five years previous to his election a qualified elector thereof and owner of real estate therein at the time of his election and during the entire term of service of the assessed value of at least five hundred dollars as city assessor to serve from the date of his election until the first Monday of January of the succeeding year council shall not permit any person elected assessor to enter upon the duties of said office.

Mr. Speaker, under the provisions of this bill, you will find that the qualifications for City Assessor only are that a man must be the owner of real estate to the extent of five hundred dollars, and must have been a resident of the city for five years. Any person with those qualifications could serve in this capacity.

The statement was made upon the floor of the House last week by the gentleman from York that the question of a change of government for the cities of the third class required no investigation, that the matter had been thoroughly considered and was fully understood. I desire to say to the gentleman that when he made this statement, that he did not know what he was talking about, which is evidenced by the fact that after having had this bill in his committee for consideration nearly two months he presented fifteen or seventeen amendments on second reading.

If this measure is of benefit to cities of the third class, why not also for cities of the first and second class, or the State if you please, Mr. Speaker. Why not dissolve the Legislature and the Senate and apply the Commission Government to the State.

I trust that the House in its wisdom and in a spirit of fairness will vote this measure down.

Mr. KITTS. Mr. Speaker, for a long time in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania there has been a demand some change in the form of government for cities of the third class. I wish to say briefly that the matter of the Commission Form of Government has simmered down to no experiment. Men have given it a great many years of study throughout the State of Pennsylvania, men who have been instrumental in drafting this very bill. They have not left a stone unturned to secure in the provisions of this bill the very best provisions for any city form of government by commission. I might point out this fact to the members of the House, that there are few if any cities which have inaugurated the Commission Form of Government who at this time would be willing to go back to the old, slow and ineffective form of a large unpaid council. I point to some of the cities in the West, Des Moines and Grand Rapids, and Jersey City in the East, and several others who have this form of government, and it has worked out well. There has been something said on the floor of the House relative to the many amendments that were proposed. There was never any bill introduced in this House that was of any importance or gravity or length that it was not necessary to offer amendments to, either in the Committee by recommitment, or upon the floor of the House. These amendments were offered to give to the cities of the third class of Pennsylvania the very best form of government possible. The great trouble with the old form of Council, and the form of government we have at the present time is that we have been unable to dispatch any civic business with promptness. When there is any proposed improvement to be inaugurated, it is a long drawn out proceeding to get Council down to business and get anything done. Some of the men come out of the shops or out of the offices and give their time gratuitously for the benefit of the city. Many men work with a great deal of spirit for their city, but time after time, not receiving any compensation for their work, we are unable to get a quorum, and we are unable to get any business done. This bill in my mind sets up a form of government which will dispatch the business with all possible haste. It will put men at the heads of these departments, men of ability and experience, who will be paid a reasonable amount for their services. I do not think that it is necessary to waste the time of the House in commenting upon this subject, but I think that the members of the House should know that almost ninety per cent. of the third class cities are in favor of this bill, and I hope that the House will vote favorably for it.

Mr. STEELE. Mr. Speaker, I do not desire to tire the House at this time or make any long speech in regard to this Commission Form of Government, but I dare say a few words at this time will not go amiss. Coming from a city of 42,500 inhabitants, and having served in both Common and Select Councils, we feel the necessity of the new form of government. Knowing full well that this proposed Clark bill is not just exactly a perfect bill, yet I ask every member of this House to vote to give us this change of government. Under the old form of government in the Councils, each ward had two Common Councilmen and one Select Councilman, and while I might say that in our city we have had an extremely good class of men to represent our city, yet nevertheless it has not been effective enough to satisfy the demands of the citizens of McKeesport. The subject has been a study for years and the search light of inquiry has been placed upon it, and it has been decided by all interested that it is constitutional. Twenty-three out of twenty-four cities in the State of Pennsylvania have decided that this is the form of government that they desire. We do not feel that this bill as it stands is perfect, neither do we claim that any form of government or any business is perfect at the beginning, but we do claim that the system is right, and the principle is right, and if after we have had a trial of this government it does not exactly suit us, we will be able and willing to rectify it in a very short space of time.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. Speaker, I do not wish to tire the House, but simply wish to say a few words to let the House feel that there isn't any opposition among the third class cities to this bill, except the words uttered by the gentleman from Harrisburg, and the gentleman from Williamsport. Throughout all these hearings, there have been only two cities that have opposed this Commission Form of Government. There has been a universal demand through the State of Pennsylvania for the change asked for in this Clark bill. At the convention of third class cities change in the present form of government has been discussed for years, and the Beidleman bill, which was the outgrowth of that convention, has been abandoned by every city except Harrisburg, and we have heard their objections to the Clark bill this morning. There are no valid objections at all. This is not a stroke at representative government, because every man who votes for one of the five commissioners, votes for a representative, instead of voting for a small representative from his own ward, whose chief duty up to this time has been to see what he can get for that ward, and carry out the old system of log-rolling and dickering between small sections of a municipality. This Commission Form of Government says: "Let us have representatives, properly representing the citizens in the affairs of the municipality." I say there is a universal demand for this form of government. The question of cost isn't anything at all. It is simply a question of how much we are going to pay for efficient government. We all feel that the increase in cost is going to yield us an increase in efficiency. There is a demand among the citizens of the town I represent, Allentown, a demand universally for this change. The Chamber of Commerce, representing the business men have gone on record, and the city councils, the last body that you would expect, have passed resolutions and are asking that the Legislature of Pennsylvania wipe out the antiquated system which permits forty-six Councilmen to meet week after week, and pass ridiculous resolutions and hold up the business affairs of the city.

Twenty-two of the twenty-three cities in Pennsylvania have asked for it and I believe that you will give it to us.

Mr. MOSES. Mr. Speaker, I represent one of the cities of the third class composed of sixty thousand inhabitants. I have served in Councils and I have lived in Johnstown over fifteen years, and I want to say to the members of this House that we need this bill in Johnstown. I am free to say that I don't believe that there will be a dozen people, a dozen of the citizens who live in Johnstown, who are against this bill. They are a unit for it. Of all the Councilmen, and we have forty-two of them, there is but one that I know of as being against this bill. It is the best piece of legislation that can be enacted by this House. It will benefit the cities of the third class, especially our city. Our Councilmen and our Mayor have locked horns and we cannot get a particle of legislation that amounts to shucks. They are locked on millage and the Mayor wants one millage and the Council wants the other and they have been fighting for the last six months. If you want to get proper legislation for cities of the third class and if you want to give cities of the third class the benefit of good legislation, we will ask you from the borough districts and from the first class city districts to support this bill. We want it in Johnstown and we want it badly.

Mr. ULMAN. Mr. Speaker, I want to state to Mr. Miller, inasmuch as he has said that Williamsport and Harrisburg are against the bill, I want to inform him that Harrisburg and Williamsport are not against this form of legislation, but they are against some of the provisions in the bill.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. Speaker, I am glad to hear that. I thought the objection was against the theory.

Mr. MITCHELL. Mr. Speaker, I don't believe there has been a question before this House during this session that is of more general interest than this matter which is now before us. I don't know of any form of legislation or I don't know of any measure that has been more discussed so far as I know. After having followed the matter for several years, even before I came to this House as a member, I only know now of two cities in this Commonwealth which are opposed to this bill and they are not opposed to the commission form of government and I will tell you why. There was another bill prepared by the city solicitors of Pennsylvania calling themselves the Third Class City League. This bill, as I have said, was prepared by a number of city solicitors. The City Solicitor of Harrisburg and the City Solocitor of Williamsport were engaged in the preparation of that bill. That bill is now in a committee of this House. A number of civic organizations have endorsed the third class city bill and at a meeting which was held by the sub-committee, at a hearing of this Clark bill at which about one hundred and twenty-five were present, only four spoke in opposition to it, and they were city solicitors and had been engaged in the preparation of that City Solicitors' Bill. I might remind the gentleman from Harrisburg that three citizens of this city spoke in favor of the bill and one of them was a member of the City Councils of Harrisburg who favored this bill and only one spoke against it and that is the City Solicitor of Harrisburg. The City Solicitor of Williamsport was here and while he was not opposed to this form of government, the City Solicitor took the same position and said anything rather than the present form of government, but that bill had not received the committee's endorsement. Then at that hearing, a number of Mayors were present from third class cities. Mr. Douglass, of McKeesport, was present and he said seventy-five per cent. of his people were in favor of it. There were twenty-two Common Councilmen and eleven Select Councilmen and he declared that ninety per cent. of the Councilmen were against it. Mayor Stern, of Erie, was present. Mr. McGinnis also wants anything in preference to the present system. Mr. Hirsch, of Allentown, the Mayor of Allentown, was present. Mr. Harry I. Koch, of Allentown, presented an endorsement by all the civic bodies for this bill and the Council under a joint resolution endorsed this Clark bill unequivocally. Mr. Gerner, former District Attorney of Allentown, with a population of fifty-two thousand, spoke in favor of it and declared that seventy-five per cent. of the voters were in favor of this bill. Mr. E. A. Howe, of Chester, claimed that from eighty to ninety per cent. of the citizens were infavor of the Clark bill. Mr. R. W. Ferrell, of Wilkes-Barre City Council, has gone on record in favor of it. The boroughs want to come in, but will wait until this third class bill is passed. The President of the Hazleton Board of Trade, Mr. S. G. Seager, having a population of thirty thousand, believes that seventy-five per cent. of the citizens favor it. Eugene Weiser, of York, spoke in favor of it. Mayor Arthur, of McKeesport, said that Councils has passed a resolution favoring it. Mr. John J. Riordan, the president of the largest civic organization of Williamsport, came from Williamsport to speak in favor of this bill. He is from the same county from which Mr. Ulman comes. Mayor Coffin, of Johnstown, representing sixty thousand people with forty-two members of Council, came here, personally, in the interest of the bill. Mr. William Kell, of Harrisburg, spoke for the Progressive League of Steelton. Mr. Grace, from Reading, favors the bill and stated that the Councilmen in Reading were on record as being in favor of it. Mr. Gilmore, of the Board of Trade of Williamsport, reported that they had passed a resolution in favor of it. Mr. Brown, of the New Castle Board of Trade, the president of it, is in favor of it. Mr. T. L. White, the President of Common Councils of McKeesport, is in favor of it. Mr. J. H. Wrighh, of Corry, stated that Councils last night passed a resolution and directed him to come here in the interest of this bill.

Mr. WILDMAN. Mr. Speaker, I was present at that meeting before the committee and it is true that three gentlemen from Harrisbug spoke in favor of the measure. One of the gentlemen who spoke was not a resident of a third class city. One of the other gentlemen who spoke, has absolutely no knowledge whatever of municipal government and the other gentlemen who spoke is at the present time a member of Select Council and he is also a pronounced candidate for Commissioner, and at the same time is closely allied with our political institutions in the City of Harrisburg, and that shows why they spoke in favor of it at this hearing. They admitted that they were at sea and didn't know whether it was a good thing or not. There was no one there that was sure of their town. I want further to state that the men who advocated this measure before that committee were practical politicians and they were looking for another job.

Mr. BERGEY. Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question.

The motion was seconded by the following members:

Messrs. Becker, Benninger, Bigger, Carter, Currier, Donahoe, H. B. Dunn, Keeport, Klepper, E. G. M. Kuhns, Leslie, Letzkus, Morrow, Moulthrop, Rothenberger, Sassaman, Savacool, Snavely, Strauss, Trach and others.

The SPEAKER. More than twenty members having joined in moving the previous question.

On the question,

Shall the main question be put?

It was agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to,

On the question,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with the information that the House has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

SPECIAL ORDER.

The SPEAKER. The hour of 10.30 having arrived, the time fixed for special order on second reading of House Bill No. 1383, file folio 9781, the Chair lays before the House House Bill No. 1383, on second reading.

BILL ON SECOND READING.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispnsed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1383, entitled:

An Act making an apppropriation for the purpose of further carrying out the provisions of a joint resolution approved the fourteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred and eleven entitled "A joint resolution to provide for the participation of the State of Pennsylvania in the Panama-Pacific International Exposition to be held in San Francisco California in nineteen hundred and fifteen to celebrate the completion and opening of the Panama Canal and the four hundredth anniversary of the discovery of the Pacific Ocean and providing for the appointment of a commission and making an appropriation to defray the expenses of the same"

The first section of the bill was read as follows:

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the sum of four hundred and fifty thousand dollars ($450,000.00) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated for the purpose of further carrying out the provisions of a joint resolution approved the fourteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred and eleven entitled "A joint resolution to provide for the participation of the State of Pennsylvania in the Panama-Pacific International Exposition to be held in San Francisco California in nineteen hundred and fifteen to celebrate the completion and opening of Panama Canal and the four hundredth anniversary of the discovery of the Pacific Ocean and providing for the appointment of a commission and making an appropriation to defray the expenses of the same" The payment of moneys hereby appropriated shall be subject to the same conditions as were contained in said resolution

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

The SPEAKER. When this bill was last before the House, the question was: Will the House agree to the first section? The House had under consideration certain amendments which were then offered by Mr. Matt, which will now be read.

The amendments were read as follows::

Amend section 1 by striking out all of the section after the word "same" in line 15, and insert in lieu thereof the following: "The money hereby appropriated shall be paid out of any moneys in the State Treasury not otherwise appropriated to be expended on vouchers duly certified to the Auditor General by the President of the Commission.

Also, by striking out the following words and figures in line 4: "Four hundred and fifty thousand dollars ($450,000.00)" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "three hundred thousand dollars ($300,000.00)."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendment, as a substitute to the amendment which was read.

The amendment was read as follows:

Amend section 1, line 4, strike out "four hundred and fifty thousand dollars (450,000.00)" and insert in lieu thereof "two hundred thousand dollars (200,000.00)."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. MATT. Mr. Speaker, in offering the amendments as I did when the bill came before us last week, I quoted that the Chicago Exposition had been granted an appropriation of $300,000; that the St. Louis Exposition had been appropriated $300,000. Since that time we have gone into the matter a little more fully, and we have found that the $300,000 was very ample, indeed, to cover all the expenses at that time. For the Chicago Exposition the cost of the building was $91,000 in round figures; the cost of the furnishings of that building was $16,000; Pennsylvania Day, at a cost of $5,000; making a total of $112,000 to cover which $300,000 had been appropriated, leaving a balance of $180,000 for current expenses, which you may expect; I think three hundred thousand dollars covered it beyond a question of doubt and I have been unable to really get at the balance that had been left. The St. Louis appropriation was also three hundred thousand dollars. The cost of this building proper was $74,000.00; the cost of furnishing, $13,500.00, and Pennsylvania Day was $19,300.00; making a total cost of $106,800.00, leaving a balance for current expenses of $193,200.00. Now if there is any argument that can be produced here why there should be $450,000.00 appropriated to the Panama American Exposition with the existing figures that we have when we truly believe that $200,000.00 would cover all the expenses, I do not know of it.

Mr. Speaker, I desire to say that I withdraw my amendments and accept the amendment offered by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Allen, as to the amount of $200,000.00.

The SPEAKER. The amendment offered by the gentleman from Bedford is withdrawn and the question then is on the adoption of the amendment offered by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Allen.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I believe if we were to treat this question purely on the line of not spending any more money than was absolutely necessary we would not appropriate anything for this exposition. But there enters in this proposition a question of public policy and there is no State in the Union in my opinion that has larger interests affected by our being exhibited in this world's exposition, than the State of Pennsylvania. We are the people who do things in a large way. We manufacture in this State a class of machinery that there are few duplicates of in the world. This exposition means that a market for the producers of that class of supplies for the world's market will be at that exposition. Treating the subject purely from an economical standpoint, it means that Pennsylvania should at least be as liberal—in other words, from an economical standpoint it is more vitally important to the people of the State of Pennsylvania than any State in the Union that we should have an exhibit there, that we should have Pennsylvania represented there, not as second, but at least equal with the three first States in this Union.

Now whether two hundred thousand dollars will do that, —I think any member in the House will answer no. I am sorry that I did not have the time to dig up the figures or have at my command the amount of money appropriated by the different states in this Union at previous world's expositions, but I do happen to know that in the St. Louis Exposition that the State of Missouri appropriated a half million dollars. Now there was no more reason for the State of Missouri to appropriate a half million dollars or one-half or one-tenth the reason for the State of Missouri to appropriate a half million dollars than the State of Pennsylvania, because the State of Missouri did not put before the eyes of the purchasers in the world's market that great mass of interest that means customers and the money comes back in the production of these various kinds of machinery and textiles into the pockets of the laboring people of the State of Pennsylvania. It does not require strength of imagination on the part of any member of the House to fully appreciate what it means for the great interests of the State of Pennsylvania to put their best foot forward to draft the markets of the world. More especially should I say this to those who are disposed to think that we will have much better times when the markets of the world are thrown open, that we should throw our doors open to the markets of the world they having thrown theirs open to us—a policy which you on the other side believe in but which I do not believe in, I believe in the protective principles. But on this proposition those who are inclined to believe that we can reach out in the world's market, there is not one member on the Democratic side of the House who ought not at least to be more liberal in voting for this proposition than any other proposition. This is not really a substantial necessity for the support of the government, and its various institutions. There is an economical proposition that is of vital importance to the people of Pennsylvania and without going into the details on this argument I want to say to the House that we ought not to cut that appropriation one dollar, in my judgment. I believe that it will come back not only ten fold but one hundred fold to the people of Pennsylvania if the Pennsylvania interests will put their best foot forward. In the first place, if the State has a building there second to none in the Union, the State sets the example in my opinion of appropriating liberally and it will encourage the interest of our State to put their best foot forward in that exposition to advertise our great industries. That is really all there is in these world's expositions in these modern times. They are no longer a show. People go to expositions of this character to get information. They do not go there for the spectacular features of the proposition at all. I would say that 99 per cent. of the people go to these worldl's expositions not for the spectateular feature but to obtain information, that they will bring back and put into play in the various sections of the country where they may live. Now if I can afford to go there I will not go for the spectacular feature at all but for information and for the purpose of putting that information to some good. There will not be a large interest in this State that will not have their representatives there. They will be there examining the improved methods of manufacturing the various machinery and the various textiles; in fact, all that goes into manufacturing interests of this great government. This is a very important question and I do not believe, and I hope the House does not believe, that whoever has the handling of this money that there will be any lavish and wasteful use. If you have that opinion, if you think the money we are going to appropriate is not going to be juriciously and wisely used, then you should not appropriate the $200,000.00; but if you feel you should appropriate $200,000.00 it means that you are putting it in the hands of men who will use it wisely for the benefit of the people of Pennsylvania and I feel very sure that $200,000.00 appropriated by the State of Pennsylvania will place us in perhaps the fourth or fifth class of exhibitors as being represented in that great world's exposition, when not only the people from our own government but people from all over the world looking into the great bridge propositions, the great mining propositions, the great proposition of reducing ore so as to get the precious metals extracted, the great textile proposition—these are vital questions and I hope the House will No. vote for any of the amendments and I hope the bill will pass as originally drawn, for $450,000.00. I think it would be a great mistake to do otherwise, because possibly there is not one of you who wants it to take second place in that great world's exposition in this galaxy of forty-eight states in the Union. We ought to stand,—if not first, we should stand at least paralell with the first three States in this Union and I believe that more States will appropriate more liberally than we if we confine ourselves to two hundred thousand. I will be much surprised if some states do not give over $400,000.00 and I hope the House will vote down the amendment and support the bill as drawn.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, there is not a question but that this amendment should prevail. When we look over his present session, when we find that the consumptive is lying in the slums of the big city, seeking an opportunity to save his life or of being taken to Mount Alto, when we find that this consumptive must go to his death, because the great State of Pennsylvania has not sufficient funds to take care of that consumptive, when we find Mr. Speaker, that the insane are lying in the corridors of Danville, Dixmont and Harrisburg without proper means of housing, because the great State of Pennsylvania has no money to take care of its insane, when we find, Mr. Speaker, that there are no institutions in the State of Pennsylvania adequate to take care of the feeble minded children, when we find, Mr. Speaker, that here in Pennsylvania the charities are refused the amounts sufficient to maintain them, when we find that we are seeking funds for the building of our State Roads by going to the money lenders, I say, Mr. Speaker, it is time then for us to consider whether or not there should be an amendment to cut this amount of $450,000.00 down to $200,000.00.

We hear the gentleman from Delaware speaking about the fact that if there is going to be any extravagance by the Executive there should be no appropriation at all. Unfortunately we have to make an appropriation here. Unfortunately the money has to be placed to a certain extent under the Executive; but it is just as unfortunate that there is going to be extravagance. Last session we appropriated $50,000.00 to send the Executive to California to pick the site for the building at this Exposition. Was there extravagance? Did we find a great increase in our industries? No, we did not. We found that the Governor of Pennsylvania took a roundabout route with a few favoriates and spent the State's money by going through these United States and coming back through Canada, and we found that after that money was expended that there was a newspaper scandal grew out of the $50,000.00. Have we a reason to stop. Have we a reason to cut this appropriation from $450,000.00 to $200,000.00. Have we reason to complain of our Executive? Oh yes. The members of this House who went upon that expedition, the favorites who went upon that trip, were selected, not because of their location throughout the State, not because of the industries that their consitutents represent, but because of their loyalty to some of the measures last session that Executive wanted.

Now, Mr. Speaker, I for one do not intend to vote for four hundred and fifty thousand dollars for such extravagance. If the expenditure of fifty thousand dollars brings this scandal to the State, what is four hundred and fifty thousand dollars going to do? Mr. Speaker, when the gentleman from Delaware talks about the betterment that will come to this State, and the increase in the industries, that is all nonsense. We have had exhibitions after exhibitions, and expenditures of large sums of money, and have you men seen the great industries increase. Do you for one moment anticipate that the expenditure of this money is going to bring a dollar back to the State of Pennsylvania? Not a dollar. We are compelled to have our State building under the Act of Assembly of last session, and it is proper that we should, but it is also proper now to use the proper economy in doing so. The gentleman says that when he goes to San Francisco that he is not going as a sightseer. I suppose he is right. I suppose he is going there as one of the staff to be looked at.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Does that make the gentleman jealous?

Mr. J. R. K. SCOTT. No, Mr. Speaker, it does not. I was one of the favorites last session that had an offer to go, and declined it. Mr. Speaker, this appropriation can be culled to $200,000. What more money can we spend? What reason is there for a greater sum? There is to be erected a temporary building on this ground. This building is to be put in charge of certain employes, but surely, Mr. Speaker, two hundred thousand dollars is going to cover that. Two hundred thousand dollars—a fortune—is certainly sufficient for the purpose of having Pennsylvania represented at this exhibition. Do we want to appropriate a large sum of money and have a scandal brought to our State? Even with an appropriation of two hundred thousand dollars there is apt to be one. There never has been an appropriation of this nature that didn't carry with it an extravagant expenditure of money. That is an incident which must happen, but we as members of this House, while we are compelled to see that Pennsylvania is properly represented, still it is our duty to see that our constitutent's moneys are protected, and that our State is protected. Do not let us have a re-enacment of the past. Let us in this Legislature, where this Legislature at least has done its duty, where this House has stood out strong in contrast against the failure of the Executive of this State, and against the failure of the Senate of this Legislature, let us continue to hold to our proper course, and the way to continue is to vote down this measure, and allow the amendment that is offered by the gentleman from Allegheny to prevail, and with two hundred thousand dollars, and the Governor's Staff, with its tinsel on its shoulder, can fully represent Pennsylvania in San Francisco.

Mr. CHARLES A. SHAFFER. Mr. Speaker, and gentlemen of the House, I desire at this time to present to you a few figures. I am glad for the remarks that have been given by the gentleman from Delaware as well as the gentleman in opposition. I want to say this: That if you do not appropriate sufficient money for a building, if the amount that you appropriate shall be small, just that kind of a building will Pennsylvania build. You must remember one thing. This exposition is not a parallel in the time or length of time as the Chicago Exposition or St. Louis Exposition. This exposition commences in February, and runs up to December, ten months. You must also remember that this is at the extreme end of our country. The distance and the amount necessary in getting the exhibits from Pennsylvania to be put into your Pennsylvania building will be considerable more than it was at either of the other two expositions that have been made mention of here. For instance, take the State of Washington. Its Legislature has appropriated two hundred thousand dollars and has a population of 1,141,000 only. Compared in population, it is about the size of the County of Allegheny in this State. Take Nevada, with its 81,000 people. The Legislature of that State has given $100,000, or over a dollar for every citizen of the State. In population the State compares in size to the County of Lycoming. Take also the State of Idaho, with its 325,000 people, giving one hundred thousand dollars, and it is about the size of the County of Luzerne. Is Pennsylvania, with nearly eight millions of people, going to stop at this? I tell you gentlemen, we need a State building, in my judgment, that will represent fittingly the great State of Pennsylvania, second to none in this country. Go further, gentlemen, and look at the State of Wyoming, with a population of one hundred and forty-five thousand, which compares in size with a number of counties, Lancaster, Washington, Montgomery and Fayette Counties, all having about the same population as the State of Wyoming. In the State of Illinois there is pending at the present time an appropriation of five hundred thousand dollars, with sentiment very favorable to its passage Now, gentlemen, that State has a population of nearly two millions less than the State of Pennsylvania, and yet we are asking for fifty thousand dollars less. I believe that we should not step backward. The State of New York has already passed an appropriation of seven hundred thousand dollars, and the report is given out that an additional two hundred thousand dollars will be given. Now, gentlemen, where do you want to stand beside some of these other States? I hope and trust that this bill as it stands, for four hundred and fifty thousand dollars, will pass, and that you will vote down this amendment calling for two hundred thousand dollars. I, as a citizen, have patriotism enough in the State, in myself, to stand for giving the State of Pennsylvania the best building that there will be or can be at the exhibition. I stand in favor of all the charitable institutions, and I want that understood. Mr. Speaker. But you have the right to say whether Pennsylvania is to stand back of a number of the minor States or whether you will give the State of Pennsylvania one of the very best buildings that is erected or will be erected. I hope you will vote down this amendment.

Mr. McALEER. Mr. Speaker, I just wish to say a few words. This proposition is purely a business proposition. Either the State of Pennsylvania can afford to give this four hundred and fifty thousand dollars, or it cannot. If you do business in a pecayune way, you can expect pecayune results. All first class business houses make it their business to send out salesmen to properly advertise their goods. Some of them send their representatives to a small or cheap hotel in the places they visit. Other business houses send their representatives to the very best hotels, and there they meet the very best kind of business men in the town they visit. This is merely, as I said, a busines proposition, but for my part, I would like to see Pennsylvania appropriate this four hundred and fifty thousand dollars and spend every cent of it.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Columbia.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Columbia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CHARLES A. SHAFFER. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman what appropriation the State of California has made for its building at this exposition.

Mr. CHARLES A. SHAFFER. Mr. Speaker, I haven't the figures.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker I desire to ask the gentleman if he does not know that the bill which passed the Legislature in California, appropriating certain money for the building was not vetoed by the Governor?

Mr. CHARLES A. SHAFFER. Mr. Speaker, I do, but I understand that another appropriation bill is going to be introduced.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman what appropriation the State of Iowa has made.

Mr. CHARLES A. SHAFFER. Mr. Speaker, I have not the figures, but there is pending an appropriation of one hundred and seventy-five thousand dollars.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman if he does not know that in Iowa the appropriation bill was defeated in this legislative session.

Mr. CHARLES A. SHAFFER. Mr. Speaker, I have heard it reported as such.

Mr. ALLEN. Now, Mr. Speaker, it may be that the sentiment which causes them to make appropriations of this kind for advertisement, as suggested by the gentleman from Delaware and the other gentlemen, is up-to-date patriotism. That may be true, and it may be true that there is an underlying, smooth running system that carries more patriotism than this blare of trumpets and loud noise of cymbels published abroad. It may be that the man who thinks at home and of home, as suggested by the gentleman from Philadelphia, is the better plan of patriotism, and the plan that really appeals to men and women, more than the erection of great edifices, which at the end of ten months' service are to be destroyed and torn down and razed and disposed of. We have here a bill attempting to appropriated four hundred and fifty thousand dollars. Four hundred and fifty thousands of dollars, and certain gentlemen on the floor of the House talk as though it were a mere bagetelle—a mere nothing. Why, Mr. Speaker, a few evenings ago on the floor of this House, in designating certain appropriation measures, the attention of the House was called to the fact that the Board of Charities, after two years of study, honest and sincere work, no doubt, for further investigation of the institution we will make this distribution and here is our report. Mr. Speaker, let me ask, and ask through you the members of this House, whether or not the members of this House have felt satisfied with what the appropriation committee has recommended to this House or whatever the Board of Charities have recommended in regard to your institutions? I will ask you whether or not the Appropriation Committee which has the last say on the appropriations of revenues to this State, whether their action has come up to your expectation as based upon what the Board of Charities has recommended to this House. Why, Mr. Speaker, I could call attention to case after case, and the individual members of this House know of these cases which are close at home, and I want to read to you right in this connection from page 111, the Report of the Board of Charities. I will read from the bottom of that page in relation to a deaf and dumb institution. "This is one of five institutions of the State for the care of deaf and dumb. The recommendations are based on a per capita cost. All of these institutions were considered together and an effort made to reach a per capita that would apply to all. The different conditions rendered this impossible. Each recommendation stands on the particular facts connected with its management. This is lower than the others but it is deemed sufficient." The munificient sum of two hundred dollars per capita per year. The recommendation mark you, of fifty-six thousand, six hundred dollars which after it goes though the Appropriation Committee comes out with a recommendation in the form of a bil to this House which is passed at twenty thousand dollars. Think of twenty thousand dollars and a rejection if you please, of fifty-six thousand dollars. For what can it be that that fifty-six thousand dollars is to be taken from those that lack two of the senses with which manhood and womanhood is endowed, for their maintenance and education and preparation in coming life that would allow them to make an honest living. Is it possible that that fifty-six thousand dollars must be taken away so that a portion of it at least shall be available to be added to the erection of a building on the fair grounds of the far-off western coast of California to serve a few months at an expense of four hundred and fifty thousand dollars. That is your proposition: that is the proposition boiled down. That is the real kernel of the nut with the shell knocked off and the members of this House, like myself, have felt the same squeezing effect—the squeezing out of the lemon juice of your particular cases, just as I have felt it and they are doing it for these very reasons. Is four hundred and fifty thousand dollars necessary? Is four hundred and fifty thousand dollars all? It is referred to in the bill now before us that another bill at a preceding time has passed this House, and so it did. It met with the approval of the Governor on the fourteenth day of June, 1911. The bill which appropriated one hundred thousand dollars and which the Governor approved on the fourteenth day of June, 1911, in the sum of fifty thousand dollars, in which he stated, "I withhold my approval of the remainder of said appropriation because of insufficient State revenue." I might say, Mr. Speaker, that the further provision in this bill says that "all of the provisions under which the money shall be spent are set out in the precding bill," and for the edification of the members of this House I will just occupy a moment of your time to call your attention to the fact that this provision in relation to the expenditure is not in accordance with my idea of transacting the business.

I will read from the Joint Resolution from page 951, Laws of Pennsylvania, 1911, as follows:

> The sum of one hundred thousand dollars or so much thereof as may be necessary, be and the same is hereby specifically appropriated to defray the expenses of the said Commission, to be paid to the duly elected Treasurer thereof, upon its organization in such amounts as he may deem necessary."

That is approved by whom? By the Treasurer I presume and by the President of the Commission. Is that the way our State business is usually done? Is that the way a careful, business man would attend to his business matters? It has been suggested by the gentleman from Columbia that two hundred and fifty thousand dollars would be sufficient and heretofore less than this amount has been found sufficient and that if we will make it two hundred and fifty thousand dollars we will save that difference now. It has been suggested by the gentleman from Delaware that it is absolutely necessary to erect a great monument at this time from Pennsylvania for the purpose of the exhibit; for the purpose of those interests which will be represented at the fair and which we hope will ge a great exhibition and that it shall be something worthy in which to show the manufactured products of this great Commonwealth. There are members, no doubt, on the floor of this House at this time who, when the Chicago Exhibition was in operation and running, visited that exposition at that time and visited the Pennsylvania State Building. State building after state building was erected all over the grounds, and now I ask you and ask you fairly did you see your manufactured products exhibited in your state building? My recollection is that your manufacturing machinery was exhibited in Machinery Hall with all the other great iron and steel products that were on exhibition. Your State manufactured products, those manufactured in this Commonwealth, as well as those that were manufactured by other Commonwealths were on exhibition in Machinery Hall. And my recollection, also, is that they had an Horticultural Hall where all of the farmer's products and things of that sort were on exhibition. And my recollection is that they had a Miner's Building wherein all the products coming from the bowels of mother earth in their native states were on exhibition. My recollection is that they had various kinds of buildings scattered over these grounds for the very purpose of exhibiting those things for which the gentleman from Delaware would mislead this House into believing that this building is intended for. Why, what is the State Building for? What is the character of these buildings? They are from magnificent mansions down to humble cottages, just as the States are able to erect, and what are they for? They are used on these fair grounds for meeting places; for you and me to meet. You and I being from the great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, that is the place where we may register or where we may leave word for some one where they could find us, either elsewhere on the grounds or where we are stopping or at what hotel we have registered. It is just a little meeting place where a man from Nevada may meet his friend from Nevada or a man from Missouri may meet his friend from Missouri and they may register there and may leave word that they will see him at such and such a time or in such and such a place. The State Building is really an information station, a place for the gathering together of the lost children from all over the face of mother earth: a place just to hold a little home-like picnic like we used to have when we were boys and girls down in the country when we used to meet in places appointed for that purpose at the places for which they were intended, and nothing more. That is the only thing that we see there in these state buildings. Not the great manufactured products; not the mine products; not the farm products and no products of the States but what you find on the walls in the form of embellishment, of those arts which might come from boys and girls grammar schools or high schools. There might be something to beautify but not to exhibit; the exhibit is away over yonder in another building erected elsewhere. I desire, Mr. Speaker, simply to call attention to a few more things in relation to this matter. We have covered now the proposition in relation to the purpose of the building. We have the proposition in relation to what has been done heretofore and have discussed, after taking into consideration, the fact that one hundred and twelve thousand dollars was sufficient to cover the expenses of this great State in Chicago and when a hundred and seven thousand dollars was sufficient to cover the Exposition in St. Louis, we suggest that two hundred and fifty thousand dollars will be sufficient to cover the Fair in far away San Francisco, where there will be less people attending than attended Chicago and perhaps less than attended St. Louis. This Committee which has had charge of this matter has already had the use of fifty thousand dollars. I want to call attention to the first resolution creating this Commission which says that there shall be a commission of twenty members and the same is hereby created on the approval of the joint resolution. We find on page 230 of the Legislative Journal, that on February 10th, there were twenty members on the Commission, in addition to that there was the Chairman of the Commission and there was the Secretary to the Commission and there was the executive clerk and the treasurer. There were twenty-four in all. We find that there were twenty persons chosen as the number of the Commission, mark you, twenty, to attend the exercises of the dedication at San Francisco, California. Now, there must have been twenty and I presume there were some more, because when we come down to an examination, we find on page 231, under date of September 12th, the following in their report: Special car Philadelphia to Chicago and return twenty-five persons. Special car Philadelphia to Chicago and return, $817,50. Philadelphia to Chicago, extra fare fifty tickets, at $2.00. Chicago to San Francisco and return thirty-six tickets. That is a small matter; nothing only a mere bagatelle. I presume if the Legislature of 1911 had intended that a coterie of thirty-six should be carried that they would have said thirty-six, in passing the resolution

Just take the whole amount. I call attention to the fact that there were some items—for instance, while going from Chicago to St. Louis the item on the Commissary Department was only $1008.90. Now for thirty-six people, twenty-two days, that was pretty cheap. There were some items that perhaps some of us would not like. For instance, when we got up into British Columbia, there is an item of $11 for cigars, another one of $10 to D. D. Harry, cigars, and they must be $9.25 cigars in this country, to make an item of $155.25 for cigars, but that amount to little. It is the principle of the thing, Mr. Speaker, that I desire to call attenion to. When this resolution was passed, as stated by the gentleman from Philadelphia, it looks very much as though favoritism was made. I don't blame anybody for doing that, taking care of those who take care of you. However, we know that of six members of the House and Senate who were made members of this August commission of twenty, those who represented the legislative branches of this great Commonwealth on that junketing expedition, only one of them got back. Another thing to which I desire to call your attention just a moment, that after this expedition left San Francisco, having performed its mission there along about July 6th, as you see on page 231 of their report, you will find that they then migrated up to Portland, Oregon, for July 8, 9, 10 and 11. I do not know whether any of your minds are fresh on that line or not, but if my recollection serves me right, there was a Grand Lodge session being held in Portland Oregon on July 8, 9, 10 and 11 in the year 1911, and strange to say, this commission which was out there saving money and erecting monuments to the great State of Pennsylvania, went up there to Portland, Oregon, and stayed there four full days at some considerable expense and then came on around by British Columbia to get back home. Mr. Speaker, there is reason in all things. I have tried to avoid making this report of the Commission ridiculous. I have tried to do that. I have introduced this amendment for $200,000, which will place $250,000, and that amount only, in the hands of that Commission, because I believe just as the Chief Executive believed two years ago, and as some of you will find he will believe this year when he comes to attach his signature to your appropriation bills, for the institutions which are crying for aid, that the revenues of this State will not allow the expenditure of such a vast sum as $500,000 for this purpose, when those institutions are crying for help. That is why. I don't believe in taking off of the institutions which need this money $250,000 to erect a building on the grounds of the Pan-American Exposition to be held at San Francisco, which will only serve as a resting place for those who attend. I think it would be better to put the $250,000 to a more practical use, where those who are crying for help can reap the benefit. Mr. Speaker, this amendment ought to be adopted.

Mr. CHARLES A. SHAFFER. Mr. Speaker, the question before us now is upon the amendment. I shall just trace a little thought. If I understand the gentleman from Allegheny who preceded me, he stated the question that he did not know whether there were more upon this Commission than were reported. I say to the gentlemen of the House there was no one else except those given in the report upon this Commission. I hope that you will take this in view and believe the statement that I give you. There was not one of the members received any salary except the Secretary of the Commission, and further I want to say on the amendment which is before the House now, the question has been asked by some: "What becomes of the Pennsylvania building after the Exposition is over?" The building will be sold to the highest bidder and the money refunded to the State Treasury, and I hope and trust that the $450,000 that is asked for here will be supported for a creditable, respectable, big, large building for the Pan-American Exposition; and when you shall come to San Francisco you can come there and see for yourselves that it is one which deserves credit for our State.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Columbia, Mr. Charles A. Shaffer.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CHARLES A. SHAFFER. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Columbia state to this House, having already said that all the names appear upon this list, how it was that thirty-six tickets were necessary to transport twenty-seven people from Chicago to San Francisco. I defy the gentleman from Columbia or anybody else to take all of the names which appear in the first column and the second column on page 230 and count more than twenty-seven names.

Mr. CHARLES A. SHAFFER. Mr. Speaker, I will refer the gentleman to the Auditor General's Department.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I can appreciate how a person who has never had any experience or personal contact anything to do with the great industrial propositions of this State, could form a wrong conclusion as to the importance of this Exposition. I appreciate that what I know comes from contact and what little education I had in the public schools. I appreciate that an attorney, a gentleman whose life has been that of an attorney, does not appreciate the great industrial interests of our State. If the two gentlemen, the one from Philadelphia and the one from Allegheny County, who are attorneys, are an exception to the rule, they do not indicate it by their addresses to the House. In the first place, the gentleman from Allegheny goes off on a talk about matters which are not before the House at all and all of which the House is thoroughly acquainted with. Now, he tries to befog the proposition by telling you about the unfortunates of our State not being as well provided for as they might be. Well, we know one thing sure, that it is necessary to get the money from some place to do it; and we also know there is such a thing as being penny wise and pound foolish. Every member in the House knows that. Now, if there is a proposition presented to the great industries of the State of Pennsylvania to increase their markets,—and they are nearly all corporations that are in that class—does that not mean a larger amount of revenue to take care of the various interests and the unfortunates of the State that the gentleman from Allegheny speaks of? Now the gentleman from Philadelphia suggests that possibly —and even the gentleman from Allegheny sugests that possibly back of the actions of the gentleman from Delaware lies perhaps a trip to the Golden Gate. Let me say to the House that I have never asked the Governor of this State, I have never asked the Speaker of a House that I was a member to be appointed upon any committee or any commission. Now, I want to know of the two gentlemen that have been on the floor whether they can say as much.

Mr. ALLEN. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Now, Mr. Speaker, I want to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia if he has gone to the Speaker or the Governor of our State and asked for appointment on any commission during his Legislative career.

Mr. J. R. K. SCOTT. I am sure, Mr. Speaker, the last few months, I have no direct recollection.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. That answer confirms my belief.

Mr. J. R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I might say in reply to the interrogation of the gentleman that the Governor of Pennsylvania did me the honor of informing me that I might be on the commission of last session and I declined.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I want to know whether the gentleman from Allegheny has even gone either to the Speaker of the House during his legislative career, or the Governor of the State, or anybody, to get appointed to any commission.

Mr. ALLEN. Never last session nor this, and I never will.

M. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, did he in the interim?

Mr. ALLEN. Nor did I in the interim between the sessions. I might answer the gentleman further, neither have I had any of my friends beseech either the present Speaker or the gentleman who preceded him in the Chair, nor the Governor, to perform that function for me.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I want to say to the House that it is very strange that both should insinuate that the gentleman from Delaware had such a thought in his mind. Had they not made such insinuations, I would not have asked the questions. Therefore, if their answers are entirely satisfactory to the House they are entirely satisfactory to me, but their charge that such motives are back of my actions are not satisfactory to me, and I say to the House—

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I made no such reference to the gentleman, and the record will so show.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Well, Mr. Speaker, I will admit that the gentleman did not apply his declaration personally, but having taken the position that I had, I could not help but feel that it must have been intended for the gentleman from Delaware by the gentleman from Allegheny, and the gentleman from Philadelphia. The gentleman from Philadelphia has suggested that he presumed the gentleman from Delaware hoped to wear some of the tinsel at the Exposition. I can assure them that I have not asked to be appointed on any commission. But to come back to the real question, the world's best industrial brains will be at the World's Exposition in San Francisco in 1915, and from the show that Pennsylvania makes they will carry back to their respective homes their impression of the State of Pennsylvania. Now, there is not a man in the House who does not agree with me on this point. I suppose every member of you has been to a world's exposition, and I know that every one of you will agree with me that your impression of the States which you are personally acquainted with by traveling through them, were formed by the greatness of the exhibition made at the world's expositions in St. Louis and in Chicago. And I can understand very well why the two attorneys cannot appreciate what this means to the industries of the State of Pennsylvania, because they have never been in contact with this great big proposition. They have been arguing matters and disputes between neighbors over their back fences, and they have not broadened out and grasped these greater propositions. They do not understand those great industrial propositions, and I say it earnestly to you, I say it earnestly, and I say it hoping that it will have some effect. I do believe that every business man in this House, every man who understands these business propositions, every man who understands the importance of presenting to the bars of the world's markets the fact that he makes the best in the world, knows that it is a question of paramount issue to the citizens of the great State of Pennsylvania and the industries of the great State of Pennsylvania.

There is not a man sits in a seat in this House—I do not believe there is one here that believes $200,000.00 will make Pennsylvania appear in the eyes of the world what she really is in the galaxy of forty-eight States. I do not believe it is possible. If that be true—I have no interest gentlemen, except the interests of the great State of Pennsylvania, that is all I am pleading for. I am pleading that we will take the first place in the world's exposition and it cannot be done with $200,000.00, and in my judgment there will be States that will beat us with $450,000.00. Just think of the importance. Think of the importance, the vital importance of the figures that the gentleman from Columbia has given you and to think of the almost foolishness of the question asked by the gentleman from Allegheny when he asked "What does California propose to give for this exposition? Why, California has no manufacturing interests to speak of. When you compare that with the State of Pennsylvania, they have no great interests to advertise out in the State of California. About the only thing they can advertise is their minerals and some of their agricultural propositions in that great Western States. But the State of Pennsylvania stands first in the great manufacturing interests of all the forty-eight States in the Union. There is no State in the Union that a proper presentation of Pennsylvania interests to this great market of the world —for that is what it will be—that is of more vital importance to our people than the question of showing our great interests at the exposition. I cannot say any more. I cannot impress you further than I have, but it is for the interests of the State and no man should hesitate to vote for $450,000.00 and vote down this amendment because if you feel as the gentleman from Philadelphia has said, that there are certain dependents in this State that should be better taken care of, let us spend a pound and not be penny wise. Let us advertise our great interests so that more revenue can come into the State and we can then in the future care for our dependents in the State. I hope the House will vote down the amendment and I hope the $450,000.00 appropriation will pass.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Replying to the gentleman from Delaware with reference to the industries of Pennsylvania, I think the gentleman from Allegheny has answered that fully. The assertion that I and the gentlemen from Allegheny are two struggling lawyers who have no knowledge of the manufacturing industries takes me back in memory to the district of the gentleman from Chadd's Ford. The only bill that I know that he has introduced at this session to protect the interests of the industries of this neighborhood is the bill to protect fox hunting. I do not believe there is any other industries in Chadd's Ford other than fox hunting and snipe shooting.

Mr. ULERICH. Mr. Speaker, I think the gentlemen of this House have all been convinced in one way or another on this question and therefore I move the previous question.

The SPEAKER. Perhaps no other gentlemen care to speak on the subject now and we can dispense with that action.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. S. B. SCOTT and Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT.

The roll call was proceeded with.

Mr. BERGEY. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. BERGEY. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Columbia has personal interests in the bill. Therefore he is not entitled to vote on it.

The SPEAKER. What personal interests does the gentleman have in the bill?

Mr. BERGEY. Mr. Speaker, he is a member of the Commission.

The Speaker. That is not a personal and private interest and the point of order is not well taken.

This roll will be verified.

So the question was determined in the negative and the amendment not agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. MATT. Mr. Speaker, I desire now to offer my amendment that I offered a short time ago.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. SPEISER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. SPEISER. Mr. Speaker, my point of order is that as the gentleman from Bedford withdrew his amendment, therefore, the offer at this time is not in order.

Mr. McALEER. Mr. Speaker, I think that the Speaker will recall that the amendment was put in the shape of a substitute.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Bedford offered an amendment and the gentleman from Allegheny offered a substitute amendment. The gentleman from Bedford withdrew his amendment and the question was upon the substitute offered by the gentleman from Allegheny.

Mr. SPEISER. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Bedford, in withdrawing his amendment, stated that he accepted the substitute offered by the gentleman from Allegheny.

Mr. J. R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, if that be so, we would simply be in the position of voting on the amendment. The gentleman simply withdrew his amendment and is now reinstating it.

The SPEAKER. The Chair is of the opinion that the point of order raised by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Speiser, should not be sustained. The amendment offered by the gentleman from Bedford, Mr. Matt, will now be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk then read the amendment as follows:

Amend section 1, line 4, by striking out "four hundred and fifty thousand dollars ($450,000)" and inserting in lieu thereof "three hundred thousand dollars ($300,000)."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I am not going to annoy the House with a speech, but I really think that the House ought to adhere to the original position on this bill, because I think that the State of Pennsylvania should have the proper representation there. It ought to appropriate sufficient money to make a proper exhibition of the things that Pennsylvania can do, and we cannot do that with three hundred thousand dollars. I hope that the House will oppose this amendment.

On the question, recurring

Will the House agree to the amendment?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. S. B. SCOTT and Mr. MATT.

The SPEAKER. This roll will be verified. This was done as follows:

So the question was determined in the affirmative and the amendment was agreed to.

REASONS FOR VOT..

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I vote "no" on the proposed amendment fixing the amount at $300,000 because I believe said amount too great and I intend voting against that bill whether the amount be $450,000 or $300,000, believing as I do that said amount should not be a greater sum than $200,000 for the purposes carried in the original resolution approved June 24th, 1911.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. MATT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer further amendment.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendment.

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend House Bill No. 1383, file folio No. 9781, section 1, strike out all of section after the word "same" on line 15 and insert in lieu thereof the following: "The money hereby appropriated shall be paid out of any moneys in the State Treasury not otherwise appropriated to be expended on vouchers duly certified to the Auditor General by the President of the Commission."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section as amended?

It was agreed to.

The title was read and agreed to as follows:

An Act making an appropriation for the purpose of further carrying out the provisions of a joint resolution approved the fourteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred and eleven entitled "A Joint Resolution to provide for the participation of the State of Pennsylvania in the Panama-Pacific International Exposition to be held in San Francisco California in nineteen hundred and fifteen to celebrate the completion and opening of the Panama Canal and the four hundredth anniversary of the discovery of the Pacific Ocean and providing for the appointment of a commission and making an appropriation to defray the expenses of the same."

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to as amended,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

SENATE MESSAGES.

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows:

House Bill No. 399.

An Act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for injuries received by an employee in the course of employment establishing an elective schedule of compensation and regulating procedure for the determination of liability and compensation thereunder with information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend section two, line one, strike out the word "be" and insert "constitutute."

Strike out section three, lines one to sixty-nine inclusive and insert in lieu thereof the following:

Section 2 This act shall take effect and be in full force and operation on and after January first one thousand nine hundred and fourteen

On the question,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee on Conference?

Mr. PIPER. Mr. Speaker, sometime ago this bill came to the House of Representatives and the House amended the bill by changing two words in the title. It went back to the Senate and the Senate non-concurred in the amendments of the House and asked for a Conference Committee. The Speaker appointed Mr. Steele, Mr. James J. Campbell and myself, from the House and the Senate appointed Mr. Vare, Mr. McNichol and Mr. Crow. After having a conference we found that they did not have any objections to the amendments of the House and all that they asked was for an additional section being added to the bill, which would be section two and which would read as follows at the end of the bill:

"This act shall take effect and be in full force and operation on and after January 1st, one thousand nineh undred and fourteen."

I was in touch with a number of laboring men interested in the building trades throughout the State and they felt inclined to believe that this would be satisfactory with this amendment. The result is the report that you have before you from your Conference Committee of the Senate and the House of Representatives and I would ask that the members of the House vote favorably on this bill.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the report of the Conference Committee?

House Bill No. 1431.

An Act to amend an act entitled "An Act requiring the prothonotary of the several courts of common pleas in this Commonwealth to keep separate dockets in certain cases" approved the twenty-second day of May one thousand eight hundred and seventy-eight by authorizing the courts of common pleas to cause to be entered in the separate docket additional subjects and authorizing the common pleas court by its order to direct the prothonotary to enter all the subjects herein provided for in one index which after such order shall be kept in lieu of the separate ejectment and other indexes now provided by law and providing that such indexes shall be notice

With information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk then read the amendments as follows:

Amend the title by inserting as line 2, the following "The several courts of common pleas in this Commonwealth to."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, the only trouble with this bill was a printer's error. When in making up the title of the line, the line that is inserted as line two, was dropped from its place to the bottom of the bill, and this is merely putting it back where it belongs.

The question recurring,

Will the House agree in the amendments made by the Senate?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT asked and received unanimous consent to call up from page 14 of today's calendar, House Bill No. 955, bills on final passage postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of H. R. bill No. 955, entitled:

An Act authorizing cities of the first class to make contracts for removal of garbage for a period not exceeding five years providing for annual appropriations for payments for successive years prescribing the extent to which such contracts shall be included in statements and estimates of current liabilities and current income in tax levies and in determining the legality of warrants on the city treasurer and repealing inconsistent acts

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, this bill is what is known as the five year garbage contract bill, and applies to the City of Philadelphia alone. The members of the House have received from the Director of Public Works a pamphlet such as this (indicating) bound in the colors of the City of Philadelphia. Now, this pamphlet, gentlemen, supplies the whole argument as to the benefit of this bill. As the law now is, garbage contracts are granted for a period of one year. The maintenance and the construction of a plant for the purpose of reducing the garbage to its various ingredients requires the outlay of some five hundred thousand dollars. It has been said that this contract would do away with competition.

The Mayor of Philadelphia who has requested me to offer this bill writes a letter himself, which he desires to have read, to the members of the House to the effect that this bill, if it becomes a law, in a period of five years will save to the city of Philadelphia more than a million dollars. The Garbage contract originally cost the city five hundred thousand dollars, in round numbers $510,000.00 yearly for the gathering of garbage. It has been reduced down to the present time to $228,000.00. It is the theory of this present administration that now governs the city of Philadelphia that if the privilege of giving out the contract for a period of five years is permitted that they will be able to reduce the cost of gathering the garbage to even a smaller figure than $228,000.00. There has been given to me by the Director of Public Works some data that I will bring to the attention of the House and following is the statement:

"From 1908 to 1911 Philadelphia paid $500,000 a year for the collection and disposal of its garbage. 1912, under the Blankenburg administration this was cut to $278,000, and for 1913 a further cut to $229,000 was made.

There are two plants that regularly bid for this work. Neither of these plants, however, are sufficiently up-to-date to reduce the garbage in such a way as to get the full value out of it. It is only fair to say that on one year's contract they are probably not warranted in going to the additional expense to equip their plants as efficiently as they might be equipped but the five year contract would afford the owners of these plants a sufficiently strong reason to make such additions to their present plants as would enable them to get more out of the material.

The by-products of garbage are grease and what is known as tankage, a basis for fertilizer. The grease obtained from garbage reduction is the main source of the glycerine supply.

The expense of collecting and operating the works is considerably less than the possible value of the by-products if the garbage is properly worked. For this reason we have every reason to believe that on a five year contract we will receive a bid of considerably less than $100,000 a year. If it should be say $50,000 a year we would save $900,000; if it should be $25,000 a year we would save over $1,000,000 under the first contract.

On the average affected it would be possible to build miles of branch sewers to connect up thousands of homes now using surface drainage to alleviate the disgraceful condition at Blockley, brought about by the crowding of the inmates; and to provide playgrounds so urgently demanded in the various congested districts of the city.

There are only two ways of handling the garbage collection and disposal economically; either through a long term contract or municipal ownership. If the present bill is not passed by the legislature, we will move immediately for the building of a municipally owner plant. We have been very fortunate in getting bids of the kind we have under existing conditions and the Department does not care to take the responsibility of continuing the present unbusinesslike system."

These same thoughts have been expressed in the various papers of Philadelphia, in the editorial columns, and you will find on the back of this or inside of this circular, (indicating circular "Vote for the Philadelphia Garbage Bill") various editorials of the various Philadelphia city papers. This is a matter that belongs to Philadelphia. Some of us who come from Philadelphia urge you men to allow the city of Philadelphia to have this means of granting a five year contract for the purpose of collecting the garbage. When this bill was originally offered it included the various municipal contracts but that was found to be objectionable from different sources, in the city administration; therefore it is now reduced to garbage alone and this bill covers only garbage and only the city of Philadelphia.

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to take issue with the gentleman from Philadelphia, with regard to this being a measure in the interest of economy from the standpoint of the city of Philadelphia. I also desire to correct the impression which may have been made upon the minds of the members of the House that this is the only methods of reducing the price for the disposal of garbage. This reduced contract has not only been brought about by the present reform administration in Philadelphia. In the closing years of the Reyburn administration in Philadelphia the contract was submitted for $510,000. Mr. Mackey, then the Director of Public Works under Mayor Reyburn, re-advertised for bids and the bid was $330,000 a saving of two hundred and some thousand dollars. The contract price for the removal of garbage is now $228,000 and it is going to be less each year because now-a-days in the disposal and in the reduction of garbage the contractor through utilization of machinery and in the discovery of means of reducing garbage is enabled to get the valuable by-products that have been going to waste and I dare say that in a year or two under the new processes for reducing and utilizing by products, in the collection of garbage will reduce the price to the city of Philadelphia to almost nothing. I also desire to say that if a five year contract is a good thing for the removal of garbage by contract for a term of five years, why is it that the city does not insist on five year contracts for other branches of the city government. When this bill was first introduced on February 24th, it provided in its title for cities of the first class to make five year contracts for the lighting and telephone service and the removal of garbage and the removal of ashes and all street cleaning and I want to say why would not all these things have been a good thing if it is good for the garbage end of it. There has never been a monopoly in the removal of garbage in Philadelphia. There are three companies now that are competing with one another for the purpose of removing the garbage; one is the Penn Reduction Company the other the American Product Company and the other the General Reduction Company. Under the present arrangement you have already reduced the cost of removing the garbage from 510, 000.00 to $228,000.00 and I want the members of the House to know that it is not in the interest of economy to pass this bill and I will ask the members of this House to vote this bill down.

Mr. S. B. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, it seems to me that the gentleman in his remarks has made an argument in favor of the bill. It is true, of course, that by improved machinery and improved methods the cost of the collecting of garbage and of the reduction of garbage can be reduced but it is on account of the short time which contracts are let now that nobody tries to purchase new and improved and expensive machinery which they could do if there was a five year contract. It seems to me very strange that a gentleman who is not an expert in this matter should assume to know more than our Director of Public Works, who is especially equipped in the science of economy. I hope you will take the word of our Director of Public Works on this bill who asserts that it will work out a large economy. I don't agree with the gentleman that the experiment of a municipal plant is one which is sure to work out. My experience with a municipal plant in the past has not been satisfactory, especially in the old gas works. I think the question hardly needs arguing. This bill is in the interest of economy and it means a large saving for the city of Philadelphia and I believe Philadelphia needs the money. I hope the members of the House will take that view of it and vote in favor of the bill.

Mr. WALNUT. Mr. Speaker, I have listened with great care to the statement of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Roney, concerning the reduction in the cost of the garbage contract. He refers to the fact that the cost of the garbage contract has been reduced from $510,000 to $228,000 in one year. I might state that the reduction was accomplished in a period of some three weeks. I doubt very much whether it was altogether due owing to any change of machinery unless it was the change of machinery of the political party or the administration. That machinery which resulted in a higher degree of economy in the awarding of this contract. There is not a newspaper in Philadelphia, no matter what its party affiliations, that does not endorse the bill and it is endorsed by the citizenship of Philadelphia, generally, and I hope you will not permit yourselves to be made an instrument for the defeat of this bill.

Mr. ARON. Mr. Speaker, I voted against this bill the first time and I am going to vote against this bill the second time. I would like to explain my reasons to the members of the House. There are now, as the gentleman from Philadelphia stated, three firms that compete for the contract of collecting the garbage and if the five year contract is permitted to be entered into with any one of these firms it means that there are two firms, that, on account of the great amount of capital invested if the contract is given for five years, the capital that will be invested for machinery will be so great that they cannot afford to let it remain idle for a period of five years so that they cannot make use of that capital or that machinery for this period and you will have this one firm only that is engaged in this business in the City of Philadelphia. I believe that if there is only one firm that that firm that holds the contract will be able to make its own terms and its own conditions and its own prices and that if it has been unprofitable at first they will be able, in the course of five years, to make the contract good and they will be able to make up for the loss in five years hence. The administration says that they can save a million dollars in the next five years, if permitted to enter this contract.

I refute those statements, because I think it is impossible for the reform administration to say we can save money, because they do not know what the bids will be next year. They do not know what the bids will be the next two, three or four years hence. It has been argued upon the floor that the garbage collection should be turned into a source of revenue for the City of Philadelphia instead of being a source of expense, and if that be true we cannot see how the reform administration can save a dollar, because they do not know what the expense will be in the next five years. The next proposition I have is the objection that any municipality should be given the privilege of entering into long term contracts because I believe it is not fair. I believe it is not right for one Mayor to enter into contracts for so long a time as to overlap his administration so that when his successor takes office he does not take office as a free executive, able to keep his pledges with the people and to execute his duties as he sees fit, but he takes that office fettered and tied by contracts made by a prior administration, probably discredited. I say that this bill is before the House agitated by a puny little contractor for whom we in Philadelphia have little respect, and he only wants to grind his axes, wants to grind his prejudices, and wants to use this body of men as a means to an end. I hope that the House will vote down this measure.

Mr. McALEER. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Philadelphia who has just taken his seat during all his remarks has talked principally along political lines about the various types of administration in Philadelphia. He said a few words that might be considered of a business nature. He called your attention to the fact that a few contractors who are quite wealthy will have to sell some horses and some harness and some carts if we pass this bill. Now, I do not want to talk much and tire you. I want to say to the House I have no patience with the contractor or with any other man who needs to pass an act in the Legislature or kill an act in the Legislature in order to help him make a living. I will leave that in your minds.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken.

Mr. J. R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I call for a verification of the roll.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. CONNIFF. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 935, file folio 5475, entitled:

> An Act providing for the purchase by the Commonwealth of certain lands owned by the A. Cook Sons Company at and near Cooksburg in the Counties of Forest Clarion and Jefferson Pennsylvania for a public park and forest reserve providing an appropriation for said purchase and providing for the appointment of a commission to take charge of said property and defining the powers and authority of said commission and the uses to which the property shall be put was defeated on final passage on May 26th, be reconsidered.

Mr. STINE. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Luzerne, Mr. Conniff.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Luzerne permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CONNIFF. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman from Luzerne whether or not it is his purpose, in asking that this vote should be reconsidered, to put the bill upon final passage immediately or refer it back to committee for proper amendment?

Mr. CONNIFF. Mr. Speaker, the purpose of the motion is in order that it may be committed to the committee and be amended there so as perhaps to meet the objections of those opposed to the bill in its present shape.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, while I am opposed to this bill as I now understand it, the motion is for the purpose of sending this bill back to the committee for the purpose of amendment and I do not intend to strenuously oppose this motion.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass?

Mr. BROSIUS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. FORSTER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. McALLISTER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be committed to the Committee on Forestry.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I hope that the Chairman of the Forestry Committee, to which this bill is now referred, will not allow this bill to be reported out of committee without giving those who are opposed to this bill due notice of the meeting and time of hearing in order that there may be a full discussion on it. One of the troubles with this bill is that we do not understand what the bill provides for. We could not get the information from the Appropriation Committee and could not get the full information on the floor of the House. Now that it is referred back to the Committee on Forestry, I hope the Chairman of that committee will give us the opportunity to be heard.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, as Chairman of the Committee on Forestry, I assure the gentleman from Philadelphia that he will have ample notice of the public hearing when the time is fixed.

SENATE MESSAGES.

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows, viz:

House Bill No. 1434.

An Act to validate certain sales public and private and certain mortgages of real estate of decedents heretofore made under authority of orphans' courts upon petition of executors or administrators for payment of debts or for any other lawful purpose

With information that the Senate has passed the same with amendment, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up from page 14 of to-day's calendar, House Bill No. 26, bills on final passage postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of H. R. bill No. 26, entitled:

An Act providing for the licensing and bonding of persons firms and corporations engaged in selling agricultural products on commission providing for action on such bonds and fixing penalties for violation of this act

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, in asking for the passage of this bill, I have but one purpose in mind, and that is to protect the wealth producers of our State, the people engaged in agricultural pursuits, as against the irresponsible persons, many of them without one dollar of capital. who engage in the business of handling agricultural products on a commission, and by attractive offers gain possession of the property of others.

A few days since the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Bayle, very forcibly said that while the coal, the oil, the iron, the timber, the gas and other of Pennsylvania's natural products are daily growing less. The agricultural interests are here for all time to come, growing stronger and becoming a greater necessity to man as years come and go. The various business interests in our State, be they individual or crporate, are entitled to protection and must not be legislated out of existence, this thought was uppermost in the mind of the sponsor in drafting this measure, which I believe to be along fair lines.

It is not intended that this act shall interfere with the produce dealer whose purchases are made outright, but is intended to regulate only the business done on a commission and which in my opinion should be as much under the supervision of the State as are the banking institutions and insurance companies. By an act of this session the cold storage plants are now required to take out a State license and are subject to supervision and inspection by State officials. Through the suggested public service law it is now intended to place the steam and electric roads, the telephone and telegraph companies and all other public service corporations under State supervision. Why, I ask you, should the commission merchant whose business is to handle the property of others be exempt from the same supervision?

Recently Governor Sulzer signed a bill of this kind, only more drastic in its provisions. Certainly Pennsylvania should keep pace with New York in legislation of this character. As you all know, a man appointed to a fiduciary capacity as a trustee, executor or administrator of an estate or in any other capacity by which he is to take title and handle the property of others, is required to give a bond for the faithful performance of his trust in properly accounting for the property so placed in his hands. A person doing a commission business, which is to handle the property of others, should likewise be required to give a bond to correctly account for the property entrusted to him. This suggested law will in no way injure the legitimate dealer but on the contrary will in my opinion be a protection to him as well as to the shipper. The Grange and other agricultural organizations have endorsed this measure, and ask for its enactment into law.

Mr. MOSES. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Tioga.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Tioga permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WILLIAMS. I will.

Mr. MOSES. Mr. Williams, will you kindly explain the primary object of the bill.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I think I stated that in my remarks. It is to protect the shippers and the growers.

Mr. MOSES. The primary object of this bill is claimed to be in the interests of or to protect the shipper. Mr. Speaker, I claim that it will work a hardship on the shipper. He will be the man that will suffer. The farmers of this State will lose thousands of dollars, gentlemen, if you vote for this bill. I know what I am talking about for I have been a shipper and a receiver for twenty years. Gentlemen, this bill as it now stands would make you believe that all commission men are robbers. It doesn't say anything about the farmers of the State putting the small apples in the bottom of the barrel, or the farmer who will ship things in hot weather when they will roast, or in cold weather, when they will freeze. I know from personal experience that it will work a hardship on the farmer. There is not a commission man in the State of Pennsylvania that desires to sell on commission and there is not one in the State who would not rather pay for his goods, pay for what they are worth, and take their chances. The shipper and the farmer sell to the commission man the goods that they can't sell anywhere else. They will ship that stuff to the commission man and keep for themselves what they can sell.

You will drive every man out of business. There is not one man in the town of Johnstown who will take out a license with this drastic measure. You are going to pass a bill that will do more harm than good. If you want to help the farmer, vote down this bill; if you want to drive the farmer out of business, vote for it.

Mr. STEIN. Mr. Speaker, I want to apologize to the House for disturbing their quiet and slumber at this late hour, but I want to call their attention to the vicious provisions of this bill under consideration. We have before us a bill regulating all produce dealers and all dealers in grain, hay and feed, etc. Now at the very outstart you will observe that this is a farmer's bill and is founded upon the farmer's belief that all men in the city are corrupt and, of course, that the only honest people in the world live on the farm. That may be or may not be true, to a limited extent, but in behalf of the feed dealers of the City of Pittsburgh and some in Philadelphia with whom I have some acquaintance, the enactment of this bill would absolutely destroy one of the largest businesses in the State and under section four of this bill, it has provided that every shipment of grain or produce must be settled for within forty-eight hours after receiving. As we all know, in every city there are any number of men—you take for instance the dealers of hay and grain or feed, they cannot make a settlement in any instance within two or three weeks, because grain and hay must be in lots of actual quantity and when one carload is received, a man must in many cases ship it on to another point and in many cases three or four weeks elapse before the actual weight can be determined, and if settlement must be made within forty-eight hours, what does he know what the weight of his car is. That is what will destroy a large line of commerce in our State. Besides, I believe we have enough regulation and government by commission in this State already. If we enact this bill, it would mean about six dozen additional jobs for some fellows with a high title and big pay with very little to do. The average man in business in the city as well as on the farm is entirely honest and if left by himself, he will ordinarily be able to regulate his business and will find means to adopt what he desires to do and just the same as in politics, they must adopt an honest policy. I ask in all fairness to all that this bill be voted down.

Mr. PEACHEY. Mr. Speaker, I wish to take issue with my friend from Allegheny, because I believe that this is a good bill. I believe that it is good legislation; I believe that it is good legislation from the fact that we need it. I am not here to ascribe any more honesty to the square inch to the farmer than I am to any other man, but I believe that his honesty will compare favorably with the legal profession, if not with others. With reference to this bill, we have no protection to a farmer as for a number of years he has been devoting all his attention to the growing of crops and the teaching of how to grow them until he has obtained proficiency along that line and he has been neglecting his business and let the other fellow do the selling of it and for that reason he has been largely the loser and because of that farmers to-day are leaving one side of their business unprotected. They are going to take care of an end that has been losing their money, by this legislation, because all those good merchants that handle that kind of products may handle it without any financial responsibility whatever and when you want them, you cannot find them and you are hunting all over the city for them and they are not there. Why, they are just like the Arabs, "they move their tents and steal away." Not only that they steal away under cover of the night because their deeds are evil and for that reason I say we need something of this kind for the protection of the farmer. If he do business with an attorney and that attorney does not deal reasonably straight with us, the other attorneys turn him down. If we do business with a broker and that broker does not deal reasonably decently with us, does not deal honestly, the other brokers turn him down. Can you find one instance where the commission merchants have turned down any commission dealer that does not deal honestly with the man with whom they do business? Another thing, when we consider the farmer's business to-day and when we think of the consumer's conditions, we know that the farmer gets forty-six per cent. of the consumer's dollar. We know that the man that distributes products sells them and gets thirty-eight per cent. We know also that there is twelve per cent. of waste along that line and the transportation company gets four per cent. I used to be one of those fellows that charged the transportation company with all that, but I found out that it is the commission merchant. For that reason, I won't sell any of my production to a commission man. You take the seller of those goods and we could strike one instance after another where they have dealt unfairly with the farmers—with the man that ships the goods. I wish to give you just one illustration. I wish to say this: Last year watermelons were fifty-two fifty per car loaded in Texas or at southern points, ten hundred and fifty melons were put on a car. They sold for $262.50, $367.50, $420.00 to consumers. On April 8th, 1913, cabbage was selling in Chicago at $40.00 a ton, rotting in fields in Texas as the result; could not realize the cost of handling. Bermuda onions by carload sold for less than enough to pay transportation and commission. I do not charge them all with being robbers, but I do charge them with one thing and that is they hog the persimmon. When you talk about the honesty of men, I ask you how many in this House could continue to be honest if you and I would leave our entire business all in the hands of the other fellow. When I go out to buy cattle, I go out to buy cows, I buy some cattle from a man. I don't ask him the price, I say, "there is my check book, you write out the check and I will sign it without making any deal about it." If I sign in the same manner with these commission men, I consent to send produce and do not put the price upon it and the other fellow makes the price and I say to him that is all right and I sign it. That is what we have been doing and we have been robbed. I was at one time shipping in a small way to commission men, but I quit it from the fact that I knew I was a loser and when I know once that the other fellow robs me—when I know that and find it out that he doesn't give me what belongs to me, why I quit. What did I do in this case? Why, I did just what the farmer to-day is beginning to learn; that is, getting closer to the consumer than ever before and that is what they are doing and that it what I did when I found out what they were doing to me. With reference to the New York bill, and the New York bill is a whole lot more drastic one than we are trying to pass here. The commission men there in New York to-day are clubbing together and they say we will refuse to buy the goods. They say we will refuse to take the goods and we will find out that when the commission men say that, when the farmers are recognizing it and when the agriculturalists proceed to organize against them, then comes a tug of war and you will find out who is the bigger man. That is what we are doing; that is what was advocated in Chicago when the farmers, about four hundred and fifty-two people from about thirty-eight or thirty-nine States and even from Canada and Mexico, came together and discussed this question. This bill is just as much in the interest of the consumer as it is in the interest of the producer, from the fact that it is going to bring them closer together. It is going to destroy that practice of waste. It is using up a whole lot of farm products that rot in the market and rot on the hands of the commission merchant. I say it is good legislation, and while it may not be perfect and we don't say that it is, but I say it will work to the benefit of the farmer and it will bring the producer and the farmer closer together than ever before and that it what we want to do.

Mr. BERGEY. Mr. Speaker, I represent one of the richest farm districts in Pennsylvania and I am going to say that I don't believe that the farmers are interested in this bill. The bill is not drawn up to benefit the farmer. These farmers will be forced to take out a license of ten dollars and this will not benefit the farmer one bit. For this reason, that the commission men in the large cities will not accept produce on which there is a question of working without co-operation. I contend that if you pass this bill, it will not benefit the farmer but prove an injury instead.

Mr. SEMMENS. Mr. Speaker, some of us have consumed considerable of the time of this House in a vain effort to repeal the mercantile act. Now you are going to tax those very men affected by the mercantile act and place an additional tax on them for selling their product. It seems to me that it is a bill that will hurt the farmer and hurt the grain man and will be in the interests of the bonding companies. Every man that sells these goods has to furnish a bond of $2,500. There are many men in this business in a small way who hardly sell $2,500 worth of goods in a year. I am opposed to this bill for that reason.

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—1.

Leslie,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative and the amendments concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

APPOINTMENT OF COMMITTEE TO ATTEND THE FUNERAL OF HON. EDWARD H. FAHEY.

Mr. J. R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I move that the Speaker appoint a committee, consisting of the members and officers of this House, to attend in a body the funeral of the Honorable Edward H. Fahey, on Wednesday, the fourth day of June, 1913, and that when this House adjourns today it adjourns to meet Wednesday night at eight o'clock.

Mr. WILTBANK. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. J. R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, this motion to adjourn, of course, will not take effect so that we cannot have a night session tonight. The Chief Clerk has made arrangements for a special train to Philadelphia in the morning and coming back tomorrow night in order that we may have a session to pass the second reading bills. We are coming very close towards our adjournment and the loss of a day would possibly throw us back three or four days; therefore the request for a meeting on Wednesday night.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

The SPEAKER. The Chair, of course, appoints the Committee accordingly, consisting of all the members of the House and the officers thereof. Those who desire to go will kindly notify the Chief Clerk as early as possible, not later than when the House reconvenes at 8 o'clock this evening, so as to give him an idea of how many to arrange for and he will then be able to arrange with the Railroad Company for a special train, which will leave this city at 6 o'clock tomorrow morning and return in time for the session tomorrow evening.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, might I say to the members of the House that it is fitting that every member and officer should go down to attend this funeral. Dr. Fahey is the oldest member of the Philadelphia delegation in point of continuous service. He is almost the oldest member in point of continuous service in the House. With the exception of one session in which he was defeated, he I believe would have been the oldest member, even older than the gentleman from Elk, Mr. Flynn. Dr. Fahey was popular among the members of the House, popular among his political associates, popular among his Philadelphia companions. He lived in Philadelphia, having no relatives there, coming there as a stranger from neighboring state, and it would be but fitting that all of us who possibly can go down and attend his funeral.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would sincerely second the suggestion made by the Gentleman form Philadelphia, Mr. John R. K. Scott.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. STEIN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following motion:

The SPEAKER. The motion will be read by the Clerk.

The motion was read by the Clerk as follows:

Moved by Mr. Stein, seconded by Mr. Neely, that the vote by which House Bill No. 1693, file folio 8901, entitled: An Act prohibiting corporations co-partnerships or companies conducting a cemetery from excluding persons duly authorized by lot holders in said cemeteries to enter said cemeteries to do gardening work and decorations on lots therein and providing a penalty for violation of said act by officers managers agents or employees of said corporations co-partnerships or companies was defeated on final passage on May 26th be reconsidered.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass?

Mr. STEIN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. NEELY. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. STEIN. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend section 1, line 4, after the word "Act" insert "in all Counties of this Commonwealth having a population of 1,500,000 and over"

Amend title, line 2, after the word "cemetery" insert "in all cemeteries of this Commonwealth having a population of 1,500,000 and over

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to insert the amendments as read? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

The bill as amended was then agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

SENATE MESSAGES.

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced returned bill from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows, viz:

House Bill No. 70.

A joint resolution proposing an amendment to section seven article three of the Constitution of Pennsylvania so as to permit special legislation regulating labor

With information that the Senate has passed the same with amendment in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Section 1, line 84, strike out the word "or" and insert the word "by."

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendment made by the Senate?

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, I may state that this is not an amendment. We all know that you cannot amend a joint resolution to amend the Constitution. By mistake the word "or" was inserted in the Senate. It was amended back to its original form as it left the House and it is now in the same condition as it passed the House in 1911, and I ask the House to concur in the amendment.

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in the amenddment

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

COMMUNICATIONS FROM GOVERNOR.

The Private Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented the following communications in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, which was read as follows, viz:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL NO. 1105.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, May 29, 1913.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:—I return herewith, without my approval, ouse Bill No. 1105, entitled:

"An Act to amend the first section and the second sec-n of an act entitled 'An Act constituting County Com-
ioners County Controller and County Treasurer in any county now or hereafter containing not less than seven hundred fifty thousand nor more than one million two hundred thousand inhabitants a board having the power to appoint depositories of County founds defining the powers of said board and specifying their duties describing how the said depositories shall be selected and repealing certain acts and parts of acts of Assembly inconsistent herewith' approved the first day of April Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and nine by authorizing trust companies to be selected as depositories and by authorizing the County Commissioners to accept bonds or stocks belonging to such depositories as collateral security for deposits and also providing for the filling of vacancies arising in any manner in the number of said depositories."

Section 2 of this bill provides for deposits "as soon as bonds or stocks of such depository or depositories approved by the County Commissioners shall be delivered to the controller as collateral security for the safe keeping of such deposit or deposits."

If this provision is intended to mean stocks and bonds of the depository itself, it is objectionable because banks, banking institutions and trust companies have no bonds and are prohibited by law from hypothecating their own capital stock. On the other hand, depositories of this character should not be permitted to give as collateral security any kind of stocks which they might induce the County Commissioners to approve. Such collateral security should be limited to high grade bonds.

For these reasons the bill is not approved.

(Signed,) JOHN K. TENER.

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, the communication will lie upon the table. The Chair hears none and it is so ordered.

VETO ON HOUSE BILL NO. 1581.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, May 29, 1913.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:—I return herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 1581, entitled:

"An Act relating to bail or surety bond furnished on appeals from courts of record in certain cases."

This bill is evidently intended to avoid the effect of the decision of the Supreme Court in the case of Commonwealth v. Lenhart, et al., 233 Pa., 526, holding that a stipulation in a bail bond to prosecute an appeal with effect, means to prosecute with success, and that the surety on such bond, given in order to make the appeal a supersedeas, is liable for the payment of a fine imposed against the principal as a part of his sentence, when the appellate court affirms the sentence of the trial court.

It is now proposed by this bill to provide that no appeal bond or surety bond given in any case under the direction of an appellate court for the purpose of taking an appeal, or making an appeal a supersedeas, shall be conditioned or construed to provide for the payment by the surety therein of the fine imposed by the sentence of the trial court. This proposed legislation would be unwise, when applied to cases in which the sentence consists only of the imposition of a fine. Under the existing provisions of law, the appellate courts have full discretion in prescribing the terms upon which an appeal shall operate as a supersedeas, and, in my judgment, it is advisable to leave the conditions of the bonds referred to in this bill to the discretion of the appellate courts.

For these reasons the bill is not approved.

(Signed,) JOHN K. TENER.

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, the communication will lie upon the table. The Chair hears none and it is so ordered.

VETO ON HOUSE BILL NO. 1244.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, May 29, 1913.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:—I return herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 1244, entitled:

"An Act to amend the first third and sixth sections of an act entitled 'An Act providing for the determination by the Court of Common Pleas of the proper county of all disputes as to the reasonableness of the amount of license fees between municipal corporations and telegraph telephone or light or power companies' approved April seventeen one thousand nine hundred and five extending the provisions thereof to street pasenger railway companies motor traction companies gas companies and water companies."

In view of the fact that the Legislature in all probability will create a Public Utilities Commission, and the necessity for the imposition of license fees can be investigated by it, I am not convinced that the right of municipalities to impose license fees should be extended as provided by this act.

The act not only extends the right to impose license fees to street passenger railway companies and motor traction companies which use the streets in the same manner as telegraph, telephone and light and power companies, but also gives the right to impose license fees on gas and water companies which use the streets in a different manner .

For these reasons the bill is not approved.

(Signed,) JOHN K. TENER.

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, the communication will lie upon the table. The Chair hears none and it is so ordered.

VETO ON HOUSE BILL NO. 1357.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, May 29, 1913.
To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:—I return herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 1357, entitled:

"An Act concerning building regulation and inspection in townships of the first class and providing that the provisions thereof shall be inoperative in any such township when a certain percentage of the property owners shall dissent from the action of the commissioners taken under the provisions of this act."

This bill provides that the provisions thereof shall be inoperative in any township of the first class, when the owners of fifty-one per centum in value of the property in said township shall express in writing to the board of township commissioners their dissent from the provisions of certain ordinances enacted by the boards of township commissioners.

Therefore, it might put within the power of a few non-resident large owners of unimproved property the right to overrule the wishes of a large majority of the resident voters of such township.

For this reason the bill is not approved.

(Signed,) JOHN K. TENER.

Mr. AMBLER. Mr. Speaker, on last Wednesday I offered a resolution recalling this bill from the Governor. It passed this House and I merely call your attention to the fact to find out what the status is.

The SPEAKER. Apparently the Senate had adjourned before the resolution reached it. The resolution not being concurred in by the Senate, would not go to the Governor until after the expiration of the time required to act upon the bill.

Mr. AMBLER. Mr. Speaker, I move then to lay the veto upon the table.

The SPEAKER. Is there any objection? The Chair hears none and it is so ordered.

MOTION TO PLACE BILL ON CALENDAR.

Mr. MARTIN. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 1671, entitled:

An act prohibiting the giving furnishing or issuing of free passes or free ticket other than to officers and employees of the company and providing a penalty be placed upon the calendar, notwithstanding the negative report of the Committee on Electric Railways.

Mr. LENKER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. MARTIN. Mr. Speaker, I want to say to the House they can vote as they please upon this bill, but I want to say it has a very peculiar history. It was introduced by me the 27th of March and was acted upon the 27th of May; was carried away from here for a week or so longer before it was reported negatively. I simply ask that you place this bill on the calendar, and if the House sees fit to oppose it, that is their privilege. It is a good bill. I have been asked, Mr. Speaker, what the bill is about. The bill prohibits the giving of free passes by traction companies to any except officials and employees. I permitted the bill to be amended in committee so as to include cases where poor children would be taken on excursions; they could be taken free. I want to say that the sub-committee reported favorably, but it was afterward reported negatively by the committee. That is the history of the bill.

Mr. CURRY. Mr. Speaker, the bill was not amended in committee. The gentleman did not agree to any amendment.

The bill was presented to the regular committee and referred to a sub-committee, who after deliberation reported back to the regular Committee and they decided to report it negatively without any amendment agreed upon at all, and the gentleman to whom it was given to return to the House was called away and when he did not get back he mailed it to another member of the House so that it would be put before the House in regular form. The gentleman is mistaken when he says any amendments were agreed to.

Mr. MARTIN. Mr. Speaker, if I am allowed to explain in regard to that matter, I want to say that I spoke to one of the members of the Committee and said I would allow that amendment to go in, concerning poor children being allowed to ride free for an outing. That was an objection of the Committee and I agreed to that going in and if it has not been amendded I will be very glad to amend it to that effect before the House.

On the quetsion recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Twenty-nine members or less than the number required by the rule having voted in the affirmative the motion was not agreed to.

BILL PLACED ON CALENDAR.

Mr. KUHNS. Mr. Speaker, I offer the following motion:

The motion will be read by the Clerk.

The motion was read by the Clerk as follows:

It is moved by Ellsworth G. M. Kuhns, of Lehigh and seconded by O. W. Benninger of Northampton that Senate Bill No. 1259, file folio 3493 be placed on the calendar notwithstanding the negative recommendation of the commands on Agriculture

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. KUHNS. Mr. Speaker, this is a Senate bill that passed the Senate with only two votes against it. This is a bill to prevent the tuberculine test by those officers appointed by the municipalities, the boroughs or the townships and provides that all tuberculine tests be made by the Department and none other. Now we all know that the tuberculine test up to this time has failed many times and if we allow the practice of the same by too many, why of course we have too many mistakes and on that account I ask that this bill be placed on the calendar notwithstanding the negative recommendation.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Sixty-one gentlemen or more than the number required by the rule having voted in the affirmative the motion was agreed to and the bill placed upon the calendar.

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, the remarks of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. J. R. K. Scott on the bill providing for the purchase of the Cook tract of land as printed in the Legislative Journal page 3426 conveyed the impression that the Commission appointed by the Governor to examine and report on the propriety of purchasing the tract as a State Park and forest reserve recommended its purchase and in this respect his printed remarks are misleading. In making their report the Commission endeavored to make it as full and complete as possible that the Executive and the Legislature might be as fully advised as the members of the Commission regarding the property, and they feel the report is of such a nature. Nowhere do they recommend its purchase other than to say in the closing paragraph that in their judgment it has a commercial value that would warrant its purchase at $600,000. Leaving the matter the advisability of purchasing the same entirely to the Legislature. The readers of the Journal having read the criticism made by the gentleman from Philadelphia of the Commissions report when the bill was under consideration I ask in fairness to the members of the Commission of which I was a member that pages 1, 2, 3 and 4 of their report be printed in the Legislative Journal.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I consulted with the gentleman from Tioga with reference to that portion of the record and in regard to the part he desires to place on the record and I think what he says is quite true. My remarks would imply that I stated that the commission recommended, as he says, and I so feel from the report and I think it is fair that the general report be placed upon the record. I, therefore, am in favor of it.

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection the matter will be placed on the record.

REPORT OF A. W. COOK TRACT OF LAND COMMISSION.

To His Excellency, The Governor of Pennsylvania:

Sir: The undersigned, a Commission consisting of three members, appointed the thirty-first day of July, in the year of our Lord One Thousand Nine Hundred and Eleven, by the Governor of Pennsylvania, pursuant to an act of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, approved the 14th day of June, A. D., 1911, P. L. 912, which act is as follows:

"Section 1. Be it enacted, etc., That the Governor is hereby directed to appoint a commission, to consist of three persons, whose duty it shall be to make a personal investigation and examination of a certain tract of land in the counties of Jefferson, Clarion and Forest, now owned by A. W. Cook and others. Such examination and investigation shall be for the purpose of determining the propriety of the purchase of said tract by the Commonwealth as a State Park and forest reserve. Said commission shall consist, so far as practicable, of persons experienced in forestry, and shall serve without compensation other than their traveling expenses actually and necessarily incurred in the performance of their duties. After the commission shall have made a complete and thorough examination of said tract it shall report thereon, in writing, to the Governor, giving a description of said tract; and stating whether, in its judgment, said tract should be purchased by the Commonwealth, and the fair value of same. It shall make such other recommendations as it may deem proper, or as the Governor may require.

Section 2 For the purpose of carrying out the intent of this act the sum of three hundred dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby specifically appropriated. All payments shall be made on warrants of the Auditor General, on vouchers of the commission prescribed by said Auditor General," would respectfully report:

That by virtue of their appointment, and in the performance of the duties of the same, in November, 1911, all of the members of said Commission went in person upon the tract of land in question, for the purpose of investigating and examining the same. That they found said tract located along the north bank of the Clarion River, mainly in the counties of Clarion and Forest, a small portion of the same being on the south bank of the Clarion River in the county of Jefferson. That said tract extends along the north bank of said Clarion River, approximately seven miles, and northwardly from said river approximately six miles, and contains approximately seventy-two hundred acres. That said tract is covered mainly by a fine growth of virgin hemlock, white pine, oak and chestnut timber, there being also a considerable amount of other hardwood, such as beech, birch and maple, as well as some second growth pine. That all of the timber is in a thrifty and flourishing condition. That said land is owned, so far as we have been able to ascertain, by A. W. Cook Sons Company, a corporation with its principal office at Cooksburg, in Forest county, Pennsylvania. For the purpose of ascertaining approximately the commercial value of the timber, as it now stands upon said land, we employed Robert McEwen, W. E. Henderson and F. H. Henderson, three experienced timber estimators, to go upon said tract of land and make a careful estimate of the stumpage of each variety of timber growing thereon, and report the result of their work to us. Their report, marked "Exhibit A" is hereto attached and made a part of this report.

According to the report of these estimators, and we regard their estimate as a very conservative one, there is now growing upon said tract of land forty-one million feet of merchantable timber and ten thousand cords of bark, which is worth in our judgment, as it stands to-day, not less than $583,000.00. The variety and amount of each variety of merchantable timber, and the value thereof, as shown by the report of said estimators is as follows:

25,000,000 ft. Hemlock at $12.00	$300,000 00
8,000,000 ft. White Pine at $16.00, ...	128,000 00
1,000,000 ft. Pine, 2d growth 12 inches and over at stump, at $16.00, ...	16,000 00
6,000,000 ft. Oak and Chestnut at $8.00, ...	48,000 00
1,000,000 ft. other hardwoods, mainly beech, birch and maple, at $5.00, ...	5,000 00
Total value of 41,000,000 feet, ...	$497,000 00
10,000 cords Hemlock Bark at $5.00, ...	50,000 00
7,200 acres of land at $5.00 an acre, ...	36,000 00
Total, ...	$583,000 00

The owners of said land have furnished us with a map, showing the location and boundaries of the same, which said map is hereto attached and made part of this report, marked "Exhibit B," together with other information concerning said tract. They have also furnished us with a book of photographic views taken at different points, showing the scenic beauty of said tract, which is marked "Exhibit C," and also attached hereto and made part of this report. The owners of said land have submitted to us a proposition to sell the same to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for the sum of eight hundred thousand dollars ($800,000.00), reserving the gas from five gas wells, now on the land, and gas from such wells as may be drilled or drilling before the acceptance of this proposal, together with the right to maintain said wells, and lay and maintain such pipe lines from the same as may be necessary to convey the gas to places of consumption or sale, and also, reserving the right to remove all personal property from the land, the right to reserve the farm products for the year 1913, the right to use the sawmill on the land during the spring of the year 1913 to manufacture from five hundred thousand to one million feet of timber, and the right to lay and maintain a water line from the spring at the head of Henry's Run, on the three acres lying north of Cooksburg, not included in the proposal of sale. The said owners make also a second proposition to sell and convey to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, the above mentioned property, reserving all coal, oil, gas, and other minerals, for the sum of six hundred thousand dollars ($600,000.00); reserving, also, the right to remove all personal property, farm products for 1913, and the use of the sawmill, as above specified, and also the right to lay and maintain water pipes, as above set forth, which proposal of sale is also attached thereto and marked "Exhiibt D," and made a part of this report. The following named tracts of land within the boundaries of the land in question, are not included in the proposal of sale, above mentioned: Heirs of David Heffron, containing two hundred and fifty acres, more or less; S. H. Cook, containing fifty acres, more or less; Sebastion Cook, containing fifty acres, more or less; Samuel Eshelman, containing ten acres, more or less; and the tract surrounding the spring, containing three acres, more or less—all of which are shown by the map, above referred to and hereto attached. There are also within the boundaries of the tract of land proposed to be sold, six farms, containing in all about three hundred and fifty acres of land, a description of each, with the acreage and improvements, buildings, etc., of each, is more fully set forth in the proposal of sale, above referred to, and hereto attached and marked "Exhibit E," as by reference being had to which will more fully and at large appear. There is also located upon said tract of land a sawmill, valued by the owners at about twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000.00). and a hotel at Cooksburg, fronting on the Clarion River. It is claimed by the owners that the natural gas is found in paying quantities under practically the entire tract. There are now producing gas wells upon said tract. A description of the natural gas, as well as of the sawmill and hotel, above referred to, are attached to the proposition of sale, above mentioned, and marked "Exhibit F," as by reference being had thereto, will more fully and at large appear. There is also attached to said proposal an estimate of the stumpage of the timber upon said tract, by the owners thereof, which very materially exceeds in quantity the estimate of the estimators employed by us, above referred to, as by reference being had thereto, will more fully and at large appear.

After a thorough examination of said tract of land, and the timber growing on the same, we consider our estimate of its commercial value, as above set forth, to be a very conservative one. We are further of the unanimous opinion that no finer body of virgin growth timber, more beautifully situated and so easily accessable, exists in our Commonwealth; that it is well suited for a State Park and forest reserve, the soil being so well adapted to the growth of trees indigenous to Pennsylvania that by replanting as they mature the growth of timber could be made perpetual, and that the property has a value that would warrant its purchase by the State at the price named by the owners in their second proposition of $600,000.00.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

C. W. SONES,
T. M. KURTZ,
GEO. W. WILLIAMS,
Commissioners.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass?

Mr. MILLER. Mr. Speaker, this bill was introduced some weeks ago at a time when Employer's Liability bill in the upper house was dubious. As the bill was originally introduced it was verbatim of the first section of the Employer's Liability law but as it has been amended since on the calendar, it has been reduced to include only two defenses namely, the assumption of risk and the negligence law. We started out first of all with the proposition that there is no defense of contributary negligence which bars recovery. Secondly, there is the admission of responsibility which makes the practice of omission of some one in his shoes and thirdly, we have the rule that the burden including negligence rests upon the plaintiff and the burden of the proving of contributary negligence rests upon the defendant. That is the normal rule but when it came to apply these several principles of negligence to the relation of the employer and the employee, there grew these two falacious principles of assumption of risk and the fellow servant doctrine.

There came a time when economic conditions were as different from those of today as day is from night. The assmption of risk has been carried to the extent that the servant or employee is said to assume even the risk of the negligence of his employer, and the doctrine of fellow-servant has been carried to that extent that men thousands of miles distant from each other, if employed by the same employer in the same line of work are held to be fellow-servants and are barred from recovering against their employer. The doctrine of assumption of risk has been modified slightly. When there is a statutory duty imposed upon the employer, in that case the courts of Pennsylvania have said that when the master or employer has failed to observe that statutory duty, that then, in that case, the servant is not said to assume the risk. If not in that case, why in any case? The doctrine of fellow servants has been attempted to be modified by the Act of 1907, the Casey Act, but under the Casey Act we had those vicious decisions like the exception relating to the mine laws, the rule which permits the owners of the mines to escape liability by showing that they had selected mine bosses from a class of licensed State employees; and in that case the mine owner is practically relieved from all danger of recovery on the part of his employees. I do not wish to speak at length on this subject. You know the extent to which the law of negligence has been carried in Pennsylvania. This bill was introduced several weeks ago with a purpose, and it was this: To await the outcome of the employers liablity act. If that law had been written upon the statute books as it was introduced in this House, there would have been no necessity for this bill, but we have been convinced by what has happened in the upper House within the last few days; by what has transpired this morning; that there is no hope can be expected through this employers liability law. To write the law on the books in its present shape is an insult to the intelligence of men in Pennsylvania and an insult to the men who have been looking to this Legislature for relief. This bill is not drastic. It does not remove the defence of contributory negligence. We still remember that the plaintiff has upon himself the burden of proving that the employer has been negligent, and the employer may interpose the shield of contributory negligence to bar recovery. All that this bill does is to remove the two defences existing under the present law, namely the assumption of risk and the fellow servant doctrine. I ask you to pass the bill and to pass it on to the Senate, so that if there is no relief granted by the employers' liability act, this bill will be attempted to be written on the statute books of Pennsylvania.

On the question recurring,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, this is known as the practice act. It applies only to the courts of common pleas and is designed to simplify and expedite trials of causes by jury. There have been no substantial changes in the practice in trials by jury since the Act of 1887. This abolishes dilatory pleas and puts the case at issue upon the filing of the statement of guilt and the affidavit of defence by the defendant, and takes as submitted all matters which are not denied in the affidavit of defense. The effect of the passage of this act would be to expedite the trial of cases by jury and I ask the House to support it.

Mr. ROCKWWELL. Mr. Speaker, I do not like to oppose the bill offered by the gentleman from Philadelphia, but I have taken a great deal of pains in trying to ascertain the sentiment as far as I could among the practicing attorneys of my acquaintance as to their feelings towards this bill, with an honest desire to find out how it would work out in actual practice. I have sent copies to a number of different attorneys, the judge in my district, and I have failed to find a single one of them that approved of all the provisions of this bill. Some of them are very good and if it could be eliminated, part of it, to meet those objections, I would favor it, but from the expressions which I have had from the different practicing attorneys of this State, it seems to me that it would be unwise to pass this bill. I would like to hear the expressions of some of the other attorneys of this House along this line to get their feelings on the bill, before we vote on it.

Mr. J. R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, this bill was before the Judiciary Special Committee. The Committee heard those who advocated the bill and those who opposed the bill. The merit of the bill seems to be, as has been expressed by the gentleman from Philadelphia, the sponsor of the bill, in eliminating a great many of the technical laws of pleading and particularly this bill removes one of the very great evils that those who have tried cases before juries find to exist under the present plea of not guilty in civil suits. That is to say, where an action has been brought against a corporate company and there is a mistake in the corporate title, often meritorious cases have fallen because the proper defendant has not been sued in the proper corporate name although in substance the proper defendant had been sued. For instance, as has happened many many times at the Philadelphia bar: The Pennsylvania Railroad Company has been sued for an accident that would happen on the Pennsylvania line that runs from Camden to Atlantic City. The ticket that is bought at the wharf bears the name of the Pennsylvania Railroad, but as a matter of truth the corporation that carries the passengers to Atlantic City is known as the Atlantic City Railroad, and though the Stock is controlled by the Pennsylvania Railroad the suit brought against the Pennsylvania Railroad falls because of failure to have sued the proper defendant so far as the corporate name is concerned. Now this bill provides for this: That in the answer that the defendant files, if he does not file an answer denying the title and correcting the plaintiff, he can not then set forth that defense later on and the plaintiff cannot be deprived of his rights upon that technicality. In other words, it puts the man who brings a suit for losing his leg exactly upon the same basis as the man who brings a suit to recover his grocery bill. The bill meets a great evil and all the attorneys that were on the Committee that heard both those for and those against the bill, agreed unanimously that this bill provided a great remedy for a great deficiency and therefore, Mr. Speaker, this is a meritorious bill and should have the support of all of us in the House.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Section 3 All acts or parts of acts whether general special or local inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass?

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call the attention of the House to the necessity of this bill. In 1905, the Legislature passed and the Governor approved an act which was No. 32 and which provides that any counties in this Commonwealth containing a population of not less than three hundred thousand or more than one million, as shown by the last preceding state census, all assessments on the valuations of property, whether real or personal, taxable for state or county purposes shall be made by a board, consisting of three persons to be designated for the board for the assessment and revision of taxes and providing in that act how these members should be appointed. By the 1910 census, which was not yet made and filed as is required for all acts wherein the population cuts a figure and is important, the census was not filed during the session of 1911 either and this is the first time that the Legislature has met since the census was completed and became an official publication. By the census of 1910 the county of Allegheny has passed from the million class into more than the million class and as the result of that passing out of its class, there is no law on the statute books of this Commonwealth to-day for the appointment, the election or the selection of a board of tax revision. This bill has been prepared with an eye single to the purpose of filling the space beyond which the present statute reaches; to wit, beyond the one million mark and provides that in the election—the next municipal election, there should be three members elected to that board: One for six years, one for four years and one for two years and thereafter, one member for six years. Now, the purpose of changing from the old law—mark you there is no ripper legislation here—but the reason they are changing from appointment to election is simply this and the members of this House well know that the matter of appointment is not one which appeals to the courts which have to appoint. Our courts don't seek that authority; they don't want appointments of various responsible offices placed in their hands. The members of this House know that. On the other hand, the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to-day are demanding that the officials who are to serve them shall be elected by them rather than be appointed by any court. It makes no difference who that court may be and hence this opportunity which is an opportunity to make a law that will give us a board of tax revision which is certainly necessary to-day, as it was before, in Allegheny county when it passed out of the province of the present law. The same rule applies; it is necessary to-day and will be to-morrow and will be until the next session of the Legislature and perhaps for all time to come or at least so long as our tax laws of value stand as they do at this time. I appreciate the fact that this particular measure has met with some opposition. Why, I don't know; but I do know that there is no member who has interested himself as against this who can look this House in the eye and say to this House that there is any law on the statute books to-day which authorized a board of tax revision for the county of Allegheny, further than that and that is the sole purpose of this measure. The bill goes outside and simply provides how these shall from this time on be selected. The bill provides that all other parts of the act of 1905 in relation to the duties of this court, whatever their duties are, are applicable to this board which is simply elected instead of appointed. This condition faces us, should this bill fail of final passage, and I don't anticipate that it will but should it fail of final passage, then this condition faces us and there will then be appointed to-morrow in the county of Allegheny a board which has no authority under the law to act. It means simply that if some tax payer of the county of Allegheny goes into the courts of that county and raises the question on how that board holds office or why, and any member of it should seek to draw his salary, the question will be hung up and must by the courts, be determined against that board, because of the fact that under the provisions of the act of 1905, Allegheny County officially, on the filing of the decennial census, passed beyond the million mark. Mr. Speaker, I ask every member of this House to cast his vote in favor of this bill so that this present system may be continued.

Less than the majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative the question was determined in the negative and the bill falls.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 954, entitled:

An Act to amend an act entitled "An Act regulating the sale of milk and its fluid derivatives in cities of the first class providing for the licensing of those engaged in that business and providing penalties for the violation thereof" approved the twenty-seventh day of April Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and nine so as to provide for an annual license fee each calendar year prescribing the fee therefor and providing for the numbering recording and posting of such licenses and the application for new annual licenses

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I move that further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. CONNER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2044 (Senate Bill No. 150), entitled:

An Act relating to policies of fire insurance and the adjustment of loss by fire under such policies

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. SPEISER. Mr. Speaker, this bill provides that whenever an insured, holding a fire insurance policy, should suffer loss he shall have the right, if the company and he cannot agree what the amount of loss is, to appoint an arbitrator. The company shall have a similar right, and the court shall appoint an umpire and the award made by such three persons shall be final and binding. It is a good measure and should be voted unanimously by the House.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I very much disagree with my friend from Philadelphia. In the first place, I do not think it is a good bill at all. In the second place I think it is clearly unconstitutional because it indirectly takes from the parties insured the right of trial by jury, and without enlarging upon it, that alone ought to defeat the bill. Article 5, Section 27, of the Constitution clearly says that we shall have the right of trial by jury except when entered into by mutual agreement to settle suits otherwise. Why this bill reads like this:

The compensation of the umpire shall be fixed by the court and such compensation together with the costs attending such petition shall be paid by the owner and insurer share and share alike It shall be unlawful for any insurance company to issue any policy of fire insurance in this Commonwealth unless such company at the time of issuing such policy shall agree with the owner of the property insuered to adjust the loss if any under such policy in accordance with the provisions of this act" which is by arbitration.

Now the insurance policies of the standard fire insurnnce companies in Pennsylvania, provide already for the umpire, provided both parties are satisfied. This umpire proposition of settling fire losses is already provided for in our standard policies if any person desires to take advantage of it. If they are not then satisfied with the decision of the umpire, they can then appeal to court; but under the provisions of this bill you cannot appeal to the court because it is a crime for the company to issue any policy which does not comply with the provisions of this bill and you are denied the right of trial by jury. In my judgment this is very unwise because I think we should still have the right of trial by jury where there is a difference of opinion. This provision was carefully drafted into our constitution and I think we want to retain it.

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. SPEISER. Mr. Speaker, my modesty will not permit me to reply as to the constitutionality of this act at this time.

I therefore move that the further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. COX. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I am entirely satisfied to have the bill postponed, provided the gentleman will give the House ample notice of his intention to again take it up.

Mr. SPEISER. Mr. Speaker, after considering the constitutional question it may be that I will agree with my friend from Delaware.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER declared the nays appeared to have it.

Whereupon a division was called for, and 61 voting in the affirmative and 43 in the negative, the motion was agreed to.

The Chair would like to state to the House in connection with the session to-morrow night, that it is important to have as full an attendance as possible, so that the appropriation as well as other third reading bills may be acted upon after the second reading calendar has been disposed of.

APPOINTMENT OF CONFERENCE COMMITTEE ON SENATE BILL NO. 942.

On Senate Bill No. 942 the Chair appoints as a Committee of Conference, Messrs. Miller, Newbaker and Cochrane.

The Chair would like to suggest to members of the House who are apointed on Conference Committees upon House bills, that the gentleman first appointed, acting for the time being as Chairman of the Committee, should go to the Transcribing Room and procure the bill and should also call a meeting of the Committee, notifying his colleagues as well as the members of the Conference Committee on the part of the Senate. Where the Conference Committe is appointed on House bills, the Committee appointed on the part of the House should at once take the initiative in having a meeting called and it is needless for me to say to you that it is very desirable for all these Conference Committees to get to work as quickly as possible on these Conference Reports so as to avoid a congestion during the closing days.

Session 1913 120th of the General Assembly

VOL. 2. HARRISBURG, PA., WEDNESDAY, JUNE 4, 1913. No. 77.

SENATE.

WEDNESDAY, June 4, 1913.

The Senate met at 10 o'clock A. M.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor John M. Reynolds) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. A. C. James offered the following prayer:

"Blessed is the man that walketh not in the counsel of the ungodly; nor standeth in the way of sinners; nor sitteth in the seat of the scournful, but his delight is in the law of the Lord and in His law does he meditate day and night. He shall be like a tree that is planted by the rivers of waters that bringeth forth its fruit in his season. His leaves also shall not wither and whatsoever he doeth shall prosper." Help us, O Lord, this day to measure our lives by this word, even Thy word. May Thy word that Thou hast given to us be the standard of our conduct and the measure of our opportunities. Lead us in the way we should go. Grant unto us strength to realize the best Thou hast given us. We ask this in our Redeemer's name. Amen.

The PRESIDENT—A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. BUCKMAN, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

COMMUNICATION FAVORING STATE PENSION BILL.

The Chair laid before the Senate communication which was read as follows and referred to the Committee on Appropriations:

Headquarters Gibson Post No. 384 G. A. R. Department of Pennsylvania at a special meeting held this 25th day of May 1913 passed the following resolution, that the Adjutant of the Post, John G. Ashbaugh be instructed to write to the Hon. John M. Reynolds, President of the State Senate and ask him to have the State Pension Bill that has passed the House of Representatives and now lies in the Senate brought forward and voted on and give to the old soldiers the relief they so much need. The National government gives us a small pension but the high cost of living and rent and other things soon make it disappear. We need the State Pension to help us have a decent living in our old days. We have no objection to the Appropriation of fifty million dollars for the road improvements if we get what we should have, but we are certainly against it if we are turned down. We are keeping our eye on the gun.

By order of Post 384 G. A. R.

JOHN G. ASHBAUGH,
Adjutant, Post 384 G. A. R., Derry, Pa.

CONSIDERATION OF HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 32.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of House Resolution No. 32.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The resolution was twice read as follows:

Providing for the appointment of a joint committee of the House of Representatives and the Senate to investigate the workings of the civil service laws in the cites of the first class

Resolved, (If the Senate concur) That the Speaker of the House of Representatives shall appoint for members and the President pro tempore of the Senate shall appoint three Senators who shall constitute a joint committee whose duty it shall be to investigate the workings of the civil service law, or laws in the cities of the first class

Said committee shall have power to elect its own chairman to employ legal counsel and such other officers and employees as may be needed to enable it to properly perform its duties as aforesaid, but its expenditures shall be limited to the amount of one thousand dollars, which shall be appropriated in the general apropriation bill.

Said committee shall also have power to issue subpoenas signed by its chairman requiring the attendance of persons and the production of books and papers as in its judgment and shall report to this General Assembly, one thousand nine and shall report to this General Assembly, one thousand nine hundred fifteen with recommendations as to the necessity of improving, extending, or repealing of the said civil service law, or laws, in the cities of the first class.

On the question,

Will the Senate concur in the same?

Mr. McILHENNY. Mr. President, there seems to be no necessity for having a Lexow Committee appointed to investigate the civil service commission of Philadelphia. If they are making any mistakes it is only because they are enforcing the law. There is absolutely no favoritism in the Civil Service Commission. They are merely demanding that there should be the same efficiency in th city government as there is in the government of a private corporation. If anything should be investigated in the State of Pennsylvania it should be the Departments which are not under civil service and I hope that this resolution will not pass.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, there is no disposition to allege that there is anything wrong in the efficiency of the civil service commission of Philadelphia. It is merely, as I understand it to ascertain in the examination for these positions under the civil service provisions whether these questions are of a sane and substantial nature. As I understand the purpose and the reason for the introduction of this resolution came about from the fact that for the common ordinary laborer positions that the men were subject to an inspection by absolutely taking and stripping themselves to the waist and having their muscles and heart action and things of that kind examined. Now if we can ascertain some condition as that going on, that should be corrected, and I do not think that will attack the integrity of that commission. I am familiar with some of the gentlemen on that Civil Service Commission and I would be the last man to question their integrity especially of the Hon. Frank M. Ritter, with whom I have been acquainted for over thirty years and I think that he would welcome anything that could be gathered by this investigation and it is not the desire upon my part to question the integrity of any of these people.

Mr. McILHENNY. Mr. President, the civil service commission as it is now constituted in Philadelphia consists of three members, one of who is Mr. Ritter, Director of Public Safety under a Republican Mayor, another is Mr. Peter Bolger, known to everybody here as the political representative of the Philadelphia Record, a man of the very highest character and if these men are guilty of any fault it is that they are enforcing the civil service law. There can be no objection in having a Lexow commission like this unless they are breaking the law, and if they are breaking the law, any man in the City of Philadelphia can get the evidence of what the examinations are, because they are public, and he has his redress the courts of the City of Philadelphia. If this resolution is passed, this commission to investigate the civil service commission could be nothing except a club to hold over their heads, and I think it is the very worst form of legislation that could be passed in Harrisburg.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate concur in the resolution?

The resolution was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

EXECUTIVE SESSION.

By unanimous consent,

A motion was made by Mr. McILHENNY,

That Rule 38, which requires nominations made by the Governor to lie on the table one day, be dispensed with, and the Senate do now resolve itself into Executive Session, for the purpose of acting upon all the nominations reported at to-day's session.

Which was agreed to.

Whereupon,

A motion was made by Mr. McILHENNY,

That the Senate do advise and consent to the nominations reported.

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McILHENNY. Mr. President, although I am in favor of a state wide primary inasmuch as this bill last night had inserted into it, or there were allowed to remain in two provisions, first, that no independent party can be formed except by going through the necessary formalities prescribed by that bill, and secondly that the present provision of our law is not in this bill, I must vote against this bill.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, this is sort of a confessional period, and I desire to say in behalf of myself and perhaps I reflect the sentiment of others in the Senate that this bill is not satisfactory to me, that is to say every feature about it I am not in favor of, but we have done a great deal of work on our side towards passing and having framed a state wide primary bill. The main feature of the bill is right. I realize that the Democratic Party having but thirteen representatives on the floor, that we cannot frame a bill that will exactly suit us and be satisfactory to everybody else. This bill is not in all its features satisfactory to me. I venture to say that it is not satisfactory to any other man on the floor, but in the main it is a good bill and a long step forward if we put this bill through. It may require some further modification, but I desire to say that I am for the bill as it is, because it is the best we could get.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

WEDNESDAY, June 4th, 1913.

The House met at 8:00 o'clock P. M.

The SPEAKER (George E. Alter) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. J. E. Wright, offered the following prayer:

O God, it has been our sad privilege today to drop a flower upon the casket of our brother who but a few days since was here with us engaged in this work. We thank Thee for the privilege of uttering some simple tribute to his memory. And now, as we return to our places to take up again our work, it should be with renewed purpose of fidelity and earnestness. The workmen are falling along the way and the burdens are dropping from their hands as they fall and they are to be taken upon other shoulders. So may we, each one of us, cheerfully and bravely take our proportion of these burdens and bear them before God and man with brave and courageous and faithful hearts. Shadows fall here and there; we cannot tell when they may fall for us, but may we trust God and to our duty and live as men who are responsible and Thy name shall have the praise of it, forever. Amen.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings, when on motion of Mr. Leslie, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

Mr. LETZKUS. Mr. Speaker, in view of the fact that there have been several resolution presented to adjourn and it seems as if the members do not want to attend I call for a quorum of the House.

The SPEAKER. Under the practice of the House the point of "no quorum" cannot be raised until something in the business of the House discloses the fact.

BILL INTRODUCED.

Mr. BASS asked unanimous consent to introduce a bill the title of which was read for information.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent? Is there any objection?

Mr. S. B. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I object.

The SPEAKER. The Chair understands this bill to be for the purpose of merely changing the date provided in the act of 1911. With this information possibly the House will give its unanimous consent.

Mr. S. B. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, in view of the fact that I intend, if possible, to prevent the appropriation of any money whatsoever for this purpose, I feel that I should insist upon my objection.

Mr. BASS. Mr. Speaker, I would earnestly request that the gentleman withdraw his objection, for the reason that it does not ask for a single cent. It simply asks for a date earlier than was contemplated when the original bill was introduced. There will be a number of conventions in the City of Philadelphia during the summer, and I was anxious to be acquainted with all the larger organizations that would have their annual conventions there. There will be the annual convention of the negro business league and the national negro business league that will take place along about the 20th, 21st and 22nd of August, and which will bring nine to ten thousand delegates to the City of Philadelphia, largely from Pennsylvania. I would therefore request the gentleman to withdraw his objection, because it is simply so the matter may begin a few days earlier than was originally contemplated.

Mr. SPEISER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the rules of the House pertaining to the introduction of bills be suspended so far as this bill is concerned.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will receive the bill.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE.

Mr. WHITAKER, from the Committee on Library, reported as committed, House Bill No. 1582, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation for the purchase of two relief maps for the Pennsylvania State Museum

Mr. WILTBANK, from the Committee on Public Health and Sanitation, reported as committed, House Bill No. 2070, (Senate Bill No. 1377, entitled:

An Act to protect the public health by providing for the prevention of the preparation storage transportation and sale of meat and meat food products which are unsound unhealthful unwholesome or unfit for human food vesting certain powers in the State Livestock Sanitary Board and its agents and providing penalties for violation of this act

RESOLUTION REQUESTING INFORMATION FROM DEPARTMENTS.

Mr. J. R. K. SCOTT offered the following resolution, which was twice read:

Whereas, The general appropriation bill of the session of 1913 has now passed second reading in the House, and,

Whereas, There are large increases in various items thereof over the general appropriation bill of the Sessions of 1911 and 1909, and,

Whereas, The said bill contains many items appropriating large sums of money, which were not in the appropriation bills of the past four or five legislative sessions, and,

Whereas, Some of the items in said bill, which have been in similar bills of previous sessions, appear on their faces to be unnecessary at this time.

Therefore Be It Resolved, That the following officers in charge of department of the State governments, viz:

The Secretary of the Commonwealth,
The Secretary of Internal Affairs,
The Attorney General,
The Commissioner of Banking,
The Superintendent of Public Instruction,
The Insurance Commissioner,
The State Fire Marshal,
The State Librarian,
The Pennsylvania Free Library Commission,
The Superintendent of Public Grounds and Buildings,
The Secretary of Agriculture,
The State Veterinarian,
The Commissioner of Forestry,
The Chief of the Department of Mines,
The Commissioner of Fisheries,
The Chief Game Protector, and the Secretary of the Board of Game Commissioners,
The State Highway Commissioner,
The Quarantine Physician,
The Commissioner of Health,
'The Commissioner of the Department of Water Supply,
The Secretary of the Pennsylvania State Railroad Commission, and the Dairy and Food Commissioner, of the Department of Agriculture, respectively and separately inform the House, not later than Monday, the 9th day of June, 1913, by a detailed, itemized statement, accounting for the expenditure of the sums of money contained in the various items in the general appropriation of 1911, which were made for purpose other than salaries of employees provided for and fixed by statute and set aside for the use of their respective departments, giving the names of the persons to whom such payments were made, the date when made, the service rendered therefor and the character and kind of work done and performed. Such information shall also contain the amount or amounts of work or obligations contracted for and remaining unpaid, together with the names of the parties to whom the same are due with the amounts thereof. If such disbursements were made for the services of attorneys, then, in addition to the names to the parties of suit or suits, the manner in which the same was terminated, and, if a civil suit, the amount of money recovered by or against the State. If such disbursements were made for property or supplies, the amounts of such property or supplies remaining in their possession, and the necessity of such apropriation at this time.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the resolution?

Mr. J. R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, this resolution is not very serious. A general appropriation bill has passed first and second reading and has been amended. There is no report yet published as to the expenditures of the appropriation of last session, so far as the year 1912 is concerned. There is, so far as 1911 is concerned. This resolution sets forth that there is an appropriation made to these various departments for two items of which we have no knowledge, and it merely calls upon the departments to inform the House as to the purpose of these various appropriations, so that we can go to third reading without any delay.

Mr. NORTH. Mr. Speaker, I want to say that personally I have no particular objection to the resolution, but I think it is unnecessary. For the information of the House I would say that the General Appropriation Bill was referred to a sub-committee immediately after it was submitted to the committee. Now that committee has been working earnestly and faithfully in getting all the data from the various departments and the chairman of that sub-committee is with us and I would be glad for him to state to the House what progress they have made and if possible inform the House when they expect to be ready to report the bill back to the House, and until that time I think that this resolution might lie over.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, in reply to the Chairman of the Appropriation Committee, I think that he places himself in a very false position unintentionally. This is merely a resolution to get information and to help along with the work of the General Appropriation Bill. He has the bill now passed first and second reading and there can be no discussion as to second reading. It comes out for third reading. The Chairman of the sub-committee we know is working upon these various items and there is no question but what he will conscientiously try to bring the bill out before the House in such way as to be acceptable to the members and those of us who have taken an interest in this General Appropriation Bill as it appeared on second reading have now asked for certain information. Now it would be impossible for the Chairman of the sub-committee to give the information as to each one of these departments and it would be a very trifling thing for the various departments to give us the information. For instance there are in some of the departments an entire new item for thousands of dollars. When we came to discover the cause of that we found there was a new Act of Assembly passed this session and the appropriation was made for that purpose. We have found in some cases that there have been increases in the staff that works under certain appropriations and we want merely an explanation and the resolution is so that each one of these departments will give to the House that answer and the information will be in our hands when this General Appropriation Bill comes up for hearing next week, when it comes out, and then we are in a position to put it through rather than be compelled to delay the bill when we are coming into the latter days of the session. I have talked some of the gentlemen who have voted during the whole session with the Administration and I have not found any objection to this resolution which is a resolution for information. I dare say that during my experience here I have never heard of a resolution for information being opposed by the House. It is a resolution that is heard immediately upon presentation unless by special order it is fixed for some other time. I hope the gentleman from Jefferson, the Chairman of the Appropriation Committee, will not place himself or place his committee in the position of opposing this resolution.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, as a member of the sub-committee having in charge the General Appropriation Bill, I wish to state that it would be almost impossible to comply with this resolution at this time for the reason that there are various acts pending in either one branch or the other of the Legislature upon the passage of which depends the amount that it will be necessary to appropriate to the different departments of the State Government. We do not even have the complete information as to how some bills which have already passed will affect the necessary appropriations for these departments and therefore I cannot see how at this time any definite information can be given upon this subject. However, when this information is at hand, I feel safe in saying that the General Appropriation Bill will be very promptly reported out upon the floor of this House and any member who is inclined to be fair in the matter can then have all the information that is necessary in ample time so that he can examine the bill before it reaches its final passage in this House.

Mr. EHRHARDT. Mr. Speaker, for the information of the House, I will state that this sub-committee will be prepared to make its report possibly by Monday evening. In all the large departments where they are asking for increases we have obliged them to come before us and furnish us a schedule of all their items in detail, how they were used in the past two years and what they are supposed to be applied to in the coming two years, and if there was any reversions to the treasury of the past appropriations, and I think everything will be satisfactorily arranged when this report is made.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I do not want consume any more time than I am allotted. I merely want to state, for instance, the suggestion made by the gentleman from Lackawanna as to the sub-committee making reports to the general committee and the general committee reporting out its bill—I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Lackawanna and ask him for instance if he has reached the Banking Department as yet.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lackawanna permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EHRHARDT. Yes, sir, Mr. Speaker, and in answer to the gentleman from Philadelphia, I would say that we have.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman, have you completed your work on the Banking Department?

Mr. EHRHARDT. Mr. Speaker, we have.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, what have you designated there for the card index system in the Banking Department—

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order. Are we going to permit these interrogatories to be made concerning all these departments and take up the time at present? Wouldn't the fact that the gentleman stated that he is prepared to make that answer when the bill comes on the floor or give it to any member who desires, save a great deal of time? I do not know what the gentleman from Philadelphia intends, whether he intends to go into all these departments and items, but it seems to me it is a waste of valuable time.

The SPEAKER. It is scarcely a point of order. It is merely a point of expediency.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I intended to ask him whether he had the information as to the Library Department. I said Banking Department by mistake.

Mr. EHRHARDT. Mr. Speaker, we have not the report, but we have had the State Librarian before us and made up his schedule.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, what I ask the gentleman from Lackawanna is, what information he has from the State Library Department to impart to the House as to the amount required for the card index system in the State Library.

Mr. EHRHARDT. Mr. Speaker, we have not that item on our list.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Would it be possible, Mr. Speaker, for the gentleman from Lackawanna to inform the House as to the expenditure of the money for the card index system of the appropriation of 1911.

Mr. EHRHARDT. No, Mr. Speaker, we have not that information.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Would it be possible, Mr. Speaker, for the gentleman from Lackawanna County, the Chairman of the sub-committee, to inform the House as to the expenditure of the money appropriated in 1911 for the indexing of the law books in the State Library?

Mr. EHRHARDT. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman means preparing law catalogues, I have that.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. EHRHARDT. Mr. Speaker, that is $5,800.00 for the two years.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, and would the gentleman be in position to state what the appropriation for this year is?

Mr. EHRHARDT. Mr. Speaker, they are asking for the same amount this year.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman from Lackawanna be able to inform the House as to how the $5,800.00 was spent from the appropriation of 1911?

Mr. EHRHARDT. Mr. Speaker, I have not that information at hand at this moment.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Now, Mr. Speaker, these replies show fully the necessity of this very simple resolution. Now it is quite possible that the five thousand some hundred dollars that is to be appropriated according to the General Appropriation Bill for this session, is necessary for the cataloguing of the law books and it is quite possible that the five thousand some hundred dollars that was appropriated two years ago was properly spent for that and the $4,800.00 two years before that, for cataloguing those same books, but it is not in the power of the Chairman of the sub-committee to inform us as to that, but it is in the power of the State Librarian to inform us. Now that is the whole of this resolution so far as that department is concerned.

So far as the other departments are concerned there are items set forth in the General Appropriation Bill which we cannot trace the necessity for and it is a very simple thing for the heads of those departments to inform the House and it would be a most foolish thing for either the Chairman of the Appropriation Committee or the Chairman of the sub-committee, or the members of that committee or the members of this House to refuse to ask these different departments for this information.

Now what is said by the gentleman from Delaware, that we might wait and get the information later, or what is suggested by the gentleman from Lackawanna that after the sub-committee made report to the general committee and the general committee made report to the House where this bill will have reached third reading, has no force to it because we would then simply have to ask to postpone the bill's consideration until we got the information that it is impossible for the Chairman of the sub-committee to give us the information required; so therefore this resolution is offered for the purpose of hastening on the work of the Legislature. We appreciate, Mr. Speaker, those of us who are here neglecting our business, staying away from our homes late in the session and standing side by side and fighting with you for the legislation that you and others have pledged to the people that we will give them, we know the necessity of saving time. We have come back here tonight to save time and we know that the next two weeks will be hard fought weeks on the Senate amendments to the various industrial and election bills and while we are fighting in the House this information can be brought here by the heads of the departments.

Now we have here in our resolution a request to the different departments. Some of the appropriations would for instance call for a greater amount than we find by looking over Smull's Hand-Book, a greater amount for salaries than their salaries amount to, but I dare say in all those cases more than likely there is an explanation that would remove all contest. Now for the gentlemen to oppose this resolution, I take it, Mr. Speaker, is idle. Now, as I said, before we offered this resolution we discussed it fully with each one who was opposed to the views that we have taken on these matters in the House and we have found not one opposed to it. I dare say that the gentleman from Delaware, the gentleman from Lackawanna and the gentleman from Jefferson, have no objection to our getting information and surely the course I suggest is more expeditious and therefore, I ask that the resolution prevail.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have the resolution again read.

The resolution was again read by the Clerk.

Mr. EHRHARDT. Mr. Speaker, just to show the careful manner in which we have gone into this question of the State Library. Two years ago, the amount granted was $93,350.00. This year the amount is $99,350.00. The increases are caused by a bill which went through this House increasing the salary of the second assistant librarian from three thousand to four thousand dollars and an increase in the salary of messenger from two thousand to twenty-four hundred. There is also an item in this year's appropriation of $1,800.00 for the reproduction of papers which was carried two years ago in a separate bill, and not in the general appropriation bill. It makes only a slight increase. As to the item for preparing a law catalogue, the gentleman from Philadelphia has asked for the cost of preparing a card index. That is under the heading of Law Catalogues for which were hired two experts which took up the fifty-eight hundred dollars, one for fifteen hundred and the other for fourteen hundred. That accounts for the fifty-eight hundred dollars for a year ago and this year.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. John R. K. Scott.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know whether the gentleman from Philadelphia can give us the amount of time that would be required for the different departments to furnish this information under a resolution similar to the one presented by him.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I should say in reply to that that there could be a reply made in the course of a day. I have asked that the return of this resolution be made by next Monday. In further reply, I might say, for instance, in the Department of Banking, there we find the salaries ——

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I do not intend to give the gentleman a chance to speak, but I merely want to ask one other question. I desire to ask him whether he has made any effort to find out or whether he has asked them in what time they could properly make this report to comply with this resolution as they understand it.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I have not, but I have gone over the bill with great care, myself with several of the other gentlemen, and we find in every department something that requires an explanation. It would not take a person informed on the subject more than half an hour to give that information. Then when we have that information we can then ——

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I do not think the gentleman ought to start off and make remarks. The point I want to make is this. This is a very unusual proceeding. This is the first time in my legislative experience that I have ever seen a member of the House interrogated or a member of a committee interrogated before the bill was reported to the House, and to have the gentleman making his interrogation expect a full answer. It has never been done to the gentleman from Philadelphia or to anybody else since I have been a member of this House. After the bill comes into the House, then is the time to ask the questions. I want all the information that the gentleman from Philadelphia wants, and I think every member of the House does too. In all probability each and every one of us could have had that information if we had gone to the Department and inquired of them. But in a resolution of this character, in my opinion, the gentleman from Philadelphia ought to have seen the heads of the Departments and submitted the resolution to them and asked them in what time they could have the information ready in their judgment to comply with this resolution. Then they could have the questions answered that the gentleman from Philadelphia or any other gentleman in the House might desire to ask. They would be willing to give all the information we might ask for, but in a resolution asking the heads of Departments to furnish this sort of information, it strikes me, it would take weeks and weeks to go into detail. Therefore, I would suggest that the gentleman postpone his resolution and that he make proper inquiry and come in tomorrow morning and then in all probability I will support him, if he thinks this is not a dilatory action on my part. I do not want to be here two or three weeks waiting for a report for the Departments. I really think that the gentleman should have told us that he had gone to the Departments and asked for this information and then the questions could be asked at a reasonable time. I merely ask that the gentleman agree to postpone the resolution until tomorrow morning. A great many of the questions that he desires to ask would require the Departments to dig down into everything that they had done and they could not possibly get that information back here before two or three weeks. By inquiring from the heads of the Departments, he could probably get all the information he wants, but this resolution does not indicate that. This is a very sweeping resolution. I am not opposed to any resolution calling for information or investigation.

Mr. O'NEIL. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. O'NEIL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentlean from Philadelphia if this resolution was introduced for the purpose of information or for the purpose of delaying the work of this session?

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, in reply to the gentleman I would say that it is for the purpose of information in order to expedite the work of this session.

Mr. O'NEIL. Mr. Speaker, I desire to further interrogate the gentleman. Did the gentleman from Philadelphia take this position at the last session of this Legislature at which he was a member?

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I did not understand the question.

Mr. O'NEIL. Did you take the same position last session on this same appropriation that you are taking now?

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, in reply to that I will say that I, myself, and about all of the members of this House voted for the General Appropriation Bill and did not know what was inside the covers

Mr. O'NEIL. Mr. Speaker, I think the floor of this House has been taken up by one or two or three members with long speeches and long resolutions, delaying the work of this session, and I think it is about time that we turn some of this stuff down.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, the remarks of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. O'Neil, might be answered by merely inquiring from him as to his information on the general appropriation bill. It has been here for two readings. If I thought that we could get the information from him, standing on the floor of the House and giving us the information, this resolution would not be necessary. The bill that has now passed second reading and has been sent back to the Committee and comes out for third reading is met with a resolution asking for this information and the information that we ask for that of which this instance is a character. In the Banking Department, we have by our calculation, according to the published reports as to the salaries, $124,000.00. We find in the bill there is appropriated $155,000.00. We find that there was paid according to the Auditor-General's account in the year 1911, $71,000.00. Now, these figures are all of a nature to give us no information. The $71,000.00 for one year is $142,000.00 for two years, and we have an appropriation for $155,000.00. And we find from all the accounts we have as to the salaries of that department, $124,000.00. We find that in that same Department there is a new item, an item for $3,000.00 for the payment of the necessary expenses of instituting proceedings for the violations of the Act approved the 23rd day of April, 1909, defining certain misdemeanors and authorizing certain prosecutions within two years, the sum of $3,000.00. There is an item that we never saw before in the appropriations bill. Now all we ask from the Banking Department is that they inform us what that is. Now, for instance, if the Banking Department says that that three thousand dollars is for the payment of an attorney, then we have the right to know whether that amount is being paid from the Banking Department for counsel fees, because we find in the Attorney General's Department $50,000.00 appropriated for the same kind of work. We find, for instance, a number of items of a similar character. This is but one of them. We find an item for the payment of the salaries of the deputy superintendent, and clerks and messenger in the Department of Public Instruction, all those salaries amounting to $18,200.00.

We find in 1907, the amount of the appropriation was $18,200; in 1909, it was $18,200 and in 1911, it was the same. This year it is $24,000. Now, Mr. Speaker, if that means that there has been appointed some extra clerks, and that is the reason for the amount being $21,000.00, why, then it is a very simple thing for that department to inform the House, but if the gentleman from Delaware suggests that I go from department to department and ask these questions, of course, that is no way for me to do and that is out of the question.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I want to correct the gentleman. I intimated nothing of the sort.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to say that I would not feel—

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege. The gentleman is misquoting me.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I ask that I be not interrupted.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I don't expect the gentleman to go from department to department to make an investigation of all these departments. I simply suggested that he submit his resolution to the different departments and ask how soon they could probably comply with the request of the resolution. That is all I ask for and I sincerely believe under a sweeping resolution like that, that a department can not answer except within five or six weeks.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. John R. K. Scott, has the floor.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I say that for me to go from department to department and ask for this information that it is simply a physical impossibility and an unreasonable thing to ask. Now I wish to repeat that in the same department that of the Department of Instruction, we find that in the session of 1907 and 1909 there was appropriated four thousand dollars for the payment of the traveling expenses of high school inspectors for two years. Then we find that in 1911, an appropriation is for a thousand dollars and we find in the appropriation of this year, that it is twelve thousand dollars. Now, Mr. Speaker, I merely want to know from the head of that department why in a period of four years there is a raise from one thousand dollars to twelve thousand dollars, and is it so that I shall go to the head of that department and ask him or is it easier for him to report that to the House and if he informs us that the cost is placed on account of more clerks, that this is for their traveling expenses. We have here in the appropriation bill under different items sums running from two thousand dollars to forty thousand dollars for such purposes as paying expenses or claims growing out of the Spanish-American War, investigations at Washington and the tracing of maps and the employing of expert draughtsmen. Year after year and session after session, we find that there is an appropriation for two thousand dollars and five thousand dollars and ten thousand dollars and forty thousand dollars. There has been no investigation. The gentleman from Delaware says so, and what he says is quite true. Who has or has he ever in all his years of experience in this House ever heard of any resolution asking for information on the general appropriations bill? There has been in the sessions gone by a sort of sanctity that has been surrounding the general appropriation bill and it is usually brought in on the last day or the last night when we are all ready to go home.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman must desist from misquoting me. I didn't state that at all. I simply stated that the first time I ever heard a member call upon another member of a committee for an explanation of legislation that is still in committee and the gentleman never saw it.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, it has taken years of experience to learn that and this is an old offense. There has never been an inquiry in any of the sessions that my friend from Delaware or myself have been in, of the general appropriation bill, as he said, but there is, and as I have already said, there is a sort of sanctity put around it and it is usually brought in on the last day or night when we are anxious to go home and it is put pleasantly through and after it is in form and we are sitting in our homes and upon opening the books we find that in the general appropriation bill, there are such things as ten thousand dollars appropriations for automobiles and other items of that sort. As to this general appropriation bill, I am going to try and find out whether or not there is a snake or two squirming around in it and this little simple resolution that has caused so many questions of privilege to spring up from my friend from Delaware is simply to give to this general appropriation bill of the session of 1913 the real sanction of the House. Mr. Speaker, in offering this resolution I ask for a yea and nay vote upon it.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman from Philadelphia wants to convey the idea that appropriation bills in the sessions past, of which I have been a member four times, have never had any consideration or any scrutiny on the part of the members of the House who served in these various sessions, he is giving the House a very very wrong impression. The appropriation bill has been introduced as early in other sessions as it has in this session. It has been here where all of us could examine it since, I think, early in March of this year. It has been in and went through first reading and it has just gone through second reading and now we still have a chance to scrutinize it and there have been some changes made since it was introduced and this resolution that the gentleman offers will not cause us to make any more careful scutiny. I am just as anxious as the gentleman from Philadelphia is to scrutinize these appropriation bills and all of these appropriations that are made and I believe in former Houses the appropriation bills were always carefully scrutinized. The resolution that the gentleman offers will not correct the evil that has been complained about in the past. The facts are that through changes made in the general appropriation bill as the result of conference reports, they will no doubt find in this session after we get out our appropriation bill, the Senate makes some changes to it and that there will be a call for a conference report. In that some changes takes place and as it is a voluminous bill and some of these changes are sometimes of a character—the members don't have a full knowledge of them—and I have no more objection than the gentleman from Philadelphia has to having all of these bills carefully scrutinized and to put any light upon the subject that can be had but I do object to the gentleman from Philadelphia, making it appear that those who are not in his favor of his resolution are trying to smother or cover up something. There is not a member of the House, I presume, that could not have gone over these bills during the past three months and have gotten all the information that the gentleman now asks these various departments to supply, and which the gentleman from Philadelphia asks our State department to dig down and go over every item of their whole year's business. I think it is unwise for the gentleman from Philadelphia or somebody else to ask a department to comply what is required by this resolution. I want to say to him that if they say they can comply with this resolution in ten days, I will agree to it. If they cannot comply with this resolution inside of two, or three or four weeks and under the facts, we could all then inquire into what items we want to investigate, then the House could act much more intelligently upon the resolution. You could get all the information required by that resolution, all that is necessary within that time from the various reports, possibly and it seems to me that the gentleman ought to consent to be able to give the House the facts as to what time it will take to comply with what is contained in the resolution. We don't want to waste any more time than is necessary on what is required by this resolution.

Mr. O'NEIL. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. John R. K. Scott, asked me if I looked over this appropriation bill? I tell him no. This is my first session. Probably when I am better informed and know better what is expected I will do that. I have faith in sub-committees of committees and I don't think it is necessary and, therefore, I move that this resolution be laid on the table.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. John R. K. Scott, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. O'NEIL. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order. My motion is not debatable.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is well taken. The Chair recognized the gentleman from Tioga when he asked permission to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, but as soon as the point of order was raised, the question before the House was on the motion to lay the resolution on the table and that motion is not debatable.

Mr. O'NEIL. Mr. Speaker, I withdraw my point of order for the present in favor of the gentleman from Tioga, Mr. Williams.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. John R. K. Scott, if when he refers to ten thousand dollar item in 1911, and five thousand dollar item in 1913, I think the resolution should cover the reduction as well as the increase and ask the heads of the departments why they decreased these items as well as others that have been increased.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, the resolution is broad enough to call for that information.

Mr. O'NEIL. Mr. Speaker, I now call for my motion to lay the resolution on the table.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would suggest that as the roll call on the resolution has been called for, if we take a roll call on the motion to lay on the table, that may result in two roll calls. One roll call on the resolution would dispose of the resolution.

Mr. O'NEIL. Mr. Speaker, if calling for the previous question will accomplish the same purpose, I will call for the previous question.

The SPEAKER. The debate on the resolution is over and a roll call on the resolution would be in order.

Mr. O'NEIL. Mr. Speaker, I bow to the decision of the Chair.

The SPEAKER. The motion to lay the resolution on the table having been withdraw, the question is on the adoption of the resolution.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I should like to have you inform the House that to vote "Aye" is to sustain this resolution and to vote "No" is opposed.

The SPEAKER. Those who favor the adoption of the resolution as presented will vote "Aye" and those who are apposed will vote "No."

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT and Mr. WM. H. WILSON were as follows:

The SPEAKER. The roll will be verified.

So the question was determined in the negative and the resolution was not agreed to.

Mr. J. R. K. SCOTT offered a resolution which was twice read as follows:

RESOLUTION INSTRUCTING THE APPROPRIATION COMMITTEE TO SUB-DIVIDE THE APPROPRIATION TO THE DAIRY AND FOOD DIVISION.

Whereas, There is set forth in the general appropriation bill of the session of 1913, now having passed second reading in the House, an appropriation of one hundred ninety thousand dollars ($190,000.00) to the Dairy and Food Division of the Department of Agriculture, for the payment of the salaries of the special agents of the Dairy and Food Division of the Department of Agriculture, the attorneys, detectives and assistants and special work of the Dairy and Food Division of the Department of Agriculture, and clerical and stenographic service in the Dairy and Food Division of the Department of Agriculture, the chemists' salaries and incidental laboratory expenses of the Dairy and Food Division of the Department of Agriculture, and the payment of the traveling and other necessary expenses of the Dairy and Food Commissioner and special agents, including the cost of samples of the food products, express, telegrams, and the other incidental expenses of the Dairy and Food Division of the Department of Agriculture; and,

Whereas, The said appropriation is in a lump sum and not itemized, as was the case in the general appropriation bills in the sessions of 1907 and 1909; and,

Whereas, Different items of the appropriation of 1907 amount to one hundred sixty-six thousand dollars ($166,000.00); and,

Whereas, The different items if the appropriation of the session of 1911, amount to one hundred sixty thousand dollars ($160,000.00);

Therefore, Be it resolved, That the Appropriation Committee of the House of Representatives be instructed to subdivide in the general appropriation bill of the House of the session of 1913, the lump sum into amounts for the various items covered thereby.

The SPEAKER. Under the rules, the resolution will lie over for printing.

Mr. SPEISER. Mr. Speaker, I move that unanimous consent be given that this resolution be passed now for this reason: I had a conference with the Dairy and Food Commissioner last evening and he informed me that the information sought by this resolution is now in his possession and can be furnished to the House any minute. Under these circumstances, I move the resolution be considered now.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I only rise to inform the House of the uselessness of this resolution and I have no objection to the resolution at all. I only want to inform the House how useless a resolution of this character is.

The SPEAKER. There is nothing at present before the House.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to inform the House how useless it is to pass the resolution.

The SPEAKER. The resolution is not before the House.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker a motion for its immediate consideration has been moved and seconded.

The SPEAKER. The Chair did not so understand it. The motion would not be in order. The proper motion would be a motion to suspend the rules.

Mr. SPEISER. Mr. Speaker, I therefore move you that the rules be suspended for the purpose of the immediate consideration of this resolution.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, there is not a member of this House who cannot get full information on the very subject the gentleman from Philadelphia inquires about and the gentleman from Philadelphia can get the full information only today. Mr. Speaker, ——

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware yield for interrogation?

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Sure, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman from Delaware if some one member of this House were to go to a Department and get the information which is sought for each member by this resolution, how many members of the House would have the information?

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Now, Mr. Speaker, ——

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire that the gentleman shall respond to my interrogation or else refuse to answer.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I have the right to answer in my own way. Have I not?

Mr. ALLEN. No, Mr. Speaker, the gentleman I take it knows how many members of this House there are.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Delaware having the right to the floor, can answer in his own way, or not at all if he prefers.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman will please state his question again, I will try to answer it in the way he would like me to.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, if one member of the 206 members of this House were to go to that Department and secure the information which is sought for all the members by this resolution, how many members of the House would have the information at hand.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, the answer to that is this, and is the answer that I wanted to impress the House with. It does appear to me that the resolutions that are being offered so many times in this House are so useless that if the House fully understood the situation they would be disposed of very promptly and very quickly as being useless matter taking up the time of the House. I want to impress the House with this point and any member who does not find what I state to be correct then has the right to rise in the House and complain. When these departments are open to all of us to ask any questions and get any information we desire, it seems to me to expedite the business of the House that we ought to try that method first rather than have each and every one come here with a resolution. Now the truth is that the Dairy and Food Department will answer all of these questions. Only today the Commissioner asked me of the advisability of putting that report in every member's post office box in the House and at first I suggested it would not be worth while. Now, if that be the case in one Department, in all probability other Departments will do it. If it is the wish of the gentleman from Philadelphia that these inquiries must be gone into by resolution on every bill and every matter that comes up in the House when will we adjourn? We will be here when the next legislature will be called in session, if we keep up resolutions if this kind.

The SPEAKER. The Chair desires to call the attention of the gentleman and the House to the fact that the resolution introduced is not a request for information from any one, but a direction to the Appropriation Committee that a certain item of the bill be itemized in the bill.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Now, on that question I would like to inform the gentleman from Philadelphia, that the reason for the bill being in a lump sum this year is because at the beginning of the term of the Dairy and Food Commissioner it is impossible to tell just exactly the amount of money needed for the different items that might be included in his Department that requires the expenditure of money. It has frequently occurred in the past that we have appropriated money in that manner — —

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I understand the motion now before the House is the suspension of the rules and the remarks of the gentleman are not germane to that issue.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, nobody is objecting to suspending the rules.

The SPEAKER. It appears to the Chair that a motion to suspend the rules and permit the consideration of a resolution out of order brings up the expediency of passing the resolution.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I understood the gentleman from Philadelphia had asked unanimous consent.

The SPEAKER. The motion before the House is to suspend the rules and permit the present consideration of the resolution.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I understood by unanimous consent we could proceed in any manner.

The SPEAKER. Unanimous consent has not been given. The motion has been made that the rules be suspended to permit the present consideration of the resolution. That motion is now before the House.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, as a question of personal privilege I desire to thank the gentleman from Delaware for his lucid answer to my interrogatory.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to say to the House and the gentleman from Allegheny, that I appreciate his thanks.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER declared the ayes seem to have it,

Whereupon a division was called for, 80 members voting in the affirmative and 45 in the negative and the motion was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the resolution?

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, in reference to this resolution it is but a resolution to give to this House a return to the procedure that was laid down by the only man who could be elected Governor of the State of Pennsylvania on the Republican ticket when we were being attacked both from the inside of our party and from the outside of our party,—Governor Stuart.

When Governor Stuart was Governor of Pennsylvania, there was one thing he prided beyond all wealth and that was his good name, and he considered the good name of his administration his own good name, and the first thing he did was to compel the Appropriation Committee to set forth in the General Appropriation bill the item of appropriation for each Department and the Dairy and Food Commissioners itemized their appropriations until a change of admistration and in 1911 we find that they went back to the lump sum and got $160,000.00 and now in 1913 we find the benefit of the lump sum system because he is now asking for $190,000.00 and all this resolution does is to compel the Appropriation Committee to itemize the amount of money that is to be appropriated to the Dairy and Food Commission.

Now these are the various items they lump:

> "For the payment of the salaries of the special agents of the Dairy and Food Division of the Department of Agriculture the attorneys detectives assistants and special work of the Dairy and Food Division of the Department of Agriculture the clerical and stenographers' services in the Dairy and Food Division of the Department of Agriculture the chemists' salaries and incidental laboratory expenses of the Dairy and Food Division of the Department of Agriculture and the payment of traveling and necessary expenses of the Dairy and Food Commissioner and special agents including the cost of samples of food products express telegraph and other incidental expenses of the Dairy and Food Division of the Department of Agriculture two years the sum of one hundred and ninety thousand dollars ($190,000)"

Mr. SPEISER. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Philadelphia just cease a moment. I rise to rather an unusual request. In order to save the time of the House

I would ask the gentleman from Philadelphia to yield to me for a moment.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia (Mr. John R. K. Scott), yield to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Speiser?

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I do not think that I will save any time yielding to my friend, I have been with him for a good many years ——

Mr. SPEISER. Mr. Speaker, I would say to the gentleman from Philadelphia, that the Dairy and Food Commissioner told me last night that he was prepared—in fact had prepared and showed me a copy of his report in which he showed in detail each one of these items. That he is prepared to immediately give to every member of this House. My thought was, Mr. Speaker, that with that statement there might be no objection to this resolution and that we could save a lot of time possibly and a lot of work on the part of the stenographers and keep the Journal from being burdened with any further remarks. I therefore trust that the gentleman will yield, and will allow a motion to be made at this time.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I yield.

Mr. SPEISER. Now, Mr. Speaker, I want to reiterate to the gentleman of the House that in conference with Commissioner Foust last night, he showed me for this House a copy of a detailed report of his workings of his Department. He is prepared now, without any further notice to give us the information sought by this resolution—

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. No, this resolution means something else.

Mr. SPEISER. Mr. Speaker, He is prepared to give this information to the Appropriation Committee and to the members of the House, and I, therefore, move that this resolution be passed.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I have not a particle of objection to the information being furnished, but if I understand the resolution, it directs that the Appropriation Committee divide these different items in the Appropriation Bill. That raises a question worthy of serious consideration before the resolution is passed. There ought to be an explanation and the explanation is this: That experience has proven that in a Department such as the Dairy and Food Department no man living can tell what the expenses of these different branches will be. There may be an increase in one year and a decrease in another.

Mr. SPEISER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of correction. I want to correct the gentleman in that one statement. Surely no person on earth knows better than the Commissioner himself, and if he is prepared to give us the information that the gentleman from Delaware seems to thing is impossible, why not ask him about the matter?

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, if I understand the resolution, it is to direct the Appropriation Committee to divide the bill into different items. Now, I want to explain to the House why that is unwise. Of course, the House can do as it pleases in the matter, but we see here continually deficiency bills coming into the House. Only this year there was a deficiency bill coming in from the Lazaretta, the quarantine station of Pennsylvania asking for four thousand dollars to carry them over, yet they had thirty-eight hundred dollars to turn back because in dividing it into items they had not arranged the money to fit into the different branches. Consequently, there was money in the treasury of the Quarantine Department, but it could not be used for these items where it was needed. This year the Quarantine Bill will come in in a lump sum. It is a dangerous thing to do to divide it. Not a dollar of this money can be paid out without a voucher. You can look up the vouchers for every cent of these expenditures for every Department. It is well known to nearly every member in the House, not perhaps to the gentleman from Philadelphia, that the information that he is inquiring for has already been published in over a thousand papers in the State of Pennsylvania. The reason why they are asking for the thirty thousand dollars additional is because the cold storage proposition will now be put over to them, and it would not be possible to put that into operation without it. It is only fair to say to the House that this branch of our State departments has not been a burden to the State but a Revenue Raiser. It has turned into the State Treasury over fifty thousand dollars more than it has taken out in the past four years, and the only reason for the increase of the thirty thousand dollars is because of the cold storage proposition. Now the Dairy and Food Commissioner told me that if they would take that proposition off his shoulders that they would ask for the same appropriation as they did two years ago. There are vouchers to show for every dollar of that expenditure. My judgment is that this resolution means that the Dairy and Food Commission Appropriation shall not be put in a lump sum and that is a very dangerous thing to do and is of no protection to the Department. I think if the gentleman from Philadelphia would talk with him about this matter that he would be convinced as I am convinced, and I have only been convinced because of past experience. I am not objecting to the furnishing of the information but I do say that in objecting to this appropriation being put in a lump sum, that I think we are making a mistake.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I do not think that is yielding to unanimous consent. Now, as the gentleman from Philadelphia has stated that it is impossible to divide this into various items, I call his attention to the appropriation of 1909, and I think the gentleman who had the conversation with the gentleman from Delaware was the head of that Department in 1909. I find in that year that he divided his items of the various branches:: Special Agents $40,000; Assistants, $55,000; Clerical Force and Stenographers, $20,000; Chemists' Salaries, Laboratory Expenses, and other items, $10,000, and $51,000, and $55,000, and I have not heard, Mr. Speaker, that in the session after the session of 1909, for the period of two years, that the Food and Dairy Commission went out of business, and I, Mr. Speaker, am very pleased to be informed by the gentleman from Delaware that the thirty thousand extra dollars asked for now in this item is for the purpose of cold storage. I find that this appropriation bill was introduced on the tenth day of March, 1913, and was reported out on the 24th day of March, 1913. During the months of April and May I believe the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Wilson, was chasing the gentleman from Blair, who was the head of the Food and Dairy Commission, to get his Cold Storage Bill through, and I, therefore, cannot understand why the gentleman at the head of the Food and Dairy Commission Department was putting in an appropriation for thirty thousand dollars when he had the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Gans, watching him in this House, and the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Wilson, watching him in the Senate, and both of them watching the Governor, and the bill was only passed in the early part of June. I do not think the explanation of the gentleman from Delaware is well founded. The foundation does not sit well. The items asked for in this resolution are the self-same items that were asked for and given in 1907 and 1909 and it did not change until 1911, and in 1913 it cost us thirty thousand dollars for the change. When the gentleman says that he has no objection to the resolution, that he wants the information, and the whole thing handed out plain to him and the other members, then I merely want to say, Mr. Speaker, that I cannot understand his voting "no" and his opposition to this resolution, and I cannot understand his refusal to agree with the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Speiser, in asking that the resolution be passed unanimously. I have noticed throughout the session that both the gentlemen seem to be unanimous in all matters and on all bills on which I happened to be on the other side.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. Speaker, I do not think that the time of the House should be taken up by listening to remarks that contain veiled criticism. I am sure that the House is fully aware of the fact that information we may seek can be readily obtained and I am sure we all appreciate the tribute that my friend from Philadelphia has paid to a previous Governor who was jealous of his good name, and I am sure there is no reason to doubt but that the present administration is just as jealous of its reputation and good name, and without any more quibbling or talking, and with the permission of the Chair, I now move the previous question.

The SPEAKER. As no other gentleman is desirous of speaking, the question will now be put.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the adoption of the resolution?

It was agreed to.

RESOLUTION REQUESTING INFORMATION FROM THE ATTORNEY GENERAL.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

Whereas, There has been set forth in the general appropriation bill, now passed second reading in the House, two items of thirty thousand dollars ($30,000.00) and twenty thousand dollars ($20,000.00), respectively; one thereof "for the payment of the contingent expenses, official fees, witness fees, serving processes, and for such other costs as the Commonwealth may be liable to pay in cases in which the Commonwealth is or may be a party, and for the payment of postage express charges, the purchase of law books for the law library of the Attorney General's Department, and other incidental expenses"; and the other for the payment of the services and expenses of attorneys employed by the Attorney General to assist in the prosecution and trial of cases and the prosecution of claims in which the Commonwealth is interested, and in cases in which in the judgment of the Attorney General the Commonwealth should intervene by the employment of counsel, and for the payment of services, costs and expenses of special district attorneys appointed by the Attorney General," incurred and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal year ending May 31st, 1913.

Therefore, Be It Resolved, That the Attorney General be requested to inform the House whether or not there are now costs and expenses rendered, incurred and remaining unpaid due such attorneys or special district attorneys, or any expense for the serving of processes, witness fees, or other expenses in suits in which the Commonwealth, through its Attorney General, deputy, special attorney, intervened, remaining still due and unpaid; and that the House be given, not later than Monday the 9th day of June, 1913, a detailed account of the names of attorneys and parties of the suits, together with all information as to all the amounts due.

RESOLUTION REQUESTING INFORMATION FROM THE DAIRY AND FOOD COMMISSIONER.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following resolution.

The SPEAKER. The resolution will be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk then read the resolution as follows:

Whereas, There is set forth in the general appropriation bill of the session of 1913, now having passed second reading in the House, an appropriation of one hundred ninety thousand dollars ($190,000.00) to the Dairy and Food Division of the Department of Agriculture, for the payment of the salaries of the special agents of the Dairy and Food Division of the Department of Agriculture, the attorneys, detectives, assistants and special work of the Dairy and Food Division of the Department of Agriculture, the chemists' salaries and incidental laboratory expenses of the Dairy and Food Division of the Department of Agriculture, and the payment of the traveling and necessary expenses of the Dairy and Food Commissioner and special agents, including the cost of samples of the food products, express, telegrams, and the other incidental expenses of the Dairy and Food Division of the Department of Agriculture; and,

Whereas, The said appropriation is in a lump sum, and not itemized, as was the case in the general appropriation bills of the session of 1907 and 1909; and,

Whereas, Different items of the appropriation of 1907 amount to one hundred sixty-six thousand dollars ($166,000.00); and

Whereas, The different items of the appropriation of the session of 1911 was one hundred sixty thousand dollars ($160,000.00);

Therefore, Be it Resolved, That the Dairy and Food Commissioner inform the House not later than Monday, June 9th, 1913, by itemized statement, as to the expenditures, including the names of and the amounts received by all the attorneys, all detectives, all chemists, or agents, and all other persons receiving money, and all other expenses paid out by him of the said one hundred sixty thousand dollars ($160,000.00) appropriated by the session of 1911, and also inform the House as to the necessity of increasing this appropriation to one hundred ninety thousand dollars ($190,000.00).

The SPEAKER. The question is on the adoption of the resolution.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, I think some of the members of the House are gettings a little tired of this. I wish to offer a substitute resolution for the one offered by the gentleman from Philadelphia.

SUBSTITUTE RESOLUTION.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Tioga, Mr. Rockwell, offers a substitute resolution which will be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk then read the resolution as follows:

Resolved, That the heads of the several departments of the Commonwealth asking for an increase in the amount of appropriation in the General Appropriation Bill of this session of 1913 over the amount of 1911 bill furnish this House with the reason for such increase and such information be furnished by Monday next, if possible.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I second the resolution.

The SPEAKER. The question is on the adoption of the substitute resolution, offered by the gentleman from Tioga, Mr. Rockwell, as a substitute for the resolution offered by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. John R. K. Scott.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOT. Mr. Speaker, the resolution offered as a substitute is one to which I have no objection as a resolution, but I think it is not very appropriate at this time because it is the same resolution that the House defeated earlier in the session. It would not serve as a substitute or take the place of the resolution I have now offered. This resolution that I have offered with reference to the Food and Dairy Commission has no opposition, as was said by the gentleman from Philadelphia when he had conversation with the head of this department, Mr. Speiser. He stated he had this information ready to furnish to the House and he was upon his feet to make that statement to the House when the gentleman from Tioga offered his substitute. If the gentleman from Tioga will withdraw his substitute, I will then have no objection if he wishes to present his resolution later as a means to save the introduction of a good many other resolutions that are waiting to be introduced. The resolution will undoubtedly aid and save the introduction of other resolutions but to offer it now as a substitute to this one which I have offered will simply stop that which is essential and this one substitute just serves so far as that one department is concerned but does not save the offering of resolutions bearing on many other departments.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, I take issue with the gentleman when he says that this resolution that I offer is the same one that the House defeated some time ago. I voted against the adoption of the resolution which was then defeated, for the reason, as I looked at it, it was going in and taking each department of this State and requiring them to furnish, as you might call it, an annual report of every dollar and every cent they had received in that appropriation of 1911 and would involve a great amount of work. It would be an additional or an extra annual report. As intimated by the gentleman's remarks, it would seem to me if this is not adopted then we are to be subjected to resolutions covering practically every department of this State. Here we find that we have been spending nearly two hours this evening doing nothing, and I think it is time to stop. I think the substitute resolution which I offered will simply furnish this House information from each department and I think any department that has asked for an increase will be willing to give the information. I take it that the gentleman from Philadelphia several times this evening said that is what he wanted.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, if I understand the resolution which was last offered as a substitute aright the resolution or the object of the resolution is this: What is the increase that is allowed under the present appropriation bill over the bill passed several years ago? By the adoption of such a resolution as that, this House will put its stamp of approval upon every item that had been asked for and had been voted to these various departments two years ago. The purpose of the resolution offered by the gentleman early in the evening and which was defeated called only for those items which were banded together, generalized, if you please. The job lots which were left over and only accounted for as incidental expenses, etc. These items were attempted to be reached by the original resolution whether there was an increase over the bill passed two years ago or a decrease; that was the very information that the members of this House wanted and they ought to have it in order to vote intelligently when the bill comes up for final passage. The House, in its wisdom, however, declined that offer; declined to have given it the information which some of the members of this House so much desire and which one of them, as the gentleman from Delaware stated, might be given by the department who received an increase that they might receive this information from the department's hand, and if all the two hundred and five members take it, as the gentleman from Delaware does not need the information; he seems to have it. The other two hundred and five members could receive that in turn if they approached in turn. This resolution offered by the gentleman from Tioga, Mr. Rockwell, is a substitute as a resolution which only affects the increase. That is unfair in its inception for the reason that we don't know whether the requirements, as approved by the House two years ago, was such as were needed or not. If the amount sent out two years ago and approved by the House were inadequate, the explanation of the increase, therefore this would certainly be satisfactory to this House if it were shown that such an increase were necessary. On the other hand, if the amount which was approved two years ago and allotted to the various departments was more than sufficient that same amount is asked for this year in a general way, and in a way which was thought to be covered by the original resolution, then this House certainly stultifies itself by voting that money to that department when it is unnecessary. This resolution ought not to carry. The original resolution if it is passed should have precedence at this time over the resolution that was offered as a substitute.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, I included in that resolution the 1911 appropriation bill as passed because it seems that the objections or the remarks of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Scott, were aimed along that line. If the gentleman from Allegheny could suggest that we be given an amendment to get the information that the House wants, I am perfectly willing and I think the members are willing in order to get the information, all the best information that is to be had on the subject.

Mr. SPEISER. Mr. Speaker, I am very much afraid that we are taking a position in regards to a head of a department and putting him in a bad light before the members of this House, before the entire State of Pennsylvania, if we don't permit this resolution to go through without further argument and debate. I must reiterate again that the commissioner is ready now and has in his possession a detailed statement showing every expenditure made in his department for the last two years, showing that his department is a revenue raiser for the State and no source of expense to the Commonwealth whatever. He showed me that he has tried over one thousand cases in the State of Pennsylvania and had an attorney's cost for each case of less than ten dollars a case which is as we who have had experience in legal matters can see very economically conducted and it looks as though that department had been conducted along economical lines and I don't think that we have given this man an opportunity to show how well he has conducted the affairs of his office. I suggest to the gentleman from Tioga, Mr. Rockwell, that he withdraw his substitute resolution and allow the original resolution to go through so that Commissioner Foust can show us that statement he has now ready and he can show it for the glory of his department.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I suppose the gentleman from Philadelphia and perhaps some of the members of the House feel that I am opposing any investigation or information. From the conversation he has continually indulged in, I gather this. What I have told you before and what I mean now, in practically along the line offered by the gentleman from Tioga, Mr. Rockwell. I know very well, and everybody in the House knows, that so far as the money of 1911 is concerned, it is now in the annual report for all the departments for 1911. I feel that the amendment offered by the gentleman from Tioga accomplishes the very purpose. That is, asking that the information shall be given as to the additional appropriations that are asked for because all of the expenditures prior to that are available. If we are not satisfied with that surplus or increase that was asked for we can go back and look it over, as the resolution suggests offered by the gentleman from Philadelphia. I have expressed a willingness to agree to the introduction of the gentleman's resolution, the gentleman from Philadelphia, if we could have some assurance that everything that is called for in the resolution can be supplied within one week. I have submitted to him that if he will submit his proposition to the different departments and they can give the information that is desired within that time, I am agreeable to it, but let them say how soon they can do it. Consequently, I don't see why we should not make a limit of some sort to it and it would certainly give us all we ask for to dispose of this question.

Mr. J. R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, in reply to the gentleman from Delaware, I cannot see how it is possible when the House votes to allow the itemizing of this same appropriation in the General Appropriation bill, how there can be any possible opposition to this resolution, which merely asks for the information with reference to the expenditures of 1911, and which information is all ready. Now, for the gentleman from Delaware to ask a vote for this substitute is not going to save any time.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, my purpose was sincere in offering this resolution. It seems to me as I were trying to kill time, and I will ask leave of the Speaker to withdraw my resolution for the present.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

Mr. SPEISER. Mr. Speaker, before we pass on to another resolution, I just want to state, for the purpose of advising the members of this House as to Commissioner Foust's position in this matter, that the receipts from fines and four various other sources were $90,000 in excess of the expenses in that Department.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. WILTBANK. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point.

Mr. WILTBANK. Mr. Speaker, the point of order is, I call the hour of the day. I think that our friends will be in a better humor in the morning.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is not well taken. There is no hour fixed for adjournment on Wedensday night.

Be It Further Resolved, That the Secretary of Agriculture inform the House, not later than Monday, the ninth day of June, 1913, as to the necessity of the increase in this appropriation beyond the three thousand dollars ($3,000.00) appropriated in 1909, together with the names of all persons to be paid salaries and the expenditures anticipated under this item; and,

Be It Further Resolved, That the Secretary of Agriculture inform the House, not later than Monday, the ninth day of June, 1913, as to the necessity of the increase in this appropriation beyond the amount appropriated in 1909; and.

Be It Further Resolved, That the Secretary of Agriculture give to the House of Representatives, not later than Monday, the ninth day of June, 1913, a detailed statement of the expenditures of the two hundred sixty thousand dollars ($260,000.00) appropriated in the session of 1911, and also the necessity of increasing this appropriation to four hundred thousand dollars; and,

Be It Further Resolved, That the Secretary of Agriculture inform the House, not later than Monday, the ninth day of June, 1913, by detailed statement, of the expenditure of the ten thousand dollars ($10,000.00) appropriated in the session of 1911, including the names of all persons paid salaries under this item, and all other expenditures, and also inform the House as to the necessity of the appropriation of the ten thousand dollars ($10,000.00), as set forth in the present general appropriation bill.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. J. R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I have to ask the patient indulgence of the House in discussing this resolution. This resolution asks for information from the Agricultural Department. This resolution is for the purpose of getting information to explain to the House before we vote on this large appropriation to the Agricultural Department such facts as these: For instance, for the payment of the expenses of the Farmers Local Institute, 1907, $40,000; 1909, $40,000; 1911, $45,000; 1913, $55,000. Now, Mr. Speaker, each one of these items that I read, of the appropriations that were given by the Legislature under the Stuart administration, the last year of which was 1909, we note each one of them increasing in 1911 and 1913; and this resolution is merely for the purpose of being informed of the necessity of this character of increase. "For the establishment and maintenance of a bureau of statistics in the Department of Agriculture two years, $40,000; for the payment of the cost of carrying out the provisions of the act of twenty-first March, 1905, entitled "An Act to provide for the protection of trees et cetera, and the amendment to said act approved the fifteenth day of April, 1907, and for pest suppression for two years the sum of one hundred and sixty thousand dollars."

1909, $80,000.00 appropriation; 1911, $80,000.00 appropriation, 1913, $160,000.00 appropriation.

For the payment of the expenses of the State Board of Agriculture and the expenses of the members of said Board including specialists of the board and expenses and compensation of lecturers for two years the sum of two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500)

1909, $2,000.00; 1911, $2,500.00.

For the payment of special examinations or investigations as provided for in the act of March thirteenth one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five establishing the Department of Agriculture for two years the sum of ten thousand dollars ($10,000)

1909, $8,000.00; 1911, $10,000.00, 1913, $10,000.00.

For the payment of the cost of selecting samples making analyses and other expenses including salaries incident to carying into effect the provisions of the act of Assembly entitled "An Act to regulate the manufacture and sale of commercial fertilizers" et cetera approved May first one thousand nine hundred and nine for two years the sum of fifty-seven thousand dollars ($57,000)

1909, $44,000.00; 1911, $46,000.00.

For the payment of the cost of selecting samples making analyses and other expenses including salaries incident to carrying out the provisions of the act of Assembly "Regulating the sale of commercial feeding stuffs" approved May third one thousand nine hundred and nine for two years the sum of thirty-five thousand dollars ($35,000)

1909, $1,000.00; 1909, $25,000.00; 1911, $30,000.00.

For payment of aid to the State Horticultural Association of Pennsylvania for two years the sum of two thousand dollars ($2,000

1907, none; 1909, $1,000.00; 1911, $2,000.00.

Now these items continue down, the same increases. An appropriation for a payment to aid the Pennsylvania Bee Keepers Association, 1909, nothing; 1913, $2,000.00.

Another item 1909, nothing; 1913, $3,000.00.

Another payment, 1907, $4,300.00; 1913, $10,000.00.

Another item, 1909, $3,000.00; 1913, $17,000.00.

For the payment of expenses of special instruction and field demonstration work conducted by the Department of Agriculture for two years the sum of forty thousand dollars ($40,000)

1909, nothing; 1913, $40,000.00.

Another item, 1909, nothing; 1913, $60,000.00.

Another item, 1909, nothing; 1913, $8,500.00.

Then we have the Dairy and Food Commission, which has already been read.

Then the State Livestock Sanitary Board, 1907, $75,000.00; 1909, $175,000.00; 1911, $260,000.00; 1913, $400,000.00.

Another item, 1907, $9,000.00; 1909, $18,000.00; 1911, $25,000.00; 1913, $35,000.00.

Another item, 1909, $6,000.00; 1911, $10,000.00; 1913, $10,000.00.

I will not read, Mr. Speaker, any further items. This resolution merely asks why it is that this one particular department from the Stuart's administration to the Tener's administration increases thousands and thousands of dollars and hundreds of thousands of dollars, and that is all. And that is all the information we want and after we get that information we can possibly regulate our vote on the appropriation for that one Department.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the House to agree that all resolutions offered by the gentleman from Philadelphia and already passed by the House and all the resolutions that he has in his possession that he intends to offer to the House along these lines be referred to the Judiciary Special Committee. It is not necessary to refer them to the Appropriation Committee, because the Appropriation Committee is now making every possible effort to be able to explain when the appropriation bill comes before the House any and every item any member of the House may desire information on. We have been working along that line now for several weeks, but for fear that the information that the Appropriation Committee has when the appropriation bill is under consideration,—I am afraid that the House may now think we are considering the General Appropriation Bill—but for fear that the gentleman from Philadelphia will not have the desired information, I feel that the House ought to refer all these resolutions to the Judiciary Special Committee so that the gentleman from Philadelphia will be in the position and have power to go to those Departments and get this information and then with the information from the Judiciary Special Committee and the Appropriation Committee surely we ought to be able to give the House full information on every item in the General Appropriation bill when it comes up for consideration. I hope the House will take this seriously and refer all these resolutions to the Judiciary Special Committee.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I do not suppose that the motion is made in all seriousness. The motion could not be possibly considered by the House because the resolutions have been voted on by the House and are now adopted resolutions. If he makes such a motion as to this particular resolution that would be a proper motion. I now rise to the point of order that the present motion is out of order.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent of the House, we do this unanimously.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is well taken.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I want to inform the gentleman from Philadelphia that he is mistaken if he thinks I am not serious in my motion.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is sustained. There is only one resolution before the House.

Mr. RONEY. Mr. Speaker, it seems to me that the House is acting at cross purposes. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Scott, in advocating the adoption of the various resolutions is vigorously contending that all he seeks is the itemizing of the amounts in the general appropriation bill for the various Departments under the State Government. Now, Mr. Speaker, it seems to me that there should be no difficulty about passing this resolution for to my mind the one particular argument to be used in favor of the adoption of this resolution is that the subcommittee of the Appropriation Committee is going to find out just the information that this resolution seeks. Whilst I do not think it is at all necessary, for the purpose of bringing all this information to bear on the members of the House that these resolutions should have been ever offered at all, I see no vice in their introduction at this time, because no member of this House, and least of all the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Scott, would contend for a moment that men of the type of the gentleman from Elk, Mr. Flynn, and the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Ehrhardt, in making up the amounts of the items for the various Departments, will not see that the heads of these various Departments convince them that every penny of the money asked for is to be utilized for the proper purposes.

The only reason that the itemized idea has been dropped has been ably argued by the gentleman from Delaware and that is that sometimes when you have a rigid amount you find difficulty where the work in one division of the Department does not require the expenditure of the whole of its specific item and some other work in the department would require more money than has been appropriated in the specific item and therefore it seems to me there should be absolutely no argument against this resolution, because the sub-committee of the Appropriation Committee is going to find out just the information that these resolutions seek.

I do not think it is at all proper in the argument made by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Scott, in advocating the adoption of his resolutions, that there should have been any reference to the policies with reference to the appropriations under the Stuart administration and those under the Tener administration, because the Appropriation Committee then and the Appropriation Committee now, and the Governor then and the Governor now, are surely open and willing to invite the widest inspection and there should not be any discussion along the line that there has been anything concealed.

I therefore move, Mr. Speaker, at this time, the adoption of this resolution.

The SPEAKER. The question of the adoption of the resolution is already before the House.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the resolution?

The resolution was agreed to.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I offer no further resolutions at this time, but I reserve to myself the right to offer some in the future.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. J. H. YOUNG. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer, the following amendments.

The amendments were read by the Clerk.

Amend Section 1 by striking out the word "fifteenth day of October" in line 12 and inserting in lieu thereof the words "first day of November."

Also in line 13 strike out the words "thirtieth day of November" and insert in lieu thereof the words "fifteenth day of December."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. CURRIER. Mr. Speaker, on April 18th, there was a game bill passed putting the season for all small game except hare and rabbits and quail from the fifteenth day of October until the last of November. At that time, there was an amendment put in that bill that seemed to me to extend the rabbit season until the last of December. At that time there was a bill that had passed the House to protect quail for two years which bill was killed in the Senate. This bill proposes to correct that rabbit season. On the 15th day of October and extend it to the last of December, making the rabbit season for rabbits and hares to come in the same time as other small game and go out the same time as other small game so that there will be no excuse for people hunting rabbits when the season has expired. I hope this amendment will not be concurred in.

Mr. JOHN H. YOUNG. Mr. Speaker, two years ago, I happened to be a member of the Game Committee, we reported a bill which brought squirrels and rabbits and pheasants and quail together. This year the committee changed that from the first of November to the fifteenth of October. Anybody who hunts or knows anything about it knows that rabbits are not fit to eat in this section of the country on the fifteenth of October.

Mr. CURRIER. Mr. Speaker, anybody that knows anything about hunting at all knows that a rabbit that is not fit to eat on the 15th day of October is not fit to eat on the first of November. It is a settled fact that there is no compulsion about this; if a man does not want to shoot a rabbit before the first of November he does not have to do it. I hope this amendment will be voted down.

Mr. KERN. Mr. Speaker, I hope this amendment will be voted down. Rabbits are not fit to eat in October, in which I agree with the gentleman in Clearfield and on that account I hope that this amendment will not prevail.

Mr. JOHN H. YOUNG. Mr. Speaker, when we passed this bill two years ago we did it with good intentions, and we found that it had good results, from the fact that the squirrels have increased to great numbers now. They were hunting squirrels and birds and killing rabbits at the same time, therefore we brought it all in at the same time so as to make it uniform. I hope that this amendment will go through.

Mr. CURRIER. Mr. Speaker, this does not change the fact that there is a bill already signed by the Governor that brings all other small game, except rabbits and quail, in on the 15th of October, and we want rabbits and quail to go in at the same time so that there will be no excuse for people to be in the woods and hunting and shooting at everything they see.

Mr. McDERMOTT. Mr. Speaker, a bill has passed the House here known as the Price bill. That Price bill interferes with the law we have been working under for the last eight or ten years. Now if this bill is not passed, this Crow bill, we will have two seasons. We will have a certain kind of game coming in at one time and another kind of game coming in two weeks later, and I think the House will agree with me that we have many hunters that forget the time when they are out after game. Now if you will pass this amendment, this Crow bill will correct the bill known as the Price bill, and I hope the House will not stand for two separate seasons for different game and I hope the House will vote down this amendment and pass the bill as it appears on the calendar.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

A division was called for, 64 voting in the affirmative and 40 in the negative,

And the amendment was agreed to.

The section as amended was then agreed to.

The second section of the bill was read and agreed to as follows:

Section 2 Each and every magistrate alderman and justice of the peace in this Commonwealth is hereby given the power of summary conviction in all matters pertaining to violations of any of the provisions of this act and all prosecutions for such violations shall be conducted and the penalties collected shall be applied as is provided for in section thirty-one of the act of May first one thousand nine hundred and nine entitled "An Act to provide for the protection and preservation of game game quadrupeds and game birds and song and insectivorous and other wild birds and prescribing penalties for violation of its several provisions"

The third section of the bill was read as follows:

Section 3 So much of the act approved the eighteenth day of April one thousand nine hundred and thirteen entitled "An Act to provide for the better protection and preservation of game game-quadrupeds and game-birds in Pennsylvania and prescribing penalties for the violation of its several provisions" as relates to rabbit and hare and also all other acts or parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. CURRIER. Mr. Speaker, I object to that section. I ask for a roll call on that.

ADJOURNMENT.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn.

The motion was agreed to and (at 11:06) the House adjourned until tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

PRAYER.

The CHAPLAIN (Rev. J. E. Wright), offered the following prayer:

O God, we thank Thee for this fresh, invigorating morning, and for the strengthening which has come to us through sleep. We pray that Thou wouldst accompany us with Thy helpful guardianship and favor through all the duties of this day. These duties will be numerous and various. Wilt Thou be our wisdom and our strength as we successively face them throughout the day. May we be delivered from restlessness, from discontent, from the waste of time and energy, from an excess of anxiety, from anything which may interfere in any way with our work. May all who come in contact with us receive and give both profiting and pleasure in our mutual intercourse. Bless our whole circle and especially that family into which such desolating sorrow and grief has come. Comfort them with the comfort of God, which this world cannot give. Bless our Commonwealth, its interests, its industries, its teeming populations. May pure and undefiled religion prevail throughout all our borders. Instruct the rich that they strive after humility and avoid ostentatious display. May the poor be thrifty and diligent, hopeful and content. May all in authority have the help which they need for their responsible duties. We leave us in Thy hands and pray for Thy blessing upon us, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Be It Further Resolved, That the State Highway Commissioner inform the House, not later than Monday, the 9th day of June, 1913, as to the expenditure of the item of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000.00) appropriated in 1911, for the payment of salaries and other necessary expenses of the Automobile Division of the State Highway Department, giving a detailed statement of all such expenditures, and also giving in detail the anticipated increase in these expenses, making necessary the increase in this item of appropriation from one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000.00) in 1911 to one hundred fifty thousand dollars ($150,000,00), as set forth in the general appropriation bill of this session; and,

Be It Further Resolved, That the State Highway Commissioner inform the House, not later than Monday, the 9th of June, 1913, as to the item of appropriation of eighty thousand dollars ($80,000.00) for the payment of investigations, experimental work and tests, as set forth in the present general appropriation bill, and also a detailed statement of the expenditure of the fifty thousand dollars ($50,000.00) appropriated in 1911 for the same purpose and to the necessity of the increase in this appropriation from fifty thousand dollars ($50,000.00) of 1911 to eighty thousand ($80,000.00) as set forth in the present general appropriation bill, giving in detail the amount of such work anticipated under this item of appropriation; and,

Be It Further Resolved, That the State Highway Commissioner inform the House, not later than Monday, the 9th day of June, 1913, as to the necessity of the item of appropriation, amounting to two hundred fifty thousand dollars ($250,000.00), for the reconstruction of roadways destroyed by storm, cloud-burst or other catastrophe, or from other uncontrollable or unavoidable cause; and,

Be It Further Resolved, That the State Highway Commissioner inform the House, not later than Monday, the 9th day of June, 1913, as to the necessity of the item of appropriation, amounting to two hundred fifty thousand dollars ($250,000.00), for the reconstruction of roadways destroyed by storm, cloud-burst or other catastrophe, or from other uncontrollable or unavoidable cause; and,

Be It Further Resolved, That the State Highway Commissioner inform the House, not later than Monday, the 9th day of June, 1913, as to the necessity of the item of one million dollars ($1,000,000.00), as set forth in the present appropriation bill, for the permanent improvement of highways described in the Act creating the State Highway Department, approved May 21st, 1911, as State-aid Highways, giving in detail the work proposed to be done and paid for under this item of appropriation; and,

Be It Further Resolved, That the State Highway Commissioner inform the House, not later than Monday, the 9th day of June, 1913, as to the necessity of the item of four million dollars ($4,000,000.00), as set forth in the present general appropriation bill, for the repair and construction of state highways described in the Act creating the State Highway Department, approved May 21st, 1911, and for the payment of the State's share of the maintenance and repair of State-aid highways constructed prior to or improved under the provisions of the Act creating the State Highway Department, etc., giving in detail the work necessary and anticipated to be done and paid for under this item of appropriation, and giving in detail the State-aid highways to be improved and paid for under this item of appropriated; and,

Be It Further Resolved, That the State Highway Commissioner inform the House, not later than Monday, the 9th day of June, 1913, as to the necessity of the item of two million dollars ($2,000,000.00), as set forth in the present general appropriation bill, for the maintenance of unimproved roads known as State Highways, giving in detail the roads likely to be improved and the probable necessary expense of improving the same, to be paid for under this item of appropriation; and,

Be It Further Resolved, That the State Highway Commissioner inform the House, not later than Monday, the 9th day of June, 1913, as to the necessity of the item of five hundred twenty thousand dollars ($520,000.00), as set forth in the present general appropriation bill, for the payment of the necessary expenses in the acquiring of turnpikes roads, as authorized by the Act creating the State Highway Department, etc., giving in detail the roads likely to be acquired, and all necessary expense to be paid under this item of appropriation.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to state to the House that the information asked for in that resolution requirring the State Highway Commissioner to give in detail the purpose of the appropriation for the coming two years is practically an impossibility, and if you pass the resolution in that form, you are asking for information which they will not be able to furnish us in the next three months. There is not a particle of doubt about it. How can the State Highway Commissioner tell at this time? The State aid road involves a question of about 80,000 miles of road in this State. He cannot tell at this time. It is impossible for him to tell where he will probably spend this money. It will require information and investigation and observation to find out where that State aid money will be placed, but certainly no person who is acquainted with the Commission would expect to get an intelligent answer to that resolution as it now reads inside of probably four or five months. There is a part of that resolution which perhaps is very proper for the House to pass, but surely you are not going to ask the State Highway Commissioner to answer this kind of question. I hope the gentleman from Susquehanna County, who is the Chairman of the Roads Committee, will bear me out in this statement, for he will surely know that the giving of the information required in this resolution will be a practical impossibility. I do not want to object to any resolution that asks for reasonable information for the use of this House. This resolution, if adopted, would keep us here until next year.

Mr. S. B. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, here is a very good example of the perplexities of the uninformed member. I was informed before the gentleman from Delaware took the floor that the information had already been prepared, and therefore it is not necessary to answer the gentleman from Delaware's statement that it cannot be prepared within the next six months, all of which I think absolutely proves the necessity of the resolution so that we can definitely find out why there is about four or five millions extra asked for in this appropriation for the Highway Department. But we want the information in as great detail as the Highway Commissioner finds he can reasonably furnish it in the time in which we ask it. If he does his best in that time, then the House will look at the record and see if he can give us what we have a reasonable right to expect, if not then there will possibly be another and further resolution. If he does it, then everything will be serene and we will not be here six weeks.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I further suggest that the Chief of the Highway Department must necessarily have had some figures to furnish the Appropriation Committee whereon he based the cost of that Department, and probably those figures which he gave the Committee and which were so satisfactory for the Committee to draft this bill, might be just as satisfactory to the members of this House.

Mr. R. J. BALDWWIN. Mr. Speaker, certainly every member of this House realizes that if we had fifty million dollars that we could spare out of the Treasury for road-building purposes, we would be glad to have the Highway Commissioner ask for that amount. The Highway Commissioner has probably asked for the improvement of State highways all that he thinks the Legislature, and probably more than the Legislature will give, but we have a number of members in the House, some of them, as I understand, feel that we should not have a $50,000,000 loan, but that we should appropriate annually a certain sum of money. Now, the State Highway Commissioner asks for money for certain permanent improvements, not only for State highways but for State aid purposes, and also for the building of dirt road, perhaps. In all probability this House could do that, but this resolution asks the State Highway Commissioner to give in detail where he proposes to spend this money. I say it is impossible. I think the gentleman should say "reasonable" in his resolution. That might perhaps cover the objections that I am now making to the resolution. The information asked by this resolution is specific information. Now, if specific information does not come back, probably some member will arise in the House and attack the Department because it did not answer the question as required by the resolution. Now I think the gentleman ought to withdraw his resolution and shape it along that line. He says he only wants a reasonable answer. That is all that the gentleman wants and it is all that he expresses, but the resolution does not read that way. It will have to be taken in cold type. The resolution is unreasonable; it asks for unreasonable information, at least if you expect to get it inside of a couple of months.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, the suggestion of unreasonableness is only a matter of comparison. What probably would be reasonable to one would be very unreasonable to another and what would be unreasonable to one might be very reasonable to another. What might be satisfactory to one might be very unsatisfactory to another. What might be unsatisfactory to one might be very satisfactory to another. And if the resolution as it stands asks for only those matters which have been already figured out, and on which those facts and estimates have been based, the House ought to be in possession of those matters.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Allegheny is slightly misleading when he refers to the perfected general appropriation bill. He has not seen that. In the perfected general appropriation bill, as will be recommended by the sub-committee, the amounts may vary very materially from the amounts in the bill as it passed second reading on which the gentlemen are basing their resolutions. The sub-committee, I can say to the House, has changed a great many items in the appropriation bill as it passed second reading and is now before the House.

Mr. BLELOCH. Mr. Speaker, I would like to say in response to the gentleman from Tioga, Mr. Williams, that the general appropriation bill has been in the hands of the sub-committee of the Appropriation Committee since the 24th day of March. On an average of once or twice a week I have asked the Chairman of that sub-committee as to when he was going to report or give the committee some information that we could take up in detail and here we are the last few weeks, may be the last few days, of the session with absolutely nothing to base our information upon. We have nothing at our disposal except the general appropriation bill as it has passed second reading; two months and no information. I think that the House ought to pass these resolutions.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the resolution?

RESOLUTION REQUESTING INFORMATION FROM THE COMMISSIONER OF BANKING.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I offer the following resolution:

The SPEAKER. The resolution will be read by the Clerk.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

Whereas, There is set forth in the general appropriation bill now passed second reading, in the House, an item of three thousand dollars ($3,000,00), for the payment of necessary expenses occasioned for instituting proceedings for the violation of the Act approved the 23rd day of April, 1909, by the Commissioner of Banking, and,

Whereas, Under the general appropriation bill, having now passed second reading in the House, there is appropriated an item of four thousand five hundred dollars ($4,500.00) for payment of contingent expenses to the Banking Department,

Therefore Be It resolved, That the Commissioner of Banking inform the House of Representatives, not later than Monday, the 9th day of June, 1913, as to whether or not this is for prosecutions already instituted, or for prosecutions to be instituted in the future, and to state whether or no this money is for the payment of counsel, and if so, the names of such counsel, and to give a detailed account of all expenses already incurred, if they are to be paid from this item, and,

Be It Further Resolved, That the Commissioner of the Department of Banking inform the House, not later than Monday, the 9th of June, 1913, in detail of the expenditure of the four thousand five hundred dollars ($4,500.00) appropriated to that department for the payment of contingent expenses for the years of 1911 and 1912.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I ask that the resolution be again read.

The resolution was again read by the Clerk.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the resolution?

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I do not know how the gentleman expects the Banking Commissioner to tell this House who he may probably have to employ as counsel in any matters that may arise during the next two years. That resolution as it reads requires the Banking Commissioner to tell the House who the counsel will be that he will employ perhaps in some building and loan association that he may have to close up down in Washington County, perhaps another in Susquehanna County, perhaps another in Delaware County and perhaps another in Pittsburgh. The resolution as it reads requires the Banking Commissioner to state who he is going to employ during the following two years with that money appropriated. Now, I am perfectly satisfied to make an inquiry as to the money that has been spent. I am perfectly satisfied to vote for a resolution that asks for information that is possible for the Department to give, but like the resolution that preceded, it asks for information that will be impossible for the Department to give this House. Therefore I think this resolution should be voted down in the the form it is now in.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

SUBSTITUTE RESOLUTION.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, I offer the following substitute resolution.

The SPEAKER. The substitute will be read by the Clerk.

The substitute was then read as follows:

Resolved, That the heads of the several departments of this Commonwealth asking for appropriations in the General Appropriation Bill for this session furnish the House not later than next Monday the reasons for any change or increase of the amount asked for, or any particular item in said bill wherein a bulk amount is asked for.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, I move the adoption of the substitute resolution.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, if the House should adopt the substitute resolution, it would not furnish the House with the information called for in the original resolution, as offered by myself, applying merely to one item in this department, and that is the contingent fund, and it merely asks for the information as to how that fund was expended under the last appropriation and how it will be expended under the next appropriation, or rather the present one. If it is to be used for the payment of counsel fees, then the banking commissioner can inform the House. It merely asks whether or not that contingent fund is to be used in paying for prosecutions already instituted or to be instituted in the future. There surely can be no objection on the part of the banking commissioner to furnishing the House with that information.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, for the information of myself at least, I would like to have that part of the original resolution read that applies to that expenditure, and if I understand it, it reads that the banking commissioner shall inform the House not only whom he has employed in the past, but whom he may have employed for any case pending, or for any case that may in the future arise. If it does not contain that provision I have no objection to the resolution.

The SPEAKER. For the information of the House, the Clerk will read that portion of the original resolution called for by the gentleman from Delaware.

The Clerk then read the resolution as follows:

"Therefore be it resolved, that the Commissioner of Banking inform the House of Representatives, not later than Monday, the 9th day of June, 1913, as to whether or not this is for prosecutions already instituted, or for prosecutions to be instituted in the future, and to state whether or not this money is for the payment of counsel, and if so, the names of such counsel, and to give a detailed account of all expenses already incurred, if they are to be paid from this item."

Mr. J. R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I think that the gentleman from Tioga, Mr. Rockwell, and the gentleman from Delaware will see clearly that this substitute resolution will not meet what the resolution offered by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. W. H. Wilson, called for. Last session there was a bill passed, a bill offered, I believe, by the Speaker himself, then a member on the floor of the House, called the Private Banking Bill, which bill was amended and came from the Senate Conference Committee, and has been generally held to be unconstitutional and inactive. Now this appropriation in the banking department is for the payment of the salaries and expenses of employes, etc., incurred under the Act of Assembly approved the 19th day of June, 1911, relative to the banking laws. This resolution calls for information as to whether or not the banking department is asking for twelve thousand dollars to continue under this act which has not been tested. Now the substitution offered would not help us a particle, but if the gentleman wants to offer the substitute resolution as to some previous resolution, it would be all right. I think with this explanation that he should withdraw his substitute, and allow the resolution offered by the gentleman from Philadelphia Mr. Wilson, to be adopted. This information would likely eliminate this one item of twelve thousand dollars, unless the banking department has engaged counsel and the attorney has advised him as to the constitutionality of the act. But if it is as we anticipate and feel, that the bill passed at the last session is not constitutional, then the attorney general's office should have the matter tested, and that would eliminate the act from the statute books, or put it in such shape that an appropriation would have to be made subsequently. I therefore ask the gentleman to withdraw his substitute and allow the original resolution to prevail.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, it is not my desire, nor do I think it is the desire of any gentleman of this House to cover up anything and keep away any information that the House needs to act intelligently upon a bill, but the burden of the remarks of the gentleman last night and today upon these resolutions is that they want the information as to the increased amounts asked for in the general appropriation bill. The resolution I offered last night was to cover that, and to cover all these propositions. We have been working for three or four hours last night and for some time this morning, and we have accomplished nothing. It seems to me that in offering this substitute calling upon all the heads of the departments for information will get the information wanted and save time. They merely ask that the several departments furnish information as to the increases and the changes. That is the information that the gentlemen seek to obtain, unless there is some ulterior purpose back of it.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Tioga.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Tioga permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman whether or not if his substitute prevails we will get under his substitute that which is asked for in this resolution offered by the gentleman from Philadelphia as to whether or not this twelve thousand dollars is for prosecutions already instituted or for prosecutions to be instituted in the future, and whether or not the money is for the payment of counsel, and if so, the name of such counsel, and all information in detail as to the expenses already incurred.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, as I understand the two resolutions offered, the one that I offered would not go into an investigation of the banking department, and would not make them furnish an itemized detailed statement for the past two or three years, and it appears to me that the burden of contention on the part of the gentlemen offering this resolution that they merely want the reasons for the increases and changes.

Mr. J. R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, what the gentleman from Tioga says in reference to going into a full investigation, in the majority of the resolutions, but it is not correct so far as this particular resolution is concerned, because it goes into the question as to one particular amount, this twelve thousand dollars, which is for the payment of services under an act of the assembly which is recognized by all attorneys to be unconstitutional and recognized so by the legal department of this Commonwealth, because no prosecutions have been offered under the Act of Assembly.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. J. R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, as I understand the gentleman last night, when I offered a similar resolution as a substitute, that he stated on the floor of the House that if I withdrew it then and would agree to the adoption of that resolution then before the House, that if I offered it again he would support it.

Mr. J. R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, in reply I would say that I will undoubtedly agree to the adoption of the substitute resolution of the gentleman from Tioga as a separate resolution, as I think it is highly proper, but I do not think it is a proper substitution to this resolution. As I said, it is a proper resolution and should be a resolution of the House, but it should not be a substitute for the resolution referring to the banking department.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman further. I desire to ask him whether or not this item that he objects to is not a new item, and would it not be covered by the resolution offered by me.

Mr. J. R. K. SCOTT. No, Mr. Speaker, it would not. It is a new item, but the substitute resolution would not meet the requirements of the original resolution. The original resolutions asks for the expenditures from the time of the passage of the act in 1911. We ask for that information. While the substitute would meet partly with what we seek, it would not meet with the real information that are asking for. If I may reply furher, Mr. Speaker, if the resolution offered by the gentleman had been offered as a substitute to the resolution relative to the Highway Department, for instance, it would more than likely have covered everything set out and asked for in that resolution.

Mr. ROCKWELL. Mr. Speaker, I refuse to withdraw my substitute resolution.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I was under the impression when I first rose to object to these resolutions, that they would practically open the doors for an investigation of every department at Harrisburg or in the Capital or any department in the State. I could not help but feel that such a provision, coming late in the session and from a gentleman of the experience of the gentleman from Philadelphia was a very, very unusual thing. I do not know of any department that would withhold any information necessary for the House to intelligently act upon a measure, and I surely agree with the gentleman from Tioga when he says that he understood the gentleman from Philadelphia to say that he desired this information so that we would know how to vote on this appropriation bill, in other words, where these increases and any other money that would be contained in the appropriation bill for the different departments is to be expended. Now it does seem that the gentleman has backed away from that purpose. The other resolution that passed prior to this one is one to my mind that calls for an investigation of the Department. This is a similar one and I hope that the House will either agree that we are going to investigate all of the Departments or agree that it is too late now to do it during this session, and then ask for the information required by the resolution offered by the gentleman from Tioga.

Mr. SPEISER. Mr. Speaker, in discussing the original resolution, to which the resolution of the gentleman from Tioga is a substitute, the gentleman from Delaware said that it was absolutely impossible for the banking commissioner to give the information as to the necessity of increase because he could not tell now, and he advocates the adoption of this resolution which calls for the same purpose. Mr. Speaker, in considering this item and the resolution offered by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Wilson, it is absolutely imperative that this House should have the facts that have prevailed in the past and been contracted by the department so that they can base a proper conclusion on determining the expediency on the item called for. I see no reason why the substitute offered by the gentleman from Tioga should prevail.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I offer the following amendment to the substitute resolution offered by the gentleman from Tioga, Mr. Rockwell.

The SPEAKER. The amendment to the substitute will be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk then twice read the amendment which was considered and agreed to, as follows:

> Amend the substitute offered by the gentleman from Tioga, Mr Rockwell, by adding after the words "amount asked for" the words "or any particular item in said bill wherein a bulk amount is asked for."

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, with the adoption of that amendment we now agree to the adoption of the substitute.

The SPEAKER. The question recurs upon the adoption of the substitute.

It was agreed to.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 41.

Mr. E. E. JONES. Mr. Speaker, for the purpose of breaking the monotony of the proceedings and affording relaxation to the members, I desire to call up Concurrent Resolution No. 41, from today's calendar.

The SPEAKER. The resolution will be read by the Clerk.

The Resolution was then read by the Clerk as follows:

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 41.

Requesting Congress to enact such legislation as will be necessary for the construction of a system of paved public highways connecting the Capitals of the several States of the Union with the National Capital and with each other and also with he principal National Parks

Whereas, A uniform system of National Public Highways or roads connecting the Capitals of the several States of the Union with the National Capital at Washington and with each other, and also with the principal National Parks will vastly promote commerce between the several States and reduce the cost of transportation thereof facilitate and cheapen travel and social intercourse between the people discourage sectionalism, and render the entire people more cosmopolitan intelectually morally, and politically aid the farmer in marketing his produce and make farm life more agreeable, attractive and profitable, induce American to see and know America, beautify all parts of the Union, intensify industrial activities, encourage good road building throughout the continent and bring the entire people countless blessings conveniences and joys known only to a highly developed country and

Whereas, To secure uniformity thoroughness and economy in the construction, fitness and adaptability of grades and avoidance of such local controversies in the selection of routes as would probably delay if not defeat the entire enterprise the cost of such a system of highways being beyond the probable financial resources of the several States it would be necessary that it would be constructed at the expense and under the supervision of the General Government, now therefore be it

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur) That the Honorable Congress of the United States is respectfully urged to enact suitable legislation for the location and construction under the supervision, and by the General Government of a system of National Highways, or roads, which shall connect the capitals of the several States of the Union with the National Capital at Washington and with each other, and also with the principal National Parks; that such National Highways be constructed on firm concrete bases with hard surfaces, and as nearly dustless as possible; that they be located solely with regard to the greatest public good, and feasibility of route and grades, and be it further

Resolved, That Congress is earnestly urged to provide in such legislation means of raising the necessary money for the location and construction of such National Highway by the restoration of the internal revenue tax of one thousand eight hundred seventy-nine on tobacco, or in some other manner as to it shall seem meet and proper, and that the location and construction of such a system of highways be commenced as means can be provided throughout the country generally without giving priority to any section or locations, and it is further

Resolved, That a copy of this memorial be forwarded by the Secretary of the Comonwealth of Pennsylvania to the Senate and to the House of Representatives of the United States, and be it further

Resolved, That copies thereof be transmitted by the Secretary of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to the Senators and Representatives in Congress from the State of Pennsylvania, with the request that they use every effort within their power to bring about a speedy action for the accomplishment of the ends and purposes herein indicated

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I am not thoroughly acquainted with the road business but I have understood that there are certain products which are practically required by our Highways Department as being especially adapted for the construction of these boulevards which traverse the great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. I note with some concern in this bill on page two about four lines from the bottom a special provisions which states how the roads under this resolution shall be constructed, and it is in these words: "On firm concrete bases with hard surface and as nearly dustless as possible." Now, I have been informed, Mr. Speaker, and I don't know how reliably, but I look upon by source of information with the greatest confidence that in the appropriation of our public highways it is plain that there is a special appropriation which is owned, and controlled by a single concern which furnishes the most dustless road preparation that has yet been manufactured. I take it that the purpose of this resolution is to tie the hands of this State to the advancement of the interests of that particular product. If it were not so, the expression which I have just read, "as nearly dustless as possible" would not be in this resolution. I suggested to the House a moment ago that a matter of this sort is a matter of comparison. I suspect, Mr. Speaker, that where experts on road building called into conference on a matter of this kind at this present time, they would agree that there is a product which is the most nearly dustless of all road products. Now, I see no reason, Mr. Speaker, why for the purpose of the advancement of this concern by this resolution a single product should be covered and all others eliminated. I think it is bad policy for this legislature not only to tie its own hands in the future by going on record on this matter at this time but I do consider that if we were to do so, we would but carry out the desire of a lobby that has existed in this House in relation to this resolution ever since its introduction on the other side of this House, and such a lobby I feel the individual members of this House, some of them at least, will agree with me, has been conducted with reference to this resolution and still it has been concealed as to why this particular resolution should be advanced. I say at this time and I challenge any member of this House to contradict the statement that the resolution as drawn is for the purpose of governing one single product which has a monopoly which is owned and controlled by a favored few in this Commonwealth and for their benefit only. This resolution in its present form ought not to be adopted.

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker, In reading this resolution on the second page, I notice that it carries with it a provision for raising the money to defray the expenses of building these State highways by the restoration of the internal revenue tax on tobacco "or in some manner as to it shall seem meet and proper." There is no more ardent advocate in this House for the building of State highways and the improvement of the public roads than the gentleman from Lancaster (referring to himself) but I must take exception to the manner proposed for raising the money to defray these expenses. When they provide for the raising of the money in this way: the restoration of the internal revenue tax of 1879 on tobacco or "in some other manner as it shall seem meet and proper"—now as "to the other manner that might seem meet and proper"—that might be all right but the restoration of the internal revenue tax on tobacco I believe would be decidedly unjust. I believe that you gentlemen will agree with me that tobacco is to-day paying its full share toward the support of the national government and the use to which they put the moneys that come to their credit. Just to give you information as to what share it does pay, and as this has come up suddenly I don't have any accurate figures, but allow me to show you that a small cigar manufacturing plant employing thirty workmen will pay into the United States Treasury, in the form of internal revenue tax alone one hundred dollars a day. In addition to that, for every pound of filler tobacco that is imported to this country, there is a duty of twenty-eight cents a pound and for every pound of wrapper that is imported into this country, there is a duty of $1.85 per pound, and now, the unfair feature about the act that is proposed to be reinstated, as I recall that act, is this: It fixes a graduating scale of internal revenue tax upon the basis of the wholesale price. When that act was invoked it led to the grossest kind of deception and misrepresentation, for instance, all cigars that sold at wholesale under a certain price—I think it was eighteen dollars per thousand, the internal revenue tax was three dollars a thousand. The next dividing line was four dollars a thousand and from that on up to when cigars were sold at one hundred and twenty dollars a thousand, the internal revenue tax was twenty-six dollars a thousand. They incorporated distributing companies, that they owned and controlled, and the manufacturer would sell those clear Havana cigars that should have been sold at $120 or more a thousand to his own distributors whom he owned and controlled at a reduced price, but the small manufacturer and the small operator he paid the full amount as carried by the bill. There never was a bill upon the statute books of the United States affecting the internal revenue on tobacco and cigars that was so avoided, and was so deceptive and so grossly misrepresented as the act that they by this resolution seek to reinstate, and for that reason I hope, gentlemen of the House, you will vote this resolution down.

Mr. E. E. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I believe I stated distinctly to the House that I did not call this resolution up as sponsor of the resolution. The gentleman who is sponsor for the resolution has left for home and requested that I call up the resolution this morning. I think it is merely a memorial or request to Congress to enact such legislation as will be necessary for the construction of public highways connecting the capitals of the several States of the Union and the Capital of the United States with each other and with the principal national parks. It is merely a memorial to Congress for Congress to take some action along this line as outlined in this resolution. For my part I don't think such resolutions amount to a great deal in this matter or any other matter which we may send to Congress. It is merely to indicate that we as a Legislature are in favor of the Federal Government's entering into the construction of national highways. The question as to type of road which is to be built has been raised by the gentleman from Allegheny. I hardly think that the gentleman from Allegheny would deny that a type of road such as indicated in this bill, or something after that manner, would be the highest type of road that could be built, as at the present time the construction of State highways in the manner indicated here would be considered the most advanced stage of construction. Whether it refers to any particular kind of material used in the construction of that highway. I do not so understand it. In reply to the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Hess, the resolution merely suggests to Congress that the revenue can be raised in this way. If it is objectionable, doubtless Congress would not inaugurate such a system and would endeavor to raise the money in some other way. I want to state again, Mr. Speaker, that I am not the sponsor of this bill, but merely called it up so that the matter could be disposed of, having been on the calendar for such a length of time.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Susquehanna, Mr. E. E. Jones.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. E. E. JONES. Certainly, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman from Susquehanna if under the present construction of highways under the Highway Department a certain material is not required? One certain material for the building of public highways and required for the reason that it is said to be the most dustless road-constructing material that has yet been found?

Mr. E. E. JONES. Mr. Speaker, in reply to the gentleman, I do not think that all the highways that are constructed by the Highway Department require this material to be used. In many of the contracts which have been let, I believe that this particular substance has been required.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I will ask the gentleman further, if the substance Warinite is not owned and controlled exclusively by one concern and is an absolute monopoly?

Mr. E. E. JONES. Mr. Speaker, as I understand it, while I am not an authority on that matter, I think that is true, but, Mr. Speaker, in addition, I wish to state that there are other materials which can be used which make practically, but perhaps not so high a type of roads, as those constructed of Warinite, but there are materials similar to Warinite which can be used and make practically or nearly a dustless road.

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in the resolution?

It was not concurred in.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 55.

Mr. PIPER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up from page 81 of to-day's calendar, Resolution No. 55, file folio 9885.

The resolution was read as follows:

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 55.

Whereas, The United States Arsenal at Frankford in Philadelphia occupies a territory much too limited for its experimental work and for the proper location of its magazines for storing ammunition and explosives and

Whereas, There is immediately adjacent to the Frankford Arsenal an undeveloped tract of land of about twenty acres which is suitable in every way for experimental work and for the storing of ammunition and explosives under safe conditions therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur) That the attenion of the Senators and Representatives in Congress from Pennsylvania is hereby invited to the need for the condemnation and purchase of this land and said Senators and Representatives are hereby respectively urged to secure the necessary legislation for the procurement of the said tract for the United States and be it further

Resolved That the Secretary of the Commonwealth be directed to send each Senator and Representative in the Congress of the United States from Pennsylvania a certified copy of this resolution

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution?

Mr. PIPER. Mr. Speaker, this resolution was introduced by Senator Nulty, who comes from the district in which this arsenal is located, and in order that the members in the House will fully know the reasons for the resolution, I made a close investigation, the result of which I will read to the members.

"First: Frankfort Arsenal manufactures practically all the small arms ammunition used by the military forces of the nation, all the artillery ammunition used by the army and the organized militia, and nearly all the range finders, sights and other instruments used for fire control by the mobile and seacoast artillery defenses.

Second. A comparison of the prices paid for small arms ammunition and artillery ammunition heretofore, with the cost at the Frankford Arsenal, the latter effects a saving to the United States Government of at least $670,00 annually.

The value of the Frankford Arsenal is about $3,500,000. It therefore, pays for itself every five years.

Third. The value of its manufactures is greater than that of any other arsenal. Their value now is about $3,000,000 annually.

Fourth. The Frankford Arsenal has the best transportation facilities of any arsenal, being accessible to both rail and water transportation. It has the advantage of lower transportation rates by reason of such facilities. Suitable box cars for loading ammunition can be readily obtained from the large yards of the trunk line railroads in Philadelphia, so that it has been practicable to ship fifeen carloads of ammuniion within three days.

Fifth. There are more employees at the Frankford Arsenal than at any other arsenal except the Rock Island Arsenal.

Sixth. The extent and amount of the purchases made at Frankford Arsenal are larger than at any other arsenal and in fact at one time, if not now, they were larger than all the other arsenals combined.

Seventh. The variety of manufactures at Frankford Arsenal is greater than that of any other arsenal except possibly that of Rock Island Arsenal.

Eighth. The Frankford Arsenal is located in a territory where there are 250,000 skilled workmen. No other arsenal has such advantages facilities for the procurement of skilled labor of all kinds.

Ninth. Frankford Arsenal has the least acreage of any manufacturing arsenal. Frankford Arsenal has 62 acres, whereas Watertown has 87, Waterleit 106, Springfield 185 and Rock Island 896. The arsenals named are the five large manufacturing arsenals.

Frankford Arsenal has less acreage than any other arsenal except the New York Arsenal and San Antonio Arsenal which do no manufacturing whatever.

Tenth. The concentration of manufacturing activities at Frankford Arsenal as compared with the other four principal arsenals is well established from the consideration that every acre of land at the Frankford Arsenal produces $37,400 annually by way of manufactures, as compared with $10,800 for each acre at Watertown Arsenal; $5,800 for each acre at Springfield Armory; $2,900 for each acre at the Watervliet Arsenal; and $2,800 for each acre at the Rock Island Arsenal.

Eleventh. Furthermore, Frankford Arsenal handles in its manufactures explosives of many kinds, which calls for their use and storage under as safe conditions as is practicable to obtain. The magazines and the primer and detonator dry houses are now located within about fifty yards of shop buildings where employees are required to work. This condition is manifestly unsafe for them.

Twelfth. The extensive manufacturing activities of the Frankford Arsenal within its restricted area demands an increase in the size of the reservation to provide for its future growth and development. The arsenal is an important instrumentality for the defense of the nation and the growth of the nation will cause greater need for the articles manufactured thereat. The conditions demanding safety for the employees at the arsenal and for the people of the community are a greater reason for the enlargement of the arsenal so that the magazines, primer and detonator dry houses and artillery ammunition storehouses may be located at such a distance as will preclude all possibility of danger to the employees at the arsenal and to the people of the adjoining community.

Thirteenth. The purchase of the twenty-five acres of land adjoining the Frankford Arsenal and having a frontage on the Delaware River would provide the necessary area on which magazines, ammunition storehouses, etc., could be located with absolute safety to all concerned."

I would ask the members of the House if they are satisfied with the facts just stated, to vote for this resolution.

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in the resolution?

The resolution was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed the same withamendment in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

RESOLUTION REQUESTING INFORMATION FROM THE DEPARTMENT OF FISHERIES.

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following resolution. In perusing this resolution, I notice that the preamble is composed of twenty-two sections, whereas the resolution itself consists of but nine sections. I move that we dispense with the reading of the preamble as the resolution is fully self-explanatory.

The SPEAKER. The House cannot act on the motion in the absence of the knowledge of the contents of the preamble. The resolution must be read in full. There is no way of dispensing with the reading of part of the resolution. The reading of the resolution without the preamble cannot be done without departing from the regular course of procedure. The resolution will be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk then read the resolution as follows:

Whereas, In the general appropriation of the session of 1909 there was an appropriation of two thousand dollars ($2,000.00) to the Department of Fisheries for the payment of counsel fees; and, Whereas, In the general appropriation of the session of 1911 a similar amount was appropriated to the same department for the same purpose; and,

Be It Further Resolved, That the Commissioner of Fisheries inform the House, not later than Monday, the ninth day of June, 1913, as to the necessity of the increase in the item of appropriation for the payment of necessary and reasonable expenses of the Commissioner of Fisheries, etc., from three thousand dollars ($3,000.00) in 1911 to six thousand dollars ($6,000.00) as set forth in the present general appropriation bill; and,

Be it Further Resolved, That the Commissioner of Fisheries inform the House, not later than Monday, the 9th day of June, 1913, as to the necessity of the item of appropriation for the purchase of a boat for use at Torresdale Hatchery on the Delaware, of one thousand five hundred dollars ($1,500.00), as set forth in the present general appropriation bill.

The SPEAKER. The question is on the adoption of the resolution.

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker, I offered this resolution by request. I do not favor the adoption of this resolution. I presume by this time, gentlemen, you are conversant with the length of it. You are likely conversant with the scope of it, and very likely conversant with the amount of work that will be required of that Department to comply with it. The resolution requires that every dollar that has been expended in the last two years must be set forth in an itemized report and submitted to this House, and it must be done by next Monday. Every expenditure for the future must be itemized and set forth and an itemized account submitted to this House. Gentlemen, do we realize the tremendous expenditure of money that we are piling up and burdening the State with by this sort of procedure? Why, the per diem of employees alone is costing $1,000 a day. If this sort of thing goes on, we will sit here all summer. Of all the resolutions that have been introduced, I think that the length to which this one goes is about the most ridiculous. And the information requested by this resolution can be gotten very easily and readily by the members of this House, and I trust that the House will vote this resolution down.

Mr. J. R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I am usually suspicious of gift-bearing Greeks, and when the gentleman took this resolution to introduce I thought he took it with no strings tied to it, but in order to fully see whether we are conversant with the scope of it; I wonder, Mr. Speaker, whether he, himself, knows the scope of it; whether, for instance, he knows that during the last session and previous sessions in the Fishery Department there has been a great many thousand dollars increase in the appropriations. I wonder that he talks about the thousand dollars a day that we are expending here in the consideration of this bill, that he is complaining about it, that he is complaining about the foolishness. I wonder whether he knows that the bill we have under consideration involves the sum of forty millions of dollars. Now let us see what the foolish resolution does. His foolish resolution covers the Department of Fisheries. We have here for instance, after setting forth the salary for the commissioner and his clerks, we find a new item which is a new expense in this appropriation, which calls for the purpose of hatching and propagating and distributing food and game fish and stocking and supplying the waters, et ectera, which as I said had no existence previous to the 1909 session. We find that in the 1909 session it was $80,000. We find in this session it is $96,000. We find that the counsel fees of this department which not one of you men have heard of, this scope of the resolution which the gentleman from Lancaster is so familiar with, we find that in 1909 the counsel fees for this department were $2,000. In 1911 it is $2,000. In 1913, it is $10,000. And we find that the payment for the necessary and reasonable expenses for the traveling of the Commissioner of Fisheries was in 1909, $2,000; in 1911, $3,000; in 1913 it became $6,000. Then we find in 1909, for the erection of fish ways it was $4,000. Now they ask for $5,000. We find that for the payment of salaries and the reasonable expenses of the fish warden in 1909 was $25,000, and then the scope got in 1911 to $33,000, and now the scope has arrived at $85,000. We find that for the contingent expenses of 1909 it was $2,000, and then under the change of administration it became $3,000. And then the scope became so that the contingent fund is $4,000. And then we find for the field work and gathering of spawn in 1909, it was $5,000; in 1911 it became $8,000; and in 1913 it becomes $16,000. And then we find for the completion of hatcheries in 1909 it was $10,000; in 1911 it was $10,000; in 1913 it is $65,000. I wonder, Mr. Speaker, whether the information that the gentleman from Lancaster said we all have, the length of the resolution which he has so intelligently explained to this House, whether it is one of the scopes that he knows about, or scoops, from $10,000 to $65,000. I wonder, Mr. Speaker, whether for the building of the hatchery house, he knows $7,000 was expended last session, and this session we are asked for $15,000. For the dredging out of the channels and ponds on Presque Isle Peninsula, Erie County, last session it was $20,000, and they are starting to dredge it again and they want $20,000 more. We find that in order that there can be no question of one of the commissioners seeing the river where there is a hatchery right above Philadelphia called Torresdale—in order that the river can be properly covered and the hatchery properly watched we find that there has been purchased for the Delaware Hatchery at Torresdale a boat, for which an appropriation of $15,000 is asked. Now, these are simply some of the requests which this resolution calls for, but in other words, Mr. Speaker, every item outside of the salary of the Fish Commissioner is an increase, and we passed a bill this session increasing his salary, and when the bill comes from the committee for third reading, we will have every item in this Department raised. Is the scope of this resolution too great? Is that we are wasting the people's money, or are we here to protect something which has not been protected for a decade in this Commonwealth, the General Appropriation Bill? The gentleman then speaks about his information and the scope of the resolution. He complains about this procedure. He sat here in this House last session and he saw the most disgraceful exhibition there ever was in this Commonwealth, the passing of the general appropriation bill at midnight, and those of us who were looking after the organization matters did not even know that it was passed, and when the recess hour was taken at midnight and we were allowed to go and get our lunch, we came back and asked one of the clerks when we would put the general appropriation bill through. He said, "We put it through before you went to your lunch. Such nonsense for the gentleman from Delaware to attempt to use his ability —I get the two of them confused—the gentleman from Lancaster to accept the resolution and then to complain about the form of it. He says he does not support it. I did not expect him to support it. I was surprised when he took the resolution. The whole course in this session of himself and his friends is absolutely antagonistic to supporting this resolution, but in order, Mr. Speaker, that we will find those in the House who will support this resolution for the protection of the people's money in this Commonwealth, I call for the yeas and nays.

Mr. W. H. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I second the call.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I have no doubt that the House followed very closely the remarks of the gentleman from Philadelphia, and I don't see how the House could get any impression except that there was a general appropriation bill two years ago that amounted to about the most stupendous steal that has ever passed the Pennsylvania Legislature I wonder if the other members sitting in their places thought why it was that the gentleman from Philadelphia, having a full knowledge of this fact, has sat here in the House now for five months and has made no effort whatever to find out about that wasteful expenditure of the State's money. I wonder if he speaks to us sincerely on that. It does not strike me so. It strikes me that the gentleman from Philadelphia deserves a great deal of censure, not only by the members of the House, themselves, but by his own constituency, for he supported the measure in the House two years ago, introducing a general appropriation bill, an act which was a little short of theft, that he has allowed it to go unchallenged and unnoticed. And now he stands before the members of the House and criticises the appropriations of two years ago. He apparently acquiesed in them and simply objects to the proposition that is contained in the general appropriation bill. Now, we are not passing the general appropriation bill. The gentleman evidently does not know that we are not passing the general appropriation bill, and he evidently has not learned in his five years experience that almost all the appropriations which appear in the bills as presented to this House are reduced at least fifty per cent. Why, you members all know that we are not discussing the general appropriation bill. That is not the proposition we are considering. It is the proposion of wasting the State's time at the rate of $1,000 a day doing a useless thing. When the Appropriation Committee reports this bill to the House, and it will be reported as regards all these particular items in ample time for the House to deal with the proposition that the gentleman suggests, I do think that we are wasting the State's time by considering this resolution. The House all appreciates very well, at least the House thought and I thought that it had agreed to dispose of these individual resolutions when they accepted the resolution of the gentleman from Tioga. We all agreed, I think, that it covered the ground. My recollection is that it was amended so as to meet every provision contained in these different resolutions, and it seems to me that it is child's play to go on here consuming the State's time and pretending to the public that you are protecting the public. You are not protecting the public. Let us do away with such resolutions as this and spending the State's money uselessly in behaving more like a lot of schoolboys than we are legislators.

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker, in regard to my attitude during this and the past administration in respect to a measure of this kind, I want to call the attention of the House to the fact that when the general appropriation bill of 1909 passed it carried with it an appropriation of $996,950 to defray the expenses of the Judiciary Department of this State. When the general appropriation bill of 1911 passed, it carried with it an expenditure of $1,276,000 to defray the expenses of that department, an increase of almost thirty per cent., $270,000. If you will look up the record of last session, I will promise you that my vote will compare mighty favorably with the vote cast by the gentleman from Philadelphia, the author of the bill, in preserving the resources and moneys of this State. Every item that he has brought to your attention that an increase is asked for is to be expended on some piece of work that has been begun an administration ago or more and will continue through this administration and in all probability will continue during the next administration. This State is not going to dredge a lot of rivers at once. The Federal Government does not dredge all its rivers and ponds at once. The more money you give to this department to use for that purpose, the more work you will get done. The less money you give, the less you get done; that is all.

Practically every argument he has mentioned to you is for those continuous pieces of work that have been begun before and will be continued during this administration and that will be continued during the next.

Now the very idea for him to suggest that the general appropriation bill was passed two years ago at midnight in a most disgraceful manner. He would have the members of this House believe that no one knew anything about the general appropriation bill until some quiet midnight hour when you were all asleep possibly or nearly every one was tired out or overworked, it sprang upon the House from ambush and in some violent manner was forced through and over to the Governor's office. Those gentlemen who have been laboring conscientiously on this general appropriation bill just know how true that is and those gentlemen who labored two years ago down in the caucus room know that we took up item after item and some of those items were contended for and against for months and it was only after the bill was agreed to, the revenues of the State divided up and they apportioned so much to this department and so much for that that could be used for the respective departments and almost every Department got below the point that many members would like to have seen given to them for the reason that we did not have the amount of revenues to give more, and then the final passage occurred at midnight. I would not be surprised that when this session adjourns there might be some bills passed that have been violently contended for and against for months and months and final passage may have occurred at mignight. I do not doubt it. Gentlemen I think we ought to vote this resolution down.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, in reply to the sponsor of this resolution, who asks that it be voted down, who speaks about not bridging a river in one year,—that is quite true and I might call his attention that it has not been the custom in past years to drain the treasury all in one year. They usually take session after session in the draining of it. Now as a part of the system of drainage we are offering these resolutions to plug up a few of the holes. Now, for instance, for the two years following 1909, we find it cost for the running of the government under the general appropriation bill and the Department bills, $16,805,767.79. Then the drainage became a little larger in volume and we find that instead of $16,000,000.00 that the first two years,—I believe those first two years were the two years that followed the general appropriation bill that my friend from Lancaster now defends—we find that it cost for the running of the government of this State $21,063,889.23 and in order to help along the drainage this appropriation bill we have now before us with its little fisheries is simply asking instead of $21,000,000.00 just the double of it, $42,000,000.00. Of course we are wasting time and of course all this is clap trap and of course there is no sincerity in any of us that could be a complaint. I find that getting so tiresome, so troublesome. I have seen it worked so effectively before. I remember when the gentleman from Germantown came here, my friend, Mr. Samuel B. Scott, how some of us complained so much about him because he took up our time and because he excited us, because he frightened us. He was digging, and I suppose the very same consuming of the time is annoying some of my past friends. My friend from Lancaster and my friend from Delaware did not complain last session about my wasting so much time when I was advocating the various measures in which they were interested. I never found that either of those gentlemen last session stood up in the House and stated that I was wasting thousands of dollars when I was helping to put through the various bills, including the general appropriation bill, in which they were interested.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. No, Mr. Speaker, I would rather relieve the gentleman from Delaware; he has been so busy.

Mr. SPEAKER, the Fisheries Committee that has increased every item, that has given a great deal of information, has used just six pages on this report to give us the information that they think is all we need.—Now, Mr. Speaker, I think that all of us in the House are entitled to know what is to become of this $42,000,000.00 of money that is to be spent and belongs to the taxpayers and I do not join with the sponsor of this resolution from Lancaster when he asks you men to vote it down. I ask that the House will vote for this resolution and let us find out whether or not the Fisheries Commission is a Fishery Commission or whether it is simply a hooking commission.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia if he has any objections to answering an inquiry at the present time?

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Well, Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman will state that it is only a question, I may answer.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I would just like to know who he meant when he said "we", if he meant the gentleman from Delaware in connection with the actions of last session.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I might say in reply to that, that the gentleman from Delaware last session was such an uncertain quantity as he sometimes is here, that sometimes we meant him and sometimes we didn't include him.

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. Speaker, I will say to the House that I expected a lawyer's answer and it was for the purpose of bringing out a lawyer's answer that I asked the question. But I want to state to the House that when he speaks about this wasteful use of money for salaries, that the gentleman from Delaware was about as vigorous as he could be in speaking against it, and I never knew of an appropriation where the rural members had the wool pulled over their eyes more than when the city lawyers were holding the whip of leadership over the House and directing its conduct, like they were last session. I am not going to take up the action of last session, but I think that the pronoun "we" might more truthfully be changed to the pronoun "I", which the gentleman from Philadelphia uses and the pronoun "we" should not be used without specific instance in the future. I know that the members who serve last session with the gentleman from Delaware and the gentleman from Lancaster will all vouch for what I say, that we most strenously opposed that sort of legislation and worked to oppose it and will oppose it now.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman wants a plea, I plead guilty.

Mr. RONEY. It seems to me, Mr. Speaker, that the discussion has taken a very unseemly place, because the gentleman from Philadelphia in discussing the delinquency the House of Representatives last session, convicts himself in that which he applies to the entire membership of the House, and I think, as I stated last night, that we are at cross purposes in discussing this resolution. I think this resolution should pass for the simple reason that the information asked for is but reasonable information and I do not think it pertinent but I think it is a sheer waste of time to talk about what the Legislature of 1909 did when we consider particularly that one of the strongest men in that session was the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. John R. K. Scott, the man who upon all occasions resumed the responsibility as leader for the action of the House in passing a number of appropriation bills and the general appropriation bill.

Now if there was any contest on this resolution I would not consider two weeks discussion of it a waste of time, but I think, Mr. Speaker, that the great majority of the members of this House feel that this resolution should pass and I therefore ask the gentleman from Philadelphia to withdraw his request for the yeas and nays, because I think the majority of the members are in favor of this resolution, and the past history of the session of 1909, for which my friend must answer, more than anybody else has nothing to do with the merits of this resolution.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I withdraw my request for the yeas and nays.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO FINAL ADJOURNMENT.

Mr. McDERMOTT. Mr. Speaker, I offer the following resolution.

The SPEAKER. The resolution will be read.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

Resolved, if the Senate concur, that this House do adjourn sine die not later than June 19th, 1913, at 12:00 o'clock P. M.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, the very thing which this resolution seeks to reach cannot be embodied in a resolution of this kind, that is, fixing a day of adjournment. When this House passes a resolution for adjournment, in which the Senate must concur, the date must be specific. It would be only an advisory matter. It would not be binding upon either the Senate or the House. If this resolution were adopted unanimously at this time by the Senate and the House, the Senate and teh House need not adjourn on the day suggested, because of teh fact that no specific time would have been fixed by the House and the Senate at which to adjourn and I so enter my objection.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is well taken. The Chair sustains the point of order and the resolution is not in order.

RECESS.

The hour of one o'clock having arrived, the House will now take a recess until 3:30 o'clock P. M.

AFTER RECESS.

The House reconvened at 3:30 o'clock P. M.
The SPEAKER (George E. Alter) in the Chair.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Private Secretary of the Governor being introduced, presented the following communication from His Excellency, the Governor, which was read as follows:

APPROVAL OF CONCURRENT RESOLUTION.

Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, May 29, 1913.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

An Act making an appropriation to the trustees of the University of Pittsburgh for the general maintenance of the University the purchase of equipment and the construction of buildings

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the sum of seven hundred thousand dollars ($700,000.00) or so much thereof as may be necessary be and the same is hereby specifically appropriated to the trustees of the University of Pittsburgh for the two fiscal years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred and thirteen for the general maintenance of the University and the purchase of equipment as the trustees may deem best for the interests of the University

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. S. B. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendment:

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend Section 1, line 13, by striking out the words "Seven Hundred Thousand" and inserting instead the words "Five Hundred Thousand."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. S. B. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, this amendment is the beginning of a series of amendments which it is my purpose to offer to all the bills which provide appropriations for institutions of higher learning. In making this amendment I want it thoroughly understood and I hope the House will clearly understand it that the position I take is one of broad and general policy of State procedure and has no particular reference to the University of Pittsburgh. It is simply a matter of chance that the appropriation of the University of Pittsburgh should have been the first one on the calendar to which I feel it necessary to offer an amendment. Therefore I hope the House will not feel that I am making any attack at all upon the usefulness of that institution or upon the proper use which it may make of the appropriation when it gets it. What I intend to do will affect all the institutions of higher learning which are asking for either an increase or any increase over their appropriation of last year; all institutions which for the first time come to this State for an appropriation. Mr. Speaker, I am taking this ground because I believe that the State is moving on these appropriations absolutely without any policy and that there has grown up a general feeling that because any higher institution of learning, college or university needs the money, that that is an adequate reason why it should have a State appropriation. Now, I, myself, am a graduate of a university and am a thorough believer in the highest and best education that can be gotten, and for that very reason, paradoxical as it may appear, I am urging that no new appropriation be made until the State has gotten some definite policy so that the highest and the best use which it can afford for that purpose may be obtained. Now, if we go on indiscriminately appropriating money to each institution, every other one of the same nature will feel that it has an equal right to be appropriated to. And so, gradually, institution after institution will come to us until our money is spread clean over the whole State and we have developed no policy at all. Now, there is nothing fanciful about this. At the last session of the Legislature for the first time we made a large appropriation to the Temple University. I have no objection to Temple University as an institution. It is a worthy one, which makes good use of the money and educates a class of students who probably could not be educated in any other way. What we predicted at that time has actually come to pass—namely—

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. WILTBANK. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point.

Mr. WILTBANK. Mr. Speaker, Temple University is not before the House. Let him confine himself to the bill that is before the House.

The SPEAKER. The Chair understands the gentleman to be referring to other institutions by way of explanation of the general principles he is advocating: therefore, the Chair thinks the point of order is not well taken.

Mr. S. B. SCOTT. Namely, that encouraged by that appropriation other institutions have come and are urging their right to an appropriation upon the grounds that they have a use for the money. Now, we can well admit that they do need the money and that they can put it to a good and a high use. It seems obvious that the State cannot continue that kind of policy. It cannot appropriate large sums to every institution which has need of it. It is absolutely necessary that we should develop a sane line of policy and then to push that on so that we may have higher education in the State in the way that will redound credit to the State. If I have any understanding at all of this thing which we are now studying, called the Wisconsin idea, it is this: That it has at last been realized by a great State that brains can be put to the use of the body politic and that professors can withdraw themselves from the actual toils of life and devote their whole time to the study of complex subjects. And the great advance which Wisconsin has made is to realize that the skill and the thought which are developed in universities can be put to the service of the State. That does not mean that the State is to be run by theoretical people, or that the commonplace mind and common-sense man is not to have his way. It does not mean that at all, but it does mean that when the Legislature has been gathered together so as to represent the State in every corner, that they will abdicate their functions and turn them over to a group of professors, and that they are willing to accept the wisdom which has been gained in the silent study of the laboratorry and in the library, and through the channel of their common-sense and their own representative capacity they are willing to put that wisdom to the use of the State. Now, I think that the State of Pennsylvania sought to be able to get a great deal more of that kind of service out of these universities to which it is appropriating than it has. Now, Mr. Speaker, I feel that the State has been to a great extent prodigal. I think it has been so rich that it has handed out hundreds of thousands of dollars to these various institutions simply on the plea that they are in dire need of the money, and without any adequate conception of what the State's general policy should be. But, like the Prodigal Son, I think there comes a time when we ought to come to ourselves, when we ought to cry "halt." Let us think where we are and where we are going to. I think the time has now come for that to be done and that the State should take a firm stand, and that we will not appropriate an additional new cent of money either to a new institution or enlarging the appropriation of an old institution until the responsible educators of the State have gotten together with the party leaders of the State and they have come together and made up their minds and presented to the public an adequate, rational and complete policy of the expenditure of the State's money for higher education. In closing, Mr. Speaker, let me emphasize what I said. It is that this is not a specific attack upon the University of Pittsburgh, but is indicative of the general policy to be followed by other amendments, and I hope that the House will treat it in that light.

Mr. NEELY. Mr. Speaker, the University of Pittsburgh was chartered in accordance with the provisions of the Constiution of 1790. It was chartered in the year 1819. Since that time and down to date the appropriations with the exception of the last few sessions of the Legislature have been very small and it is only about six years ago that the appropriations ran up to $200,000.00. Last session the appropriation was about $500,000.00, if I remember correctly, but in the years 1909 and 1910, the enrollment of the University was only 1,261 students. Since that time the enrollment has doubled until it is 2,489. The appropriation made at the session of 1911 was only about one-half of what was asked and about one-half of what was needed and during the last two years the University has been seriously handicapped in their administration. Many new buildings are needed. The buildings that they now have are crowded. Some old dwellings are being used and even the porches and corridors of the buildings are now being put to use in instructing the students in the college.

I might go into a lot of detail about this matter but I think that at this time the only thing that I should call the attention of the House to is the fact that during the last two years the enrollment has practically doubled and then that the appropriation this session is only $350,000.00 per year, which is an increase of $177,500.00 over last session and I think that the increase is very reasonable. Therefor I would ask the members of the House to support the bill as it now stands and defeat this amendment.

Mr. S. B. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, the remarks of the gentleman from Allegheny are exactly illustrative of what I have said. It is true that the University of Pittsburgh has not been getting larger appropriations except recently. That same thing is true of the University of Pennsylvania and it is true of other institutions, so that this undefined policy of larger appropriations is a new thing and it will reach out and grow and if it keeps on in this indiscriminate manner in the next five or ten years the State will have appropriated almost as much money as it has. Now the gentleman simply makes the plea that the institution needs the money and they all need the money and if we would appropriate to every college the money that they needed we would not have anything left and I think that this policy that we had laid down ought to be enforced and vigorously enforce.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, inasmuch as the gentleman from Philadelphia has indicated that he proposes to attack on the same line all of the educational institutions, that is, the advanced educational institutions which the State by appropriation bills seeks to consider, I take it that a few general remarks along the line of educational work might be in point not so much as connected with this institution individually but on the work which is being carried out by these higher educational instutions everywhere throughout the State and which will under the provisions of these bills become beneficiaries of the State.

I suppose, Mr. Speaker, that no man in this House desires that Pennsylvania shall take a back place in higher education work, shall step behind any other State of these United States. If there is one monument that the State should seek to build it is a monument to the educational advance of the people of this great State. Pennsylvania may lead in manufactures; it may lead in its mines; it may lead in a thousand and one other things, Mr. Speaker, but the great thing and the one great thing that appeals to the enlightened world is its standing and the standing of its people in an educational line. It seems to me, Mr. Speaker, that the State which fixes its mark highest for the young men and the young women, those generations which are coming on and which in turn will be the parents, the grand parents and the great grand parents of those that are to come, to properly equip those of today who in their turn will grow and through the seed which is sown in their mental conservatory be handed down if you please, to the coming generations, will do a great deal more good than some of the methods in which the finances of this great State are scattered and for other purposes, I take it, Mr. Speaker, that every one who is interested in the University in the Eastern end of the State is just as much interested in the provisions which are now being attacked of this institution in the Western end of the State, and for that reason I only make the remarks in a general way because of the fact that the same condition has been stated by the gentleman who makes the proposition for the amendment of this particular bill, the same conditions face the institutions of the Eastern end of the State as they face this particular institution in the Western end—the need of greater funds. For why? Because of the fact that the people of this Commonwealth have awakened up and do now today realize more than they have ever realized before the need of the higher education for the young men and the young women of this great State. The realization of the necessity has brought about a clamoring for that higher education. It is not right, Mr. Speaker, that only a favored few should be admitted to the doors of the great institutions which give this higher education. If you make those institutions absolutely self-sustaining you must then come down to this fine point,—because there is no other answer—if you make those institutions absolutely self-sustaining, you have to raise your fees for admission to those institutions and for the benefit of the drilling and the training and the schooling that you get there you have to raise the fees to be paid by the students so that they are beyond the reach of the common run of boyhood and girlhood. Now who today needs education in these lines? The rich? My answer is, no. Why it makes no difference whether the boy or the girl who has resources illimitable at his command or her command, whether they have the benefit of the higher education or not. They will survive the storm. They will survive the battle of life and they will go through and down to old age respected in the community in which they live and having enjoyed all the benefits of life. But you take the young men in the middle walk of life and the young men and the young women in the lower walks of life whose means are more limited and who in order to battle with life's battle have to equip themselves with the very best that this country can produce, what do you have to do in his or her case? In his or her case the people, the State, the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, comes to the aid of those young men and young women, through your appropriations, if you please and graciously hands out to those institutions a sufficient sum to offset that medium between what the institution actually takes in and what is absolutely necessary for it to have in order to continue. That donation is for the purpose of continuing those institutions so that your education may be a gracious offering to those who seek that education.

Now, Mr. Speaker, it seems to me that this question, viewed from a general standpoint, that this question met as it must be in this particular bill, from a general standpoint and in every other particular institution, must appeal to every thinking mind something along these same lines. It may be that in some particular institution the appropriation committee has overestimated—I doubt that —more likely underestimated the needs. But they have fixed amounts here, comparative amounts, have fixed these amounts after studying and having had referred to them the conditions of these institutions, have fixed these amounts so that these amounts are the relative amounts which the committee think ought to be appropriated to the various institutions. Doubtless some member on the floor of this House may think that some particular institution has a hundred thousand dollars or a half a million dollars too much or too little provided for its maintenance and support and its benefit. He may be right and he among the 206 minds on the floor of this House may be better informed than the other 205 members, but on this particular branch of the work of this appropriation committee you must take into consideration the fact that these matters have been thoroughly presented to the Committee, have been gone into perhaps untiringly and a basis upon which each institution shall stand has been brought out in the form of a special bill. This bill, Mr. Speaker, ought to stand just as it is and so ought the other educational bills in which the institutions are of like character.

Mr. JOHN R. K. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I agree with the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. S. B. Scott, in the spirit of his statement but I cannot agree with him upon the using of an attack upon this university or a like university as a vehicle for expressing his views upon appropriations. There is no question but what one of the very great evils of our legislature is the way we distribute the great millions of dollars that are distributed to the various charities and institutions of learning in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. But as I remarked a few days ago in having placed upon the calendar the bill for the establishment of a commission which would have charge of the distribution of the moneys of this Commonwealth so far as charities and places of learning are concerned, that that evil would be remedied by future legislation. Thus to use this bill, though it would be most effective as a means of impressing the people with the absolute looseness of finance handling in this legislature, would be a very great hardship to institutions of learning. Now the Constitution of Pennsylvania provides that we as a Commonwealth must aid our institutions of learning. There has been in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania four great institutions that have been supported in the main by the moneys of the Commonwealth, the great Western University, the great University of Pennsylvania, the State College and recently the Temple College. Those colleges meet various avenues. The State College has been established for the purpose of educating the farmer and making the soldier. That is the fundamental principle of that institution. The Temple University has been established to educate the working class, and the great Western University and the great University of Pennsylvania have been established to supply our professions with the men who have followed that out. The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has selected these four institutions. Now for the gentleman from Philadelphia to attack those great institutions in carrying out his excellent line of campaign would be a very great mistake. I hope that he will return back here to this House next session and I hope that the expression that he has made here will materialize into law and that we will escape the great power of the Executive over the legislature by means of the appropriations, and that this legislature will escape the great ties that hold it down, that prevent freedom of expression, the great burden that this Legislature for years has carried and allow this Legislature to vote its millions to the Commission and place on the Commission the great responsibility of properly distributing that money.

Now then we have done that, if he aids in that, as I said a few days ago, he will place himself and his name in this community in a position of high honor, but now Mr. Speaker, for him to attack this University, or the University of Pennsylvania, or the other two Universities, in my mind, in carrying out a good cause would be a most cruel means of advancing it. So, therefore, while I agree with him in his campaign and have worked with him in this session along the lines in which he in many cases has laid down, I cannot at this time give him my assistance in voting for his amendment.

Mr. S. B. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I presume the House understands that the task which I have assumed is one which gives me no pleasure except as I see in it no attack on the higher education as the gentleman from Allegheny seemed to assume in his remarks, but the only way in which the higher education under State auspices can really be put upon a firm foundation and made permanently productive. This is, I appreciate, a sharp dose of medicine, but I feel it will be as effective in curing the great diseases as some of those unpleasant medicines of childhood which we were compelled to take and for which we blessed our mothers afterwards. The same arguments that are made now on the present form of this bill will also again be made in the next session, and for session after session until the State cries "halt" and determine in which way it is going to proceed. The trouble is that now the legislature is divided up into a number of sections which are pervaded with the idea of the necessity for the institutions of its own locality and of getting all that can get and not one of them knowing the State's policy and knowing what it has a right to expect. If the State takes this policy, if it would adopt the four institutions named as its own children, and appropriate a definite sum of money, say five or six millions of dollars, and divide that equally among the institutions according to the collegiate population, what would happen? In that case this Legislature would be relieved of all the pulling and hauling and seeking and questioning and asking, and with no trouble at all the thing would be done. Suppose the State said, we will not encourage any of them but we will erect one university after the order of the western states which I do not think would be a good idea, but if that were done we could pour our millions into that institution and make it the best equipped institution of the face of the earth. That is a thoroughly logical policy and would result in a great institution. Then we might say that we would take the four institutions and then find out where they overlapped or duplicated and where there is an unnecessary expenditure for doing the same thing twice, and by creating a Board of Regents, somewhat similar to that of New York State, the scheme of higher education would be so co-ordinated that there would be no duplication or loss and that would be a thoroughly intelligent and right policy for the State to adopt, and if we could do that hundred and thousands of dollars would be saved to the State in the administration of higher learning. If that could be done the Legislature would be relieved of the necessity of taking in each new institution that is crowding its nose up to the public fodder. When a new institution comes for money, what do we do? We either have to let it in, and divide up the State money that is appropriated for higher education to these institutions or else institute an attack upon that particular institution and say "No, you are not as good as the other institution.'' Now that is a most ungrateful and difficult task and yet it is a task now confronting us because two or three totally new institutions, colleges that never before were given a state appropriation are coming to us and we are facing the dilemma of either saying we will make the appropriation and thereby making a promise to make an appropriation to every other kind of an institution that may come to us later, or we will have to distinguish between them and say that the institution is not fitted to have the appropriation, when we know that it may be fitted, and therefore placing us in a particularly untenable position. What I ask for is the advancement of higher education under State auspices and that advancement will never come until the House takes a firm stand and says "we will make no new appropriations until we have developed a logical policy," and therefore I hope the argument will not be made again on the lines that this amendment was aimed at higher education. On this question, Mr. Speaker, I call for the yeas and nays.

Mr. NEELY. Mr. Speaker, I have a few other points that came to my mind while the gentleman was speaking that I thought might interest the House in connection with this appropriation. As I have stated the attendance and enrollment is now practically doubled what it was two years ago, and the appropriation in 1911 was far from being sufficient to cover the necessities of the institution. I wish to call the attention of the members of the House to the fact that in the University of Pittsburgh that for every thirty dollars that a student pays into the institution it costs about one hundred dollars for the instruction that is given him. The ideal situation which the gentleman from Philadelphia has described to the House we do not have at present, and we have to consider this bill in the light of the situation which we now have. We have these three big institutions in the State, Pennsylvania, State and Pittsburgh. I wish to call the attention of the House to some figures of the appropriations of other states. In the West apparently the Legislatures of some of the Western States believe that education is a pretty good thing. In Minnesota the per capita appropriation of student enrollment is 87.5 cents; in Wisconsin it is 62.5 cents, in Michigan it is 67 cents; in California it is 50 cents. These figures are for the last appropriations made. Now gentlemen taking the appropriation bills which have been reported to this House for the University of Pennsylvania, State College and the University of Pittsburgh at this session, the appropriation of the State of Pennsylvania will be only twenty-seven cents per capita for student enrollment. Therefore, I think it is only just to the poor students of this State that the University should be given sufficient appropriation to carry on the work which should be done, and I know that the amount of work to be done is far in excess of that which the Universities are now capable of handling.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. S. B. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I call for the yeas and nays.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, it seems to me that the gentleman from Philadelphia, being an old member of this House, certainly must know that a yea and nay vote in this matter at this time would be very dangerous and that a division of the House will bring equally the same result. I would suggest to the gentleman that he withdraw his request for a roll call and ask for a division. He must also be convinced, Mr. Speaker, that the "no" vote was so overwhelming in the viva voce vote that a roll call would also show that the members of this House are not in favor of the amendment.

Mr. S. B. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I have a very well considered reason for calling for the yeas and nays. Now, in the first place, I am starting what I believe to be an extremely important question for the State at large to decide, and therefore, I think it is absolutely necessary that the record of each member upon that question should go upon the Journal.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. S. B. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. ALLEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman if it is simply for the purpose of making a record on this bill that the roll call is demanded?

Mr. S. B. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, it is.

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. ALLEN. Then, Mr. Speaker, I move that the further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. WILTBANK. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. A. C. James, offered the following prayer:

"Oh that men would praise the Lord for His Goodness and for His wonderful works to the children of men." Thou art the Good Shepherd. We are Thy children and the sheep of Thy fold. In Thy word we read: "Ask and ye shall receive; seek and ye shall find; knock and it shall be opened unto you." We come together this evening offering unto Thee our prayer, asking strength to do the work which our hands shall find to do; seeking that peace which passeth all understanding; knocking upon the door of opportunity and praying that Thou wilt open unto us. May Thy kindly providence guide us throughout the service of another week. Lead us only where we should go. We ask it in our Redeemer's name. Amen.

The PRESIDENT—A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

COMMUNICATION FROM PHILADELPHIA CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION FAVORING IMMEDIATE INVESTIGATION OF CIVIL SERVICE CONDITIONS AND REPORT AT THE PRESENT SESSION OF THE LEGISLATURE.

He also laid before the Senate communication which was read as follows and referred to the Committee on Municipal Affairs:

Philadelphia, Pa., June 5th, 1913.

Hon. John M. Reynolds, President and Hon. Daniel P. Gerberich, President Pro Tempore Senate.

The Civil Service Commission will welcome any investigation that the Legislature authorizes but the Commission urges that an investigation, to be of real service, should be conducted at once and a report made to the present Legislature, otherwise the result of the investigation will be of no practical value for the next two years. An immediate investigation is altogether feasible inasmuch as the commissioners themselves, and their entire force are at the disposal of the Legislature we may state that at a meeting of the Committee on Municipal Corporations as well as at a meeting of the Committee on Judiciary General of the House of Representatives the Commission brought copies of every examination question, that had been asked during the year 1912, for the purpose of exhibiting them to the members of the Committees and that many of the examination questions were actually inspected by the Committees. We will willingly journey to Harrisburg again and submit all questions to the members of the House and the Senate. Owing to the lateness of the session we suggest that a joint meeting of the House and Senate be held, the Commission with its examiners to appear before such meeting and undergo examination, exhibit all its questions and explain its methods. This would give to every member of the Legislature what would, by another plan be acquired only by a few. The question of civil service is a big and important one. The employees of the Commission have made civil service in Philadelphia vibrate with intellligence and impartially and the Commission will be only to glad to exhibit all the processes of its labor.

FRANK M. RITER,
President.
LEWIS H. VANDUSEN,
PETER BOLGER,
Secretary.

APPROVAL OF SENATE BILL NO. 297.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, June 5, 1913.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:—I have the honor to advise you that I have this day approved and signed Senate Bill No. 297 entitled "An Act authorizing any city that has been or shall be granted the consent of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to construct and maintain a dam in any navigable river or stream to purchase acquire enter upon take use and appropriate private property within or without its territorial limits for that purpose and providing the manner in which damages sustained shall be determined and collected"

JOHN K. TENER.

VETO OF SENATE BILL NO. 826.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, June 7, 1913.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:—I return herewith without my approval Senate Bill No. 826 entitled "An Act to amend section twelve of an act entitled 'An Act relating to roads providing for the election and appointment of township supervisors in second class townships defining their powers duties and limitations relating to road tax and the expenditures thereof abolishing the work tax defining certain duties of the clerk of court fixing penalties for violation of this act and making an appropriation to carry out its provisions' approved the fourteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred and eleven"

By this bill it is proposed to make it lawful for township supervisors in townships of the second class to furnish stone, gravel and earth for use on the public roads at prices to be fixed by the township auditors

To approve this bill would be establishing a bad precedent for the reason that the policy of the law is to prohibit any official of any county municipality or township from being interested directly or indirectly in any contract entered into by the county municipality or township of which he is an officer and I see no reason for making an exception as to contracts entered into by townships

For this reason the bill is not approved

JOHN K. TENER.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass, the objections of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I move that the question, together with the further consideration of this bill, be postponed for the present.

Mr. WASBERS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

VETO OF SENATE BILL NO. 773.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, June 6, 1913.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen:—I return herewith without my approval Senate Bill No. 773 entitled "A supplement to an act entitled 'An Act for the government of cities of the second class' approved the seventh day of March Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and one authorizing cities of the second class for the purpose of preventing fires the spread of fire fire waste and loss of life from fire or a loss of life or damage to property from unsafe or improper construction or design of buildings to enact ordinances to provide for and regulate the construction equipment arrangements maintenance inspection alteration repair and removal of buildings and premises and appliances apparatus and conditions in and about them to provide for the regulation of the manufacture transportation storage sale and use of explosives gases inflamables and dangerous chemicals and substances to prohibit the manufacture of explosives and fireworks and the transportation storage sale and use of nitro-glycerine imposing on the Department of Public Safety the enforcement of ordinances relating thereto and authorizing such department to investigate fires providing for the service or orders made by the said department and for the appeals from and reviews of certain of its orders for the method of recovering money expended by the cities in remedying conditions and the method of obtaining a lien therefor and providing that the courts of common pleas shall have jurisdiction to punish witnesses for disobedience of orders of the Director of said Department when holding investigations"

Many of the objects sought to be attained by this bill are identical with the purposes of the amendments to the general State Fire Marshal act now pending in the Senate If both bills should become laws there would be an unnecessary duplication of work and conflicts with reference to the authority and jurisdiction of the officers charged with the enforcement of the respective laws would arise

JOHN K. TENER.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass, the objection of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

Mr. KLINE. Mr. President, I move that the question, together with the further consideration of this bill, be postponed for the present.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The general management and care of armories is entrusted to the Armory Board of Pennsylvania To require the Armory Board to permit the use of armories for horticultural and poultry exhibits without charging rent therefor as provided by this bill would be interfering in an improper manner with the discretion and control now vested in the Armory Board and which is necessary to promote the efficiency of the National Guard

JOHN K. TENER.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass, the objection of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I move that the question, together with the further consideration of the bill, be postponed for the present.

Mr. WASBERS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

For this reason the bill is not approved

JOHN K. TENER.

On the question,

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I move that the question, together with the further consideration of the bill, be postponed for the present.
